Wake Up! You Lazy Stomach! Make Your Stomach Cheerfully Do Its Work—Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets Digest Your Food and Assist the Stomach. People who complain they are worn to a frazzle are nearly always dyspeptic and are recommended to use Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. The stomach gets lazy, food ferments and sours, gas belches up, there are symptoms of bloating, the blood becomes thick and sluggish, the liver is blamed, the head is heavy, the mind a blank and the dining room is a chamber of horrors.

One of the greatest evils of our modern life is the quick lunch. To this evil, as much or more, than any other, may be traced the preponderance of the stomach troubles of our times. Instead of taking time to thoroughly masticate the food before swallowing it, the average person rushes through the meal, bolting the food, deglutition taking place while it is only partially mixed with saliva, and only half masticated, thus leaving the stomach to do the work the teeth should have done.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets contain digestive elements, a single grain being capable of digesting 3,000 grains of food, including meats, eggs, grain, vegetables, starches and mineral matters. They prepare every particle of food by thorough digestion for ready absorption and assimilation by the lactical glands, which pass it into the blood, whence it is conducted to all parts of the system, rebuilding and revitalizing it.

Every druggist has Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets in stock and sells them at 6 cents a box.—Advertisement.

SWIFT DIAMONDS RECOVERED

Man Arrested While Attempting to Sell Them at Pawnshop.

ORGANIZED GANG IS AT WORK

Three Have Already Been Rounded Up and it is Expected that the Entire Outfit Will Be in Jail Soon.

Diamonds valued at $800 which were snatched from Mrs. Patrick Swift while she was walking along Seventeenth street last Thursday evening, have been recovered by detectives, and three men are under arrest in connection with the theft. The first person arrested was Johnny Sudeberg, special mail delivery boy and prize fighter of local note, who was arrested Monday afternoon by Detectives Ring and Van Dusen at the postoffice upon information furnished by Superintendent William Kelley, who was keeping the jewels in his safe for Sudeberg. The arrest of Novat O'Leary, 107 Dodge street, and George Alexander, 245 Capitol avenue, followed yesterday morning.

Sudeberg Engineers Theft. According to the story of Alexander, Sudeberg had O'Leary snatch the purse from Mrs. Swift. The three boys were together at the time. Sudeberg took possession of the diamonds and gave O'Leary $6 to split with Alexander. Sudeberg promised to give the two boys $50 for their share in the jewels and he was to take them to Chicago to sell.

Sudeberg is 19 years of age, Alexander 17 years and O'Leary 15 years. The two younger boys will be turned over to the juvenile authorities, while Sudeberg will stand trial in police court. He has been in the hands of the police several times.

Mr. Kelley talked with Sudeberg last Saturday on the value of diamonds and the boy mentioned that he had some good stones. Mr. Kelley asked him to bring them to the postoffice building, which Sudeberg did yesterday. Upon seeing the stones Mr. Kelley recognized them as those taken from Mrs. Swift and notified the police. In the meantime he kept them in the safe at the postoffice.

Young Man is Trapped. Mr. Kelley sent Sudeberg to Steve Maloney yesterday afternoon with a message in order that he might be placed under arrest. Accompanied by young Alexander, Sudeberg went to the station, but Maloney was out to lunch and the message was delivered to the desk sergeant. The detectives then went to the postoffice and arrested Sudeberg.

Sudeberg attempted to get O'Leary and Alexander to snatch purses from several other women, who he knew carried diamonds of great value in their pocketbooks. Alexander refused to comply with Sudeberg's request.

The two younger boys have made complete confessions to the police and blame Sudeberg for all the work. They say he proposed thefts.

Although many similar robberies have been made during the last month the three boys deny having any connection with them. Sudeberg at first said he had found the diamonds, but when confronted with the confessions of the two boys he confessed to taking the jewels. He says he did not have any intention of taking the diamonds to Chicago.

Another young boy is suspected of having been connected with the theft of Mrs. Swift's jewels. He will be placed under arrest this afternoon.

Young Woman Riding Motorcycle to Frisco Miss "Cy" Woodman, magazine writer, who for the last seven years has covered general assignments for three leading New York papers, arrived in Omaha yesterday afternoon on her motorcycle which she is riding from New York to San Francisco. If Miss Woodman accomplishes her task she will be the first woman to cross the continent on a motorcycle.

