OMAHA, November 29, 1912. From the present outlook nothing short of war will help the wheat bulls out of their present-sholdings. In the face of the present altustion in the Balkans. Russia is offering its wheat in increased quantities and growers there are willing to meet the views of buyers in order to place at least a part of the grain that is now least a part of the grain that is now least a part of the grain that is now available and for which the sale is sian holders fear the Argentine will Russian holders fear the Argentine will come to the front with its usual rush of receipts of new wheat and that the southern hemisphere growers will force their grain upon the markets of the world, and that in order to dispose of a portion of their surplus, Russia will be found to cut the price at which Argentina has disposed a goodly portion of its grain. In our own northwest the receipts are certain to continue right up until they are partially cut off by stormy weather and the stocks then are likely to grow larger and larger. It may be said that Canada is turning every stone in ountry offerings of corn continulight. The weather is perfect and continuation of the same undoubtedly will brin ation of the same undoubtedly will bring about a free movement. Traders say they can see nothing builish, however, and continue to favor sales of May corn on all hard grades. The corn market opened by higher in Argentina this morning. Cash corn was unchanged.

There may be free covering by oats shorts during the present week. The receipts continue moderate, but traders see nothing in the general outlook. Cash cash were his lower.

CHICAGO, Nov. 20.—Reports of damage and dry weather southwest rallied the wheat market today in the last hour. There was a firm close at prices varying from be decline to be advance. Corn Inlashed 160% to be higher and oats up be to higher and oats up to high the high that the fall sown acreage amounted to five per cent less than the total a year age. Prolonging of export rates by way of gulf cities was also regarded as tending to help the buils.

May wheat fluctuated between 85% and 80% 95%, with last sales ice net higher at 95% cond so was up grade. Unsettled weather ahead put strongth into corn. Cables and the wheat rally counted also against the boars. May swung from 67% to the boars. May swung from 67% to the boars. May swung from 67% to the boars was not quoted.

Lighthess of country offerings carried oats up grade. Outside limits touched by May were 32% cand 85% with the close before and solvened a little owing to nervousness about what the monthly statement would show restarding stocks on hand. The only material change was in November lard, which advanced 15% and Montana, 85% c. No. 2 morther, 184,2678c.

Bank Statements Show Five Million Dollar Cash Deficit.

Sentiment in Stock Market More Cheerful, Owing to European Advices of Likelihood of Armistice in Balkan War.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—The recent strain upon the resources of the New York banks was reflected in a striking way in today's bank statement. Not only was last weeks alender surplus reserve of $6,765,000 obliterated, but at the close of the banking week, as shown in the actual table, there was a deficit of $6,051,000. The cash lone reached a total of $16,-522,000, an amount greatly in excess of all forecasts, the most unfavorable of which did not suggest a shrinkage of more than $10,000,000. The decrease in the aggregate cash reserve was $11,825,000.

It is expected that the position of the banks will be largely rectified within a comparatively short time. The return to the banks of money withdrawn for the December first settlement of interest and dividends and a reflux of the funds from Canada which is expected following the November 30 statement of which Duminion banks are expected to swell the aggregate of cash reserves.

The stock market was firm, despite the general expectation of an unfavorable bank statement. Sentiment was more cheerful, owing to European advices of the likelihood of an armistice in this Balkans and to the steadiness of the market recently in the face of unsettled money rates. Traders are still cautious, however, and the amount of business was small. The drooping advance did not affect the level of prices greatly. A few specialties moved more widely, as did some of the western railroads. Rubber continued its advance, touching a new high point for this movement.

Honds moved uncertainly, with decided pressure against Pock Island collateral 4s. Total sales, par vaiue, $1,000,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

London Stock Market.

1.ONDON, Nov. 30.—Money was in better supply and discount rates were easy today. The stock market closed quiet and cheerful and generally harder on the prospects of an early signing of an armistice and fair week-end purchases for the account of local and continental operations. American assembles were American securities steady despite the money flurry in New York yesterday. Prices opened steady and later advanced on light covering. The closing was steady, with values ranging from 1404/d higher than Friday's New CATTLE-Receipts today were of no consequence, practically nothing at all being received in the yards. For the week the receipts foot up 16,425 head, being a falling off of 14,000 head as compared with last week, but larger than a year ago by over 3,000 head.

The supply of desirable steers was very moderate throughout the week, and as there was a good buying demand prices gradually strengthened up until at the close of the week the market is right around 25c higher than it was a week ago. This is true of good westerns as well as of cornfeds.

