

DIPHTHERIA CLOSES SCHOOL

Cultures Taken from Pupils Show Positive Cases of Disease.

SAYS FEE SYSTEM IS A FARCE

Health Commissioner Connell Pro-nounces Present Way of Exam-ination by School Board as Un-satisfactory Joke.

Believing that the present system of medical inspection in the public schools of Omaha is "a farce and a crime," Health Commissioner R. W. Connell introduced a bill into the state legislature...

This decision on the part of the health commissioner was reached when five cases of diphtheria were discovered in Cass school and the building was ordered closed, the 500 pupils dismissed and the school fumigated from roof to cellar.

"Inspectors of the Board of Education," said Dr. Connell, "inspected this school three times during the last week by two different physicians, one inspection being made an hour before I arrived and reported that there were no cases."

"The only physician who had taken cultures for the school board was Dr. Boer, who examined the Franklin school and found nine cases, and the epidemic was immediately controlled. He was emphatically informed that his services as an examiner to the school board would not be needed in the future and he was severely criticized for taking cultures."

Few Diagnose Right. "There are not twenty physicians in this city who can diagnose nasal diphteria. Any physician can make mistakes, but the culture is never misleading, although the presence of other and different germs may often obscure the diphteria germs and compel the taking of a second culture."

Dr. Connell declared that frequent deaths and contagions were the direct result of this "criminal inspection" and that he would devote his time and energies to the abolition of the present method of conducting inspection in the public schools.

There were two deaths and five other cases from the Cass school during the last week, which caused Dr. Connell to make a personal inspection regardless of the report of the school board's physicians.

Cass school pupils found suffering from diphteria were Jake Besman, 3 years old, 711 North Sixteenth street; Helen Shesley, 12 years old, 808 Dodge street; Esther and Nellie Pinkelstein, 5 and 7 years old, respectively, 1722 Cuming street; Rose Migdal, 6 years old, 1218 Capitol avenue; Opal Dilley, 5 years old, Clowry annex, will be examined again, as there was doubt about the culture taken from her.

Dr. E. Holoychiner, president of the Board of Education, who appoints the physicians who have charge of the medical inspection in the schools, said the school authorities took prompt action to close and fumigate Cass school as soon as they knew positively that there were cases of diphteria there.

City health and school authorities are constantly warring over the medical inspection of the schools, the city's physician saying the inspection is inefficient; the school authorities saying everything possible under the law is done to prevent contagions.

Parents generally protest when the subject of culture taking by the school physicians is suggested. They are willing for these physicians to examine the pupil and if there are any external indications of a contagious disease the child is sent home and the family physician is called in.

LARRY MANGAN STEADFAST IN FRIENDSHIP FOR MULE

Larry Mangan is worried. Larry is up in the '9s and he drives a mule that is said to be up in the '20s. Now he is worried because he fears the government will sell the mule. Mr. Mangan has been the messenger for about forty years for the quartermaster's department of the United States army at Omaha and he has driven between the postoffice and the quartermaster's depot, and incidentally to the army building during all this time.

The War department has a habit of selling its horses and mules when they become so old as to be of little service, and Mangan is sure his old black mule is dangerously near the age limit for service with Uncle Sam.

Bull Moosers Slip Into Quiet Banquet All by Themselves

At the call of John Lewis, bull moose county chairman, nine bull moosers enjoyed a luncheon and a little conference in room 124, Paxton hotel, Tuesday noon.

A newspaper man rescued the national committee man, and led him safely to the moose manager. The national committee man was admitted, but at the sight of the newspaperman, John Lewis, self-appointed toastmaster, sitting at the head of the table, waved the press back, even as the Indians of New York should have waved back Henry Hudson and his liquor had he been as wise as Lewis.

LAWYER FACES DISBARMENT

C. H. Wright Charged with Misconduct in Conducting Case.

MAY CONSTITUTE CONTEMPT

Records of the Case Have Been Sent by Judge Sutton to the Attorney General of the State at Lincoln.

Charges of misconduct constituting contempt of court against Carroll H. Wright, a young attorney with offices in the Omaha National Bank building, have been laid before Presiding Judge Abraham L. Sutton, of the Douglas county district court, and Judge Sutton has forwarded the complete transcript of testimony in the case to State's Attorney General Grant O. Martin at Lincoln.

The charges were placed before Judge Sutton by William Baird, Francis A. Brogan and Ed P. Smith, who constitute a committee named by the court several months ago to probe matters relating to alleged misconduct upon the parts of members of the Douglas county bar.

Attorney General Martin is expected to act in the Wright matter within a few days, either ordering the institution of disbarment proceedings or notifying Judge Sutton that the information submitted does not justify such action.

Details regarding the charges against Wright could not be learned this afternoon. William Baird, chairman of the committee, said his recollection of the testimony taken by him and his colleagues was so hazy that he would not undertake to repeat it even in substance. He said the committee's report to Judge Sutton did not recommend disbarment, but simply placed the testimony before the court without making any recommendation. Ed P. Smith is out of the city and will not return for several weeks. Francis A. Brogan refused to discuss the case, saying he believed for him to do so would be discourteous to Mr. Baird, chairman of the committee.

Judge Sutton would not discuss the matter and even refused to give Wright's name to reporters; he admitted, however, that he had sent the entire report to the attorney general.

ASKS HEAVY DAMAGES FOR ASSAULT AND BATTERY

Assault and battery is charged against Gus A. Wulff of Benson, formerly in the general merchandise business there, by Martin Neilson, a Benson carpenter, in a suit for $5,000 damages, filed in district court. The assault is alleged to have been committed last May, when Wulff dunned Neilson for a bill of about $10.

Neilson alleges that Wulff landed a heavy blow on his jaw, rendering him unconscious, loosening six of his teeth, knocking out one and breaking off one, and incapacitating him for work for a week.

Neilson says when he reached Benson after his days work Wulff called him over to a walk in front of his store and dunned him in the presence of twelve or
