OPPOSE GRAFT OF SHERIFFS

Iowa Legislative Committee Favors Putting Limit on Fees.

BOARDING BRINGS MUCH CASH

Kimball of Pottawattamie County Still Ahead in Record of Votes, Which Has Not Yet Been Concluded.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
DES MOINES, Ia., Jan. 24.—(Special Telegram.)—The judiciary committee of the house late today put the stamp of disapproval on the graft of sheriffs in large counties, in the matter of boarding prisoners and deducting fees from a bill by Whitney of Sioux City, limiting the compensation that may be paid to sheriffs in counties of 20,000 and over for keeping prisoners.

It was declared that this is one of the biggest grafts in the state and has been the means of making sheriffs rich. Counties are given the power to reduce the pay for meals.

Kimball Stays Ahead.
The Pottawattamie county contest committee found nothing new or startling in the ballots on the Kimball-Goodwin contest today, but has not as yet completed the count. The count thus far shows Kimball out seventy ahead.

NAZIM PASHA SHOT; YOUNG TURKS SEIZE CONTROL OF CABINET

Public Works—Batasta Effendi.
Posts Foundations—Hafri Pasha.
Agriculture—Dialal Effendi.
Finance—Osman Bey.
Public Instruction—Shukri Pasha.

Official Announcement Made.
The resignation of the cabinet was announced in the following official statement.

The decision of Kiamli Pasha's cabinet, taken in response to the note handed to the Turkish government by the European powers, asking them to abandon the fortress of Adrianople and parts of the islands in the Aegean sea and the convocation of an extraordinary assembly of the grand council of the Ottoman empire, to which the cabinet's decision was submitted—a course contrary to the prescriptions of the constitutional charter and violating the sacred rights of the people, roused the indignation of the Turkish nation, with the result that the people made a demonstration before the Sublime Porte and brought about the resignation of the government.

The council of ministers met shortly before noon to give final shape to the note accepting the proposals.

About 3 o'clock people from all quarters began to gather in front of the gate to the grand vicariate. Enver Bey, one of the leaders of the Young Turks, who was identified with the campaign in Tripoli and Nadj Bey, a prominent unionist, arrived about this time and were deputed to inform the cabinet that it must retire.

Young Turks Take Control.
Enver Bey soon issued from the vicariate and announced that he held the resignation of Kiamli Pasha, which he was taking to the palace. This was greeted with tremendous cheering, which was frantically renewed an hour and a half later when he returned from the palace with an irate-looking Mahmud Shekret Pasha grand vizier.

While awaiting the return of Enver Bey the enthusiasm of the crowd was kept at a fever pitch by speeches and the waving of banners. On his return from the palace the Young Turk leader proceeded to the residence of Mahmud Shekret to communicate the imperial message.

In the meantime Talaat Bey assumed provisionally the portfolio of the ministry of the interior and Ismet Pasha that of war. In an interview, Talaat Bey said the movement had not been planned, but was the outcome of popular feeling owing to the attitude of the government with regard to Adrianople. If Adrianople were abandoned he said, disturbances would break out over the length and breadth of the empire. With regard to money, he said the whole nation would make a sacrifice.

Will Save Honor or Perish.
"We do not want a continuation of the war, but we are determined to keep the fortress of Adrianople at all cost. That is an indispensable condition of peace."

London Astonished.
LONDON, Jan. 24.—To the ambassadors of the powers, who were congratulating themselves that the concert of Europe virtually had settled the near eastern war, to the delegates of the allied Balkan states and to all London, except the Turkish plenipotentiaries, the news of the resignation of Mahmud Shekret Pasha to the grand vicariate came as a bolt from the blue sky.

Whether this means war to a finish, with the "Young Turks" in the saddle, or merely is another exhibition of the resources of Turkish diplomacy none can say, nor can anyone predict definitely whether the powers will attempt to coerce Turkey into making peace or stand as spectators while events take their course.

