HOLDUP FRUSTRATED BY LAD

Highwayman Enters Pawnshop and Covers Proprietor with Gun.

ATTEMPT IS UNSUCCESSFUL

With Assistance of Others Robber is Overpowered and Held in the Shop Until the Arrival of the Police.

Thrusting a loaded revolver into Sam White's face in his pawnshop at 1209 Douglas street and demanding him to "keep still," a lone highwayman was frustrated in a bold daylight robbery by White's 19-year-old son Fred, who knocked the gun from his hand, at 11 o'clock yesterday morning.

The young lad struck the highwayman a glancing blow on the wrist when he covered his father with the gun and knocked the firearm from the man's hand. Max Kurtzman, White's brother-in-law, and the boy were the only occupants of the store besides White. Kurtzman grappled with the robber after the gun was knocked from his hand by young White, while White telephoned for the police.

Highway Overpowered. A squad of police officers under the leadership of Assistant Captain of Detectives Devereux hurried to the pawnshop in the emergency automobile. When they entered the shop Kurtzman and White held the bold highwayman overpowered.

At the police station the robber gave the name of John Smith and later changed it to Frank. When asked where he lived he said he did not have any home.

Smith walked into the pawnshop about 11:45 o'clock and asked to see a gun. White showed him the firearm and a holster. Smith then wanted to load the gun, but White objected. However, he consented to load the gun himself. After removing the cartridges White handed the gun to Smith. Smith grabbed a cartridge from the box, put it in the gun and covered White.

Valuables Are Saved. The door of the safe, which was standing but a few feet from Smith, containing $400 in cash and several thousand dollars' worth of diamonds, was open. Near Smith was a showcase containing hundreds of dollars' worth of valuable diamonds. The bravery of young White was all that saved his father the loss of the precious stones and other valuable jewelry.

At the police station Smith said he has worked recently in Missouri Valley and had been in the city but a few days. He was under the influence of liquor.

Renewed Activity in Western Coal Mines

There is renewed activity at the coal mines at Sheridan and Hudson, Wyo., on the Hdrington and Northwestern, and cars are being sent to the mines in great numbers.

Sheridan is reported to be mining and shipping from fifty to seventy-five cars daily, while the mines at Hudson, which have never done very much until this fall, are turning out thirty and forty cars daily per day. A good deal of the coal is coming as far east as Omaha, but the major portion of it is going into South Dakota, or being dropped off at points in the western part of Nebraska.

Railroad officials say that with the good weather that has prevailed during the last month and that with the large stocks of coal that have gone into storage in Nebraska there is no longer any possibility of a soft coal famine in Nebraska this winter.

Quits Army Service to Enter Business

Because he did not want to be made a sweep the floor and do odd jobs round the department store of his father, J. K. Wollman of Freeman, R. I., left his army a year ago and enlisted in the home. He has been a member of the band in the signal corps at Fort Omaha since that time. Yesterday he became a partner in one of the largest individual concerns in South Dakota.

It looks good to him and he expects to take it. Army life does not look as good now as it did on the morning he thought the sweeping of the store was exceptionally heavy.

He was playing checkers in a room in the barracks at Fort Omaha yesterday when an aged man with a gray beard stepped in and asked: "Where is J. K. Wollman?" Wollman was brought out.

"Father," he exclaimed as he looked into the beaming blue eyes of his parent for the first time since he had bailed on sweeping the store.

"Yes, it's me," replied Mr. Wollman. "I have been looking into the matter of buying you out of the army, and I want to give you a partnership in the business."

CONTRACTORS GET WARRANT

After Long Struggle Caldwell & Drake Are Paid $50,000.

MONEY GOES TO CREDITORS

It is Not Known Whether Any Money is Paid to the Omaha Subcontractors Who Performed Work on Court House.

