

CRECHE DOES GOOD WORK

Annual Report of the President, Mrs. T. L. Kimball, is Given.

HOMES ARE FOUND FOR BOYS

Full Collections Put the Treasury in Good Shape After the Finances Had Run Short During the Summer.

Mrs. T. L. Kimball, president of the Omaha Charity association, which has charge of the Omaha Creche, has filed her annual report, showing the work done by the association this year. The report shows a balance of $41.74 in the treasury. The report follows:

"In some respects the last year has been an unusually anxious one, as well as a most interesting one for the Creche, anxious for our future, interesting because of the appreciation our work is gaining throughout the city.

"Our appeals for substantial permanent help have reached responsive hearts, a lovely home for the children is secured for some future day, and a glorious bequest has been made to us just as the ground seemed slipping from under our feet. Our immediate future is yet to be decided upon, as you know our fate is in the hands of the city officials. On December 16 a petition was laid before them asking an extension of our lease, or a place near by to which we might safely move our building, as we have demonstrated that this is the best location for the work in hand. Perhaps if our lease cannot be extended, the city in recognition of our twenty-five years of active service on this corner, will locate us in an admirable position and aid in moving us there. We hope our prayers will be heeded and our work in this part of town for poor mothers and their children will not be interrupted.

January 10, 1912, our annual meeting went through its usual routine of electing officers and members of the board.

Homes Found for Boys.

"Mrs. Dahman met Mr. Quiver in regard to the two Teeters boys, who, deserted by their father, their mother-in-law, has been with us for years; pleasant homes were found for them, which I hope have proved satisfactory, as they were dear little boys.

"It was voted that a fine easy chair be presented to our good Dr. Hollister in slight recognition of his long services here; a stringency in our finances prevented our carrying out this laudable plan. I trust the doctor hasn't been inconvenienced by our tardiness.

"We were very sorry to lose Mrs. Wilson Low from our board.

"The Creche card party, which has long been the peculiar care of our co-workers, Mrs. H. T. Lemist, passed off in fine style. There were many beautiful refreshments, flowers, and the use of the Country club, all donated. The Fremont delegation was so delighted with the affair that they promised to attend in force another season. We have lost in Mrs. Lemist a most enthusiastic worker and faithful friend of our Creche, her loss is felt in all our gatherings and her place will be very hard to fill.

Member Supplies Funds.

"The unanimous large number of children cared for during the summer soon depleted the treasury; funds were supplied by a member of the board, who was reimbursed from the first of our fall collections.

"The question of employing a lawyer to attend to the society's legal business was discussed and opposed by some members of the board. It is to be regretted, for had we been represented at the first distribution of the Anne Wilson estate we might have secured a higher class of mortgages than we were able to get. However, we rejoice in the possession of some 'excellent paper.'

"The children's summer was made delightful through the personal efforts of one of the city officials, aided and abetted by a few staunch friends. The lot, which for the sake of sympathy we called the playground, was turned into a veritable paradise; flowers, turf, swings and sheltered sand piles sprung up as by magic, where at all hours of the hot day and far into the night could be seen the little ones and their nurses at play, and a table was built low enough for the small guests gathered at the feasts of ice cream and cakes furnished by these warm-hearted child-lovers, who see in these babes our future citizens, and know that there is nothing so conducive to good citizenship as healthful exercise and pure happiness. Warmest thanks to Mr. Joe B. Hummel and his helpers.

Abundant Christmas.

"We never had a more abundant Christmas at the Creche. A splendid turkey with boxes of oranges and apples made the house resound with thanksgiving. I haven't space to enumerate the books and toys, candy, etc., though I must mention two enthusiastic babes under 5 years, who made and filled small stockings and brought them to the Christmas tree. May their righteous ardor increase with their years.

President of Creche

Mrs. T. L. Kimball

our Creche, together with the remarkably good health of the household, continues to be the marvel of all who are interested in this institution.

"It is a noteworthy fact that our collections have been unusually satisfactory, and a printed list of donors to this charity can be seen at the Creche after February 1.

"The members of our board wish to extend thanks individually to all who aid us, particularly to the press who so courteously lend us their columns."

Officers of Board.

Following are the officers of the Creche board: Mrs. T. L. Kimball, president; Mrs. Thomas Kilpatrick, vice president; Mrs. R. McMahon, secretary; Mrs. James C. Dahman, treasurer.

The directors are:

Mrs. Arthur C. Smith, P. A. Nash, Warren Rogers, J. E. Summers, C. C. Allison, Everett Buckingham, J. D. Foster, George Radford, Louis Clark, Robert R. Hollister and Miss A. M. Kimball. OMAHA WOMAN POSSESSES COPY OF OLD NEWSPAPER

In the possession of Mrs. R. Anderson, 2112 Dodge street, there is a very interesting copy of the Ulster county, New York Gazette. It is dated Kingston, Ulster county, Saturday, January 4, 1869, and the most eminent news item in its columns is the funeral of George Washington. The paper, distinctly in mourning, is in heavy black borders. While the burial of the first president took place on the 14th of the preceding month, news traveled slower in those old days and the account of the ceremonies did not arrive from Mt. Vernon to the publishers of this paper until their next issue twenty-one days later.