There is no bet or any purse which is prompting Miss Woodman to tackle the hardships of such an undertaking. She is doing it for the express purpose of securing "dope" for magazine stories. She left New York two months ago, but has been in actual riding but fifteen days. Just outside of Des Moines she was thrown from her machine and suffered a broken rib and badly bruised eye, which necessitated an operation. She expects to reach San Francisco within thirty-five days after leaving Omaha.

NEWLY APPOINTED ASSISTANT COUNSEL OF UNION PACIFIC.

JOHN A. BENNETT.

MAYOR HAS MANY ADVISERS

Many Organizations Would Help Name Service Board.

COUNCILMEN KEEP HANDS OFF

Leave Dahlman Alone to Hear All the Recommendations and to Name Members of Newly Created Board.

Mayor Dahlman will be the most advised man in the city before this week is out. James C. Johnson of the Tri-City Baraca Union has notified him by registered letter that the following organizations will suggest men and women who ought to be appointed on the social service board created recently by the city commission: Baraca union, Woman's club, Commercial club, public affairs committee of the Commercial club.

In addition to these the following organizations have also intimated to the mayor that they can agree upon at least one member of the board of five who would do great work as a theatrical center: Ted Jed Sokol, Tom Moore club, Dahlman Democracy club, Moonshine club, Polish Young Men's club, Platt-deutscher Verein.

"I won't announce the appointees until after the first of the month," said the mayor. "The appointments will take effect after the first of the year."

Members of the city commission are keeping out of the matter. If they have any candidate they are careful to conceal the fact, saying simply that the mayor will have trouble enough without any worry making by them.

Mayor Dahlman says he will carefully consider the names suggested and will then name the board. But three names have been suggested to date, these by the Ad club: Dr. C. D. Clark, a dentist; Brower McCague, brother of John L. McCague, and Al. C. Scott, a tent and awning dealer.

"My Darling Henry" Story is Repeated Mrs. Martha Redmon, mother of Benjamin Redmon, who is suing Henry R. Gering for alienation of his wife's affections in district court, on the witness stand repeated her story of interception of alleged love notes between Mrs. Redmon and a correspondent whom she addressed as "My Darling Henry," and who signed himself "H. G."

A deposition of William Bert Kyle, who lived in the Masonic home at Plattsmouth, where Mrs. Redmon's father was superintendent, was read. It alleged that Gering visited the home when Mrs. Redmon was there and at times when she was not. It noted on occasion when it was alleged Gering took Mrs. Redmon to the theater.

SALESMAN HELD AT PEKIN ON AN OMAHA COMPLAINT E. P. Armitage, a former traveling salesman for the Domestic Vacuum Sweeping company, is being held by the Pekin, Ill., police for the Omaha police, who charge him with obtaining $50 from the Henshaw hotel by false pretenses. But the Pekin authorities may release the man before he can be extradited.

Armitage, who had stopped at the Henshaw at intervals for several years, induced the management to cash a check last November. Payment was refused by the sweeping company, which says he has been out of its employ since June.

Learning that Armitage was in Pekin, the Omaha police telegraphed for his arrest. Deputy Attorney James P. English is out of the city on business and will not return until tomorrow. He left no signed requisition in his office. The Pekin police have held Armitage three days with no charge against him and are threatening to let him go.

PROTESTS ON MILK RAISE

Citizens Protest on the Intended Advance in Price.

FEED IS NOW COSTING LESS

Corn and Hay Are Much Cheaper Than They Were a Year Ago—State Has Plenty of Forage for Sale.

Threats of Omaha dairymen to increase the price of milk December 1 have brought forth protests from many consumers, who declare the increase unjustified and the statements of the dairymen, who have formed an organization for the purpose of boosting the price of milk, as clearly misleading.

"Cows cost us more; feed is higher and the cost of living has increased," said the dairymen in explanation of the proposed increase. This explanation is based on false assertions, say the consumers who protest. A year ago the price of feed was higher than it is today. Alfalfa was worth $15 a ton; today it is selling at $14 and $14.50 a ton. Prices of other hay a year ago ranged from $11 to $15.90. Today the same grade of hay is selling at from $11.50 to $16 a ton.