Cows and helfers were active sellers all the week and they too, have shown about the same advance as beef steers, being generally 35c higher than last week. The market as a whole has been in very satisfactory condition, trade being active. The supply of stock cattle and feeders throughout the week was at no time very large, but still the intervention of a holiday naturally kept a good many would-be buyers at home. Still the market has steadily firmed up and at the close of the week is 25c higher than last week.

HOGS-A very liberal run of hogs was received for a Saturday, and opening prices ruled anywhere from strong to 552 160 higher than yesterday's general market. The speculators bought conservatively, thus leaving the big bulk of a liberal supply at the mercy of the packing interests. The packer buyers filled a few of their orders at about opening prices, but this did not last long, as they found as the morning advanced that they found as the morning advanced that they could get their hogs at a lower cost. The first purchases of the packers and the speculators were made around $7.7067.75, and at $7.50 top for the day, which was paid for a few good loads. A little later in the mordning the packers resorted to their bearish tactics and in the end the bulk of the packers droves was picked up at figures around $7.6067.70. Today's trade differed from yesterday's market in that prices became lower towards the close instead of getting better, closing values showing practically all the early advance lost. On the whole the movement was fairly active and the pens were fairly well cleared in very good season. Refound as the morning advanced that they well cleared in very good season. Re-ceipts for the day foot up in the neigh-borhood of 133 cars or 8,29 head, as com-pared with 7.716 head last Saturday, 6,48 head two weeks ago and 6,748 head or the same day a year ago.

For the week the supply amounts to, in round numbers, 48,200 head, as against 50,400 head last week, 45,200 head two weeks ago, and 34,500 head during the same week a year ago. The average price of hogs at the close of the week is about steady with a week ago, the bulk of the hogs today selling at a range $7.6067.75, as against $7.55@7.76 last on Friday's market.

One of the outstanding features of this week's trade has been a marked failing off in the receipts as compared with the previous week and the same time two weeks ago. The supply, however, was considerably larger than for the corresponding week a year ago. Chiefly under the influence of a very meager supply of decent killers the fat lamb and sheep trade was active on most days and values have shown a substantial advance over the close of last week. All this improvement in the local trade has taken place the close of last week. All this improve-ment in the local trade has taken place in spite of the fact that the eastern trade in dressed mutton has shown weakness and some uncertainty during the greater part of the week. Closing quotations on fat lambs are fully 256/46c higher than a week ago, with the best fed wetern lambs on Friday's market selling readily at $7.65 as against $7.25 on Monday. Really prime lambs were exceptionally scarce on most lambs were exceptionally scarce on most days of the week and sold at the highest point yesterday. Partially in sympa-thy with lambs, prime handyweight yesrlings have also shown considerable yearlings have also shown considerable improvement, the advance on them amounting to fully half a dollar. A double deck of the best fed yearlings reached $1.55 yesterday, as compared with $5.55 during the previous week. When considering the size of the receipts there was a very creditable showing of fat ewes and wethers, ewes being on the market in the largest numbers. Both killing ewes and wethers are a good strong quarter of the strength of in the largest numbers. Both killing ewes and wethers are a good strong quarter higher than the close of last week, mostly everything of that class meeting with a ready sale. The highest price paid for fat ewes was $4.30, while wethers commanded as much as $4.35.

The feeder lamb and sheep trade has been active and while there has been some change in prices on lambs, very little, if any, improvement is noticeable on sheep. The market on the general run on sheep. The market on the general run of lamb offerings may be regarded as about 19915c better than prices prevailing at the nd of last week. The grades of reeder lambs weighing from 50 to 60 pounds sold up to $6.95, while the bulk of the good ones were cleared at figures around $6.995.50. There continues to be a good demand for both desirable feeder

A Fine Way to Pay Debts.

When a newspaper man of New Orleans was preparing to leave that city in order to take a position in New York, a tallor named Eisenstein overwheimed him with offers of new suits of clothes at unusually low prices. The writer finally took the clothes, put them on, and set out for New York, carefully neglecting to pay Mr. Eisenstein any money at all.

A few months later he received this communication from the tailor: Dear Sir: On looking over my books: I find that you are indebted to me in the sum of 550. Kindly remit same at your earliest convenience. Very truly yours. SAMUEL EISENSTEIN. Hurling himself upon his trusty type-writer, the newspaper man wrote the following gem:
