Santa Claus is on the way.
And his sledges overflow
With the sweets of Christmas day.
Lull-a-by,
Hushaby, my baby, O.

Santa Claus is coming by
With his pack of pretty toys.
Fast his speeding reindeer fly
With their load of Christmas joys.
Now he flits across the moon,
Now he flits across the moon.
We will near his footsteps soon
On the housetop, crisp and cold.
Itushaby my baby, O.
Soon we'll hear the joyous hors
That will usher in the glow
Of the golden Christmas morn.

Meet him halfway, baby dear.
Join the jolly, pranksome band
Of the elfmen with their cheer.
Walting him in slumberland.
Santa Claus must come along
Through the dreamy vales of sleep:
There with all the elfin throng
Let us, too, the vigil keep.
