Desires to Answer Aspersions of Howell on Irrigation Board.

HAS IDEAS ON WATER POWER

Believes State May Lease Its Privileges to Private Company as Only Way Successful to Handle Situation.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, Jan. 25.—(Special.)—The attempt of R. B. Howell of Omaha to throw criticism upon the State Board of Irrigation for its action on the leasing of the water power rights of the state at a meeting of the legislative committee last Thursday evening and the charges made that the board exceeded its authority in the matter has aroused ex-Governor Aldrich and he has asked the privilege of appearing before the committee at its next meeting and will give them the other side of the story from the standpoint of a man who knows what he is talking about and believes that the action of the board is right.

The state will never be able successfully to develop the water power rights, according to a statement of the ex-governor to The Bee this morning, and he thinks that the only way it can be successfully developed is by making a lease to private individuals or a company with a provision that the state receive a percentage of the profits.

Twenty Thousand Tons of Sugar Made at Scott's Bluff

SCOTT'S BLUFF, Neb., Jan. 25.—(Special.)—The long whistle has blown at the sugar factory, which for 116 days and nights has been grinding out sugar from the enormous beet crop of last year. Over 20,000 tons of sugar is the product of the mill for this campaign and the warehouse, the scale house and all other available floor space in and about the factory is piled high with sugar. The bonus paid for labor during the campaign, which was for employees who served the entire time, was $25,000 above the regular wage, being an average of about $30 for each employee. In addition to the regular price paid for beets, the bonus paid to beet raisers will amount to $1,000. The prize for the best ten acres went to (Gering valley), for the best fifteen acres to Mitchell valley and the best twenty-five acres to Torrington, Wyo. These prizes were $200, $300 and $400. The addition paid for silage amounted to about $2,000.

Schuyler Producer Fails to Produce

SCHUYLER, Neb., Jan. 25.—(Special.)—Owing to the disappearance of one Lester Phillips of Chicago, visions of Schuyler becoming a theatrical producing center have been rudely shattered. Mr. Phillips, who claimed to be the author and owner of a musical comedy called "The Girl From Frisco," came to Schuyler about a month ago and arranged with Charles Janacek, the manager of the local opera house, to have the play rehearsed and given its initial performance here. Mr. Phillips' powers of description were nothing short of marvelous and the local manager was greatly enthused over the project. It was understood that the cast was to include fifteen principals and a chorus of fifty. After completing arrangements with the local manager, Mr. Phillips departed on an east-bound train and on the following Sunday appeared in Chicago and Chicago papers stating that fifty show girls were wanted for the forthcoming production. Applicants were advised to address the Janacek Opera house of this city. Then came a deluge of letters and photographs and quite a furore was created in local circles. Mr. Janacek was nicknamed the Heloise of Schuyler. Rehearsals were to have started last Monday, but Mr. Phillips failed to put in his appearance and all efforts to locate him at his Chicago address were in vain. Mr. Janacek is returning the letters and photos of the applicants, and it would appear that local theatergoers will have to be satisfied with the old reliable motion pictures to select their idols from.

Adams County Will Test Anti-Gift Law

HASTINGS, Neb., Jan. 25.—(Special.)—By refusing to recommend the dismissal of the case, the Adams county supervisors this morning left the way clear for the trial in the district court of the case involving the constitutionality of the anti-free gift enterprise law.

The case was instituted over a year ago by former County Attorney Hartigan and is an action to stop Sperry & Hutchinson Co., a trading stamp premium firm, from Nebraska. It was being followed the dissolving of an injunction previously secured, restraining the state's attorney from enforcing the law.

The action is being watched by retail interests throughout the state and is the only one now pending for the enforcement of the law passed by the legislature in 1911, prohibiting the giving of trading stamps and premiums with sales of merchandise.

ONE SCHOOL ON ONE CAMPUS

valuable. Indeed your situation will become similar to Johns Hopkins university, which was located within the city of Baltimore, and which now at great expense moves to an ample tract of land upon the border of the city. Already at Nebraska you have in the agricultural farm the ground upon which the liberal arts and similar buildings may be located. Purely from the point of view of expense to the state, I am perfectly clear that if existing buildings and equipment within the city were absolutely destroyed and the state could not obtain one cent for the ground upon which they are located, it would be economically advantageous to have the central part of the university moved to the agricultural farm. The question of the expense involved is the least important part of the matter.

Efficiency of Instruction.

"The great thing is the efficiency of the instruction, both in the liberal arts and science and in agriculture. If the buildings of the entire university are located sufficiently near together so that the students in one college may conveniently attend another college, this will very greatly increase the efficiency of the force and the breadth of the instruction. It is a great advantage to students in liberal arts to have certain courses in agriculture. It is of inestimable advantage to students in agriculture to be associated with students working in the liberal arts. This can only be accomplished by a consolidated university.

"The problem of the future development of the University of Nebraska is easy as compared with that of the state of Montana. There the agricultural college, the university and the school of mines are located in different parts of the state. In that state there is now a strong movement to consolidate all publicly supported higher education in one institution. That this will be a wise move for the state of Montana, there can be no question.

"In Nebraska the consolidation of the entire university can be made at an expense insignificant with the advantages which will come from this change. Very truly yours,

"CHARLES R. VAN HISE."

BISHOP OF KEARNEY NAMED

Rev. James A. Duffy of Cheyenne Called to the Bishopric.

TO HEAD IMMENSE TERRITORY

He Will Be the Youngest Catholic Bishop in America, Being Two Years Younger Than Bishop McGovern.

Rev. James A. Duffy, pastor of the cathedral at Cheyenne, has been named the bishop of the new diocese of Kearney in Nebraska, according to a cablegram received by the True Voice from Rome. He is the youngest bishop in America, being two years the junior of Bishop McGovern of Cheyenne. He is 38 years of age and was born in St. Paul, where he was educated, graduated from the seminary there and obtained a priest in his home town. For some time he was a prefect at the St. Paul seminary and he and Father Gannon, editor of the True Voice, who studied there, became close friends.

Upon being ordained Father Duffy became assistant to Father Keane at Minneapolis, where he remained three years. He was pastor at Le Sueur, Minn., about two years after Father Keane, now archbishop, had been appointed bishop of the Cheyenne diocese. Father Duffy was transferred to Cheyenne as pastor of the cathedral in 1905. He has been there since that time, with the exception of six months' pastorate at Komere.

The new bishop is highly spoken of and is considered one who is very competent to handle the new charge. He has been very successful in all the parishes and has won favor with all people he has come in contact with.

Extent of Work.

About one-half of Nebraska is embraced in the new diocese of Kearney, created last March on a petition sent the preceding December. About 28,000 square miles of territory and thirty counties are within its boundaries. They are: Buffalo, parts of Dawes and Keith counties, Custer, Sherman, Valley, Garfield, Loup, Blaine, Brown, Rock, Keya Paha, Cherry, Grant, Hooker, Thomas, McPherson, Logan, Garden, Jewell, Sheridan, Sioux, Box Butte, Scott's Bluff, Banner, Kimball, Cheyenne and Morrill. The Catholic population is about 14,000 and the number of churches fifty-six.

There are twenty-one parishes, thirty-five missions and twenty-six stations, one academy, four parochial schools with over 600 pupils in the new diocese.

Setting apart the new diocese of Kearney leaves the diocese of Omaha an area of about 15,000 square miles with 120 diocesan priests and thirty-six priests of religious orders and 193 parishes with a Catholic population of about 75,000.

When the vicariate of Nebraska was established with Omaha as its see city in 1867, its territory embraced all of what are now the states of Nebraska, Wyoming and Montana and South Dakota west of the Missouri river. From that territory six new dioceses have since been formed at different times.

When Bishop McGovern came to Omaha in 1897, he found three parishes and two churches in the vast territory included in his vicariate. There are now in the same territory seven dioceses, 430 priests, 322 churches, and a Catholic population of about 250,000.

In selecting a bishop the consultants nominated three, the consultants being Monsignor Colaneri, Dean Jonette, Dean Wolff, Rev. John T. Smith, Rev. James Ahern, Rev. John Kravak. Their list after review by the bishops, who also make a list, went on to Rome some months ago to be passed upon and recommended to the pope.

Boy Pleads Guilty to Robbery and Gets Long Sentence

IOWA FALLS, Ia., Jan. 25.—(Special.)—George Gilchrist, who was arrested here last week on orders from the Cedar Rapids police, waived preliminary examination and indictment, and pleading guilty, asked for immediate sentence. Judge Milo P. Smith sentenced the young man, who is under 19 years of age, to be confined in the reformatory at Anamosa for not more than twenty years or less than ten years. Gilchrist pleaded guilty to robbery when armed and of attempting to use a deadly weapon. The young man is said to have followed the hold-up game for the sake of a woman, who formerly lived at Tama, and whose husband is now an invalid at Cherokee. While his arrest and arraignment was based on a raid of a restaurant in Cedar Rapids, the police are of the opinion that he is chargeable with similar crimes at Hannibal, Mo., and Tama, Ia. He is said to have been accompanied on these trips by the woman in the case and that the pair spent the most of the proceeds of the gains in St. Louis.

