BUTTER AND MILK IN CASH

Over Half Billion Value of Output for Year 1909.

CENSUS FIGURES NOT COMPLETE

Reports from Farms of United States on Amount of Milk, Butter, Cream and Cheese Produced.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 26.—A bulletin summarizing the data collected for dairy products in the United States for 1909 has just been issued by Director Durand of the bureau of the census, Department of Commerce and Labor.

There were 5,140,540 farms in the United States for which the enumerators reported dairy cows on April 15, 1910. For only 4,412,532 of these farms were dairy products of any kind reported as produced in 1909, and for only 4,062,609 was the quantity of milk produced in 1909 stated.

The total value of dairy products sold by farmers in 1909, the east north central division ranked first, followed by the middle Atlantic and west north central, these divisions ranked first, followed by the middle Atlantic and west north central, these three divisions together reporting 73 per cent of the total for the United States.

The average value of butter sold by farmers in the United States as a whole was 24.2 cents per pound in 1909, as compared with 15.7 cents in 1908, an increase of 49 per cent.

The quantity of milk sold as such was reported as 1,372,000,000 gallons, or substantially one-third of the total reported as produced; but it should be borne in mind that a great deal of the milk sold as delivered to creameries for butter making is paid for on the basis of the cream or butter fat content, in which case the quantity of such cream or butter fat was usually reported on the census schedules and not the quantity of milk.

Butter and Cheese.

The reported farm production of butter and of cheese in 1909—294,651,500 pounds and 2,868,000 pounds, respectively—was considerably less than the production for the year 1908 as given in the published reports of the twelfth census, but this difference is doubtless due in part to the fact that the latter included some estimates for farms with incomplete reports.

The production of cheese on farms and in factories was 294,651,500 pounds in 1909, an increase of 7.4 per cent. At both censuses such the greater part of the cheese was made in factories, but the proportion in 1909 (97.1 per cent) was higher than that in 1908 (94.5 per cent).

Of the total value of dairy products in 1909 (excluding the value of milk and cream consumed on the farms where produced), the east north central division reported $1,552,490, or 23.3 per cent, the middle Atlantic division $1,307,733, or 21.3 per cent, and the west north central division $1,023,000, or 15.2 per cent, these three divisions together reporting over two-thirds of the total.

some what greater in the west than it is in the north.

Milk Per Cow. According to the figures reported the average production of milk per cow (based on the number of dairy cows in 1910 on farms reporting milk produced in 1909) and the quantity of milk produced in 1909 was very much greater in the New England, middle Atlantic, east north central and Pacific divisions than in any of the rest.

The quantity of butter made on farms was less in 1909 than in 1908 in the four geographic divisions of the north and also in the Pacific division, but in all of these divisions except the middle Atlantic and the New England, the factory production was decidedly greater in the later year than in the earlier. In the three southern divisions, where practically all the butter is still made on farms, there was an increase in farm production between 1908 and 1909, the percentage of increase for the three divisions then together being 41. Of the two divisions in which the greater part of cheese is made in factories, the middle Atlantic division shows a marked decrease in production, while in the east north central there was an increase of 50 per cent in the combined farm and factory output.

Leading Dairy States.

In 1909 the leading dairy states, as judged by the total value of the farm products (including milk and cream used at home), were: New York, Wisconsin, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Iowa, Ohio, Minnesota, Michigan and California, in each of which the value reported exceeded $20,000,000. In production of butter (on farms and in factories combined), Wisconsin was the leading state, followed by Iowa, Minnesota, Pennsylvania, Michigan, Ohio, Illinois and New York.

A large part of the milk produced in New York is sold for consumption in the cities, and a large portion is also used in making cheese. New York ranked next to Wisconsin in the production of cheese, and in no other state did cheese production equal one-seventh of the production of New York.

The average value of butter sold by farmers in the United States as a whole was 24.2 cents per pound in 1909, as compared with 15.7 cents in 1908, an increase of 49 per cent.

The quantity of milk sold as such was reported as 1,372,000,000 gallons, or substantially one-third of the total reported as produced; but it should be borne in mind that a great deal of the milk sold as delivered to creameries for butter making is paid for on the basis of the cream or butter fat content, in which case the quantity of such cream or butter fat was usually reported on the census schedules and not the quantity of milk.

EXCITING NIGHT IN OMAHA

Petty Disturbances Keep Police and Surgeons Busy.

KNIVES AND GUNS ARE USED

Innocent Bystanders Come in for Their Share of Trouble and Several Others Are Severely Injured.

When Policeman Earl Risk attempted to quell a disturbance at Thirteenth and Dodge streets last night and was beaten up after he used his strength in quieting the fighters, the climax to the "most atrocious Christmas day celebration in five years" was capped. Risk was badly bruised, but his three prisoners, H. Hannah, William Hannah and Roy Arthur, were also considerably used up.

A riot call was turned in to police headquarters, but when a squad of reserves reached the scene all of the men had escaped except those already arrested by Risk.

Accidents, shooting, swarms, cutting affairs and fights all were reported to the police station within a period of four hours and three police surgeons were kept busy fixing up the victims, while station officers were equally busy caring for prisoners who in celebrating made themselves a bit too obstreperous.

Scott of the Kearney Electric and Water Power company this afternoon ordered all fuses taken out of the street lighting system and tonight the streets of the city are in total darkness, except for the light supplied by the full moon.

This action on the part of the company comes as the direct result of the veto by Mayor J. W.