Nor has there been any increase in the price of corn, but on the other hand a decided decrease. A year ago corn was selling in Omaha for 50 to 55 cents a bushel. Today the same kind of corn can be purchased for from 25 to 40 cents a bushel.

Cows were selling at from $4.35 to $4.85 a year ago and today they may be bought at prices ranging from $4.25 to $5. But the dairymen are affected slightly or not at all by the price of cows, for they have in the main the same animals they had a year ago.

Thus, in the opinion of the consumer, the increase in the price of milk this year from 7 and 8 cents to 9 cents a quart is wholly unwarranted.

Big Crop of Feed. Nebraska is marketing a big crop of hay and corn. There is no indication that there will be a shortage of feed, as there is no dearth of crops in other states. Hence the complaint that feed is high because it is scarce is without foundation in fact.

A halt has been called for the time in the attempt to raise the rates at which milk is sold. This hesitation by the dairymen's organization is due to activity of the health department and the dairy inspector in preparing an ordinance to more strictly regulate the dairy industry.

Such legislation, however, when it becomes a matter of common knowledge to the dairymen, the consumer believes, will only be an incentive to increase the price of milk unless something or somebody intervenes and prevents it.

Republicans Plan for Fight to Keep Legislative Seats

The republican legislative delegation met at the office of Republican County Chairman Henry F. Meyers Monday night and decided to employ attorneys to fight their side of the case in which the democratic candidates of the county are seeking to oust them from seats in the legislature. When the members of the republican delegation began to discuss the possible motive or motives back of the contest there were many theories advanced.

Chief among them was the theory that the democrats hope to seat a majority in both houses in order to defeat George W. Norris for United States senator.

Still another motive advanced is that the democratic delegation is wanted by the friends of the Omaha Water board when the matter of the continuance of the present board or the taking over of the water plant management by the city commission comes up before the legislature. It is held by members of the delegation and even by prominent democrats in the city that Senator G. M. Hitchcock is a particular friend of R. B. Howell, water commissioner, and that Hitchcock is to some extent responsible for the contest in the hope that the present water board may be continued.

O'Neill Prospers When He Quits Law

Five years ago Harry O'Neill was practicing law in Omaha, with offices away up under the roof of one of the high buildings. One day he heard the call of "back to the land" and heeded it. Selling out his few possessions he went up into Custer county, where he filed on a Klunk homestead, adding to his possessions from time to time until he was the owner of a ranch of 1,600 acres. Now Mr. O'Neill is back in town on a visit and will remain until after Thanksgiving that he may eat turkey with some of his old friends.

In Custer county Mr. O'Neill is anything but a parlor farmer. On his ranch he has a herd of close to 100 Red Polled cattle, all grade stuff, hogs, horses and sheep. He lives in a modern ranch house, with spring water in every room, hot water heat, telephone and all of the conveniences of the city. A hydraulic ram in the spring a few rods from his house pumps water through his stock yard into the house and into the barn. This year he has raised immense crops, his wheat yielding close to thirty bushels and his corn better than forty bushels per acre.

Letters of a Slim-Made Woman to Her Fat Sister

Ninth Letter: On taking the Weight Off Your Feet. Dear Sis—Have just returned from the Art Exhibit and you'll laugh when I tell you the thing that has impressed me most is the fact that with all the standing and walking my feet aren't tired a bit. I remember the exhibit last year—how I cried about my feet—how my heels ached like the torches and the blisters and corns—I'll never forget.

It set me to thinking and "Mrs. Calumbar" discovered something else. It was my excess weight that made my feet burn and ache. I used to think it was rheumatism, but since I look that wonderful in my new dress, I'm rid of all the wobbly, heavy fat, my feet are "light" all the time—and they're better shaped, too—I do say it myself. My ankle is trim and the "biscuit" on top of my foot has faded away.

What a list of blessings have come to me in place of that awful curse of fat-slimness. I feel good, I sleep better, I have more capacity for enjoyment of life's good things.

Yes, sis, dear, that formula will be a benefit, not a harm to you. Just get from your druggist the "Dr. King's New Discovery" in its original form, or take a teaspoonful after meals and at bed time. Take the weight off your feet, give your feet rest, and your feet will disappear.