After a day's struggle, creditors of Caldwell & Drake, county building general contractors, yesterday procured from the county $50,000 of the $123,000 still due the contractors. The money was apportioned among several creditors of Caldwell & Drake. W. R. Frazier, representative of the Colorado-Yule Marble company, was paid $25,000, leaving $25,000 still due his company from the contractors.

H. W. Morrow of the Fidelity & Deposit company of Maryland collected the $25,000 warrant. He said it would be used in payment of the contractors' creditors. It could not be learned this afternoon how much was paid on the $7,000 or $8,000 the contractors owed local concerns.

Before delivering the warrant to Morrow, County Clerk Dewey required the surety company representative to sign an extension of assignments of $40,000, which he holds against the contractors. Morrow's assignments have been on file for nearly two years.

From the office of Stout & Rose came approval of the waiver and Miss Sinclair signed it. County Clerk Dewey prepared the warrant. Frank C. Best, chairman pro tem of the county board, Chairman Lynch being out of the city, signed it. Dewey then called upon Deputy County Attorney George A. Magney for an opinion as to whether or not the Towle protest should be recognized.

Mr. Magney advised that when the same question was before Judge A. C. Troup two years ago in the case of Solomon, then county controller, against the county commissioners, it was held that the ten-day protest statute does not apply in the case of a contract such as the county building contract.

Dewey then delivered the warrant to Morrow.

Lincoln Solicits Entertainment Fund

Omaha business men are being solicited by the Commercial club of Lincoln for funds to entertain a state convention in the capital city December 10 to 12.

Several Omaha printing companies have received letters from W. S. Whitten, secretary of the Lincoln Commercial club, asking donations to be used in taking delegates to the annual convention of the Nebraska State Association of County Commissioners, Supervisors and Clerks to the Lincoln theater the evening of December 10.

Another entertainment feature for the convention will be a banquet, and the Lincoln Commercial club wants some money for that. There will be about 30 delegates to the convention the letters to the Omaha business men declare.

As the publicity bureau of the Omaha Commercial club, maintained by subscriptions from Omaha business men, was established for the purpose of saving Omaha concerns from being solicited for various conventions here, and now all conventions are paid for by the bureau, some of the letters from Lincoln have been referred to Manager Parish.

Whether or not the Omaha men will subscribe for entertaining a convention in Lincoln is a matter they will settle individually.

Chauffeur Runs Down Man and Then Speeds On

Joe Plaski of Syracuse, N. Y., was run over and seriously injured by an automobile at Fourteenth and Douglas streets at 11 o'clock yesterday morning.

He was taken to the St. Joseph hospital, suffering from two broken ribs, a badly injured shoulder and possible internal injuries.

The machine, No. 2215, Iowa, did not stop after running over Plaski. Plaski was crossing the corner when the machine struck him. The front wheels passed over his right shoulder and dragged him a distance of ten feet. The driver reversed the car and backed off the prostrate man. Without stopping to see if Plaski was seriously injured he turned south at a fast rate of speed. The automobile was going very fast when it struck Plaski.

Stallings in Demand. George Stallings, according to a friend, had offers from three other major league clubs besides that to manage Boston, but the bid from President Gaffney was the best one and he took it, and it is further stated by Stallings' friend that one of these bids came from Brooklyn, in spite of all the talk that Ebbers is satisfied with Dahlen.

Laborer's Skull is Fractured in Fight

George Lalich, a smelter laborer, is in the St. Joseph hospital at the point of death as the result of a blow struck by Tony Casciola in a fight started over a game of dice in Fricke's saloon, 212 South Tenth street. The two men started fighting on the street after a heated argument and Casciola struck Lalich, knocking him down. Lalich struck his head on the cement sidewalk, which caused a bad fracture of the skull.

This institution is the only one in the central west with separate buildings situated in their own ample grounds, yet entirely distinct and rendering it possible to classify cases. The one building being fitted for and devoted to the treatment of noncontagious and nonmental diseases, no others being admitted. The other Rest Cottage being designed for and devoted to the exclusive treatment of select mental cases, requiring for a time watchful care and special nursing.