Court Holds Death of Cow to Be Act of God

SHENANDOAH, Ia., Jan. 25.—(Special.)—When the wind blows away the top of a box car as a freight train is passing through a farmer's field and the top of that car hits and kills the farmer's registered cow, it is an act of God, and the railroad company is not liable unless it can be proven that the car was defective when it left the yards. This was the decision of Judge G. H. Chasle, when he directed a verdict for the defendant in the case of Jerry Maher of Imogene against the receivers of the Wabash railroad, tried in the superior court Thursday. The contest was one of the most interesting ever tried in the Shenandoah court.

Iowa News Notes.

MONTICELLI, Ia.—While temporarily mentally unbalanced, Dunce Wymore, aged 23, a farmer near here, attempted to commit suicide by drinking carbolic acid. Although he is faithfully burned, it is thought he will live.

DUNN'S REVIEW OF TRADE

Fundamental Conditions Still Continue Very Satisfactory.

MILD WINTER HAS ITS EFFECT

Warm Weather Causes Some Recession of Activity in Certain Trades and Increases in Other Quarters.

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—Dunn's Review of Trade today says:

Fundamental conditions continue very satisfactory and except in the securities market, which has displayed more or less uncertainty, there has been no change in the general feeling of confidence. Current reports from leading mercantile and industrial centers are especially cheerful, both as to present operations and the immediate outlook. The remarkable winter weather in producing different effects in different localities and branches of business causing some recession of activity in certain trades and an increase in other quarters.

The absence of heavy snow over the eastern part of the country has been very favorable to railroad traffic. Foreign demand for gold continues a feature and New York has been called upon to part with substantial quantities of the precious metal. Money rates, however, remain distinctly easy.

BRADSTREET'S TRADE REVIEW

Irregularity in Reports Due to Weather and Tariff Talk.

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—Bradstreet's today says:

Weather conditions and tariff talk have made for irregularity in trade reports this week, while financial feeling has reflected marked changes from peace negotiations in the near east. Rain and snow has been more widely distributed than for a long time, but this, while beneficial to winter-sown cereals, has retarded demand at retail and resulted in a continuation of food conditions.

In the leading industries there is almost unanimous report of activity. Coal is in exception, however. Mild winter weather has helped the building trades and iron and steel lines are also well stocked.

Labor has been well employed, except in the clothing line at New York. Advances in wages affecting 19,000 railway employees on city railroads are noted. The grain markets lost some of their earlier January strength this week, but price changes were not important.

The New York stock market is irregularly active, being restricted to wheat, including flour, exports from the United States and Canada for the week ending January 23 were 566,000 bushels, against 538,822 bushels, against 504,610 bushels this week last year.

Corn exports for the week were 2,611,000 bushels. Business failures in the United States for the week ending January 23 were 56, which compares with 48 in the like week of 1912. Failures in Canada for the week ending Thursday were 43 in number, contracting with 42 in the like week of 1912.

HALF SENATE MEMBERSHIP COMPOSED OF DEMOCRATS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—Democratic control of the next senate, which became a certainty when John K. Shields was elected by the Tennessee legislature

Thursday, now rests at the minimum strength of forty-eight, exactly one-half of the membership of the senate. Democratic leaders, disappointed in the recent loss of Senator Gardner's seat from Maine, are now watching Illinois, New Hampshire, West Virginia and Wyoming, in the belief that a democratic senator may be added to the lists from some one of these states.

Cannon Cherishes No Hope of Fame

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—Appealing to the house today to pass the senate bill for a $2,000,000 Lincoln memorial structure in Washington, former Speaker Cannon declared that it was a profanation of Lincoln's name to use it in connection with the promotion of a road project. "A hundred years from now," said Mr. Cannon, "the ordinary reader will recall this period and there will be in the mouths of the school children the names of Washington, Lincoln, Grant, Lee and Jefferson Davis. But you will have to search the congressional record and the encyclopedias to find out about the balance of us, who have been speakers, members of congress in the house and senate. Take Mr. Cannon, for instance. I have been speaker for eight years. They will say, 'It does appear that there was a man from Illinois by the name of Cannon, but I don't know much about him.' There was another man by the name of Cannon in congress from Utah and it was said that he had seventeen wives."

King Alfonso May Pay America Visit

LONDON, Jan. 25.—It is stated that there is a probability that King Alfonso of Spain will visit the United States possibly next summer, should the political situation in his kingdom permit of his doing so. It seems that Alfonso has been greatly interested in a trip to the United States since a visit to that country by the son of his minister of war. It is understood that the matter now is being considered by the Spanish government.