AMERICAN ACADEMY OF ARTS INCORPORATED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—The American Academy of Arts and Letters and the National Institute of Arts and Letters, would be incorporated under two bills passed today by the senate. Both measures were introduced by Senator Lodge and in each case the list of incorporators includes the prominent artists, sculptors, musicians and authors in the United States. The membership of the academy would be restricted to fifty, and the institute would be limited to 50. Both would have power to fill vacancies in their memberships.

Oil Company Gets Writ

DEADWOOD, S. D., Jan. 18.—(Special.)—Alleging that it was being discriminated against in favor of the Standard Oil company, the Marshall Oil company of Marshalltown, Ia., has secured in the local circuit court a temporary injunction from Judge Rice, against J. W. Peckham of Parkston, state oil inspector for the northern district, Ed A. Murray of Millbank, inspector for the southern district, and W. M. Cox, inspector for the Black Hills district. The officials are restrained from marking "rejected" on the receipts containing gasoline and kerosene of this company which are shipped into the state and which the inspectors believed to be under grade.

BISHOP M'GOVERN ON VISIT

Former Omaha Priest, Now Bishop of Wyoming, in the City.

HE HEARTILY LOVES WYOMING

Has Only Been Out There a Brief While, but Has Seen an Unprecedented Future for the State.

Among the most welcome visitors to Omaha in a long time is Bishop McGovern of Wyoming. It is hardly necessary to remind that he is a product of Omaha and that whenever he gets in this neighborhood latch strings are not only on the outside, but the door is wide open in warm invitation.

Bishop McGovern will leave in a few days for Los Angeles, where he will spend the winter to encourage his health with a milder climate. He is feeling much better than he has in quite a while and the physical strength that was necessarily spent in the operation he underwent last summer is gradually, but surely returning.

He is wrapped up body and soul in the future of the community which he is now serving and even in the little time that he has so far been able to spend in the different sections of Wyoming he has observed with enthusiasm the wonderful future of that state.

The bishop says the outlook of combination irrigated farming and stock raising stand out in the memory of what he has seen as one of the greatest winning graces the state possesses. He has found many happy families out there making new homes and putting their children where the pressure of competition is yet light. He has seen irrigation construction costing hundreds of thousands of dollars, making these homes possible.

He has viewed the building of new railroads, the developing of oil fields, the busy mills of mining properties, but what he longs for to the point with him is the encouragement of the human souls whose shoulders are under all of this wonderful movement, souls that are blasting their way through the vicissitudes of frontier-ship, making the less willing elements of the country's resources stand and deliver.

DEATH RECORD

James W. Moore, WAHCO, Neb., Jan. 18.—(Special.)—James W. Moore, manager of the La Grande hotel, died very suddenly in the room at the hotel here last evening of heart disease, superinduced by an attack of lagrippe and asthma. The deceased came here recently from Genoa and formerly lived at Arlington where the remains will be interred tomorrow. He leaves a son, H. K. Moore, living in Omaha and a daughter who makes her home in New York. He was 67 years of age, a native of North Carolina and a Confederate veteran. Members of the local Grand Army of the Republic post will escort the remains of a one time adversary to the station.

H. Behrens.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—(Special.)—H. Behrens, aged 51 years, died at his home six miles southeast of town at 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon after a short illness. He is survived by his widow and eight children. He was an old settler in this vicinity. Funeral services will be held at the German Lutheran church south of the city Saturday afternoon.

Miss Margaret O'Connell.

TECUMSEH, Neb., Jan. 18.—(Special.)—Miss Margaret O'Connell, daughter of Judge and Mrs. J. G. O'Connell, died at the family home in this city at an early hour this morning. She had been suffering with heart trouble for months. Her age was 25 years. Miss O'Connell was born in this county and was a graduate of the Tecumseh High school and was a well known teacher.

James Metcalf.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—James Metcalf, well known in musical circles of many cities, died yesterday. In the initial rendering of a piece of music he was struck by a fall from the stage.

EDWARD TREADWELL KILLED BY SNOWSLIDE

DELTA, Cal., Jan. 18.—Edward Treadwell, superintendent of the Trinity Bonanza mine, near here and son of James Treadwell, one of the two brothers who discovered the famous Treadwell mine of Alaska, met death in a snow slide at the mine last Tuesday. Dave Williams, an employe at the mine, also was killed and two other men narrowly escaped death. The mine has been isolated by the storm and word of the accident was not received until today. The bodies lie beneath many feet of snow and no attempt has been made to recover them as fresh slides are feared.

DEALERS CHARGED WITH SELLING TOBACCO TO BOYS

SIOUX CITY, Ia., Jan. 18.—(Special.)—Upon complaint of Superintendent of Schools Clark that many boys were backward in studies from smoking, the humane society sent boy scouts under 15 years of age out as detectives to buy tobacco and this morning filed information against twenty-one grocers and cigar dealers for selling tobacco to minors.