The Turkish delegates have cherished the conviction that the abandonment of Adrianople by the ministry would bring the Young Turk cabinet into power. The fact that Shekret Pasha has been appointed grand vizier while Talaat Bey, who is a prominent member of the Young Turk committee and deputy for Adrianople, has been made minister of the interior is significant. The Young Turks have labored valiantly for some time to regain power; their activity among army officers has been great and prominent soldiers, who recently returned from Tripoli and joined the Tebatia army, are

STUDENTS ALL FOR REMOVAL

Editor of Cornhusker Says Undergrads Want University Changed.

STRONGLY BACK OF REGENTS

Ralph Sweeley Voices Sentiment of the Nebraska Undergrads, and Urges Alumni to Get Behind Chancellor.

Student sentiment at the University of Nebraska favors campus removal. This is the opinion of Ralph Sweeley, editor of the Cornhusker, the yearbook of the university. The young editor, who is one of the prominent seniors of the state school, is close to the undergraduate body in all lines of activity. He favors removal and has found that the vast majority of the students with whom he has talked on the subject, also are strongly interested in their stand for taking the university to the farm, where it may grow into a great institution, such as this state should possess.

"I believe practically all the students are in favor of campus removal," said Mr. Sweeley. "In my mind and in that of each student with whom I have come over the situation, there is no doubt about the advisability of making the move. At first the plan of moving the campus seems to the student to be a stupendous project and then when he learns that the expense of taking the university to the farm will be no greater than that resulting from buying lots and expending on the present campus he says at once that the only objection to the plan is taken away."

All Want Removal.

"The students want to get out to the farm. The influence of the city life in which students have had to quit school very harmful. I know of several cases simply because they were so close to downtown Lincoln that they wasted much of their time on the streets. If they had been removed from the heart of the city by a distance of two miles, the temptation to parade the streets would not have been so great, and they would have accomplished more work and been permitted to stay in school.

"There is no sound reasoning in the protest that students earning their way through school would be cut off from this opportunity if the campus were taken to the farm. Practically 50 per cent of the undergraduates who are working their way through school are in the employ of the university or of institutions which would go with the university to the farm. In cities like Chicago, Minnesota and St. Louis, students earn their expenses and their classrooms are much farther away from their work than would be the case in Lincoln with the university at the farm.

Must Back Up Regents.
"I think that the students would not oppose campus removal even though the regents and chancellor were not backing it; but the fact that the governing board of the school has declared unanimously for removal makes it incumbent upon the students to assist in getting removal. The students feel that the board knows what is best for the school and that it is acting intelligently and unselfishly. That is the potent reason why I am for campus removal—because I believe the regents know what they are doing and because they must have the united support of the friends of the university if any good is to be accomplished."

responsible largely for the revulsion of feeling.

Whether the advent of the Young Turk ministry means that the Ottomans will make a last fight with their backs to the wall depends upon the amount of support the Young Turks are able to command in the army. Should there be a division of opinion, as diplomats acquainted with Turkey predict, a military revolt against the cabinet is not improbable.

The delegates of the allies received the news with expressions of anger and sarcasm. Some offered the opinion the Constantinople coup was pre-arranged—that Shekret Pasha did not participate in the grand council because he knew he would succeed Kiamli Pasha. They chafe more angrily under each successive delay which the Turks have raised, because every day means to them an enormous burden in keeping their armies under arms.

Dr. Danoff, head of the Bulgarian delegates believes that today's coup d'etat has for its aim the obtaining of better terms outside of territorial arrangements, as it is incredible to him that the Ottoman statesmen sincerely believe they can retain Adrianople against the will of the allies and against the expressed decision of Europe.

The Greek delegates observed that their country must be congratulated on having refused to adhere to the armistice.

War Will Be Required.

LONDON, Jan. 24.—The confirmation of the complete revulsion of feeling in Constantinople against the proposed surrender to the allies has created the impression that war will be required.
