ARMY OF WOE GROWS LARGE

More Recruits Enlist Under Emblem of the Double Cross.

SOON OUTNUMBER APPOINTEES

Disappointed Democrats, Failing to Receive Expected State Jobs from the Governor, Revive Their Opinions of Morehead.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Jan. 26.—(Special.)—The army of the disappointed, flying a flag emblemized with the emblem of the double cross, seems to be receiving recruits every day, and bids fair in time to outnumber the army of victorious appointees of the former.

It was Mori Parry of Hebron, while not disappointed because he did not receive an office, in fact he had thought in the interest of the welfare of the democratic party, that its government should receive some broad hints of what its attitude was liable to cost party and in payment for his party duty, was sent to the political scrap heap prepared by the governor, while his job was given to another patriot who did not understand the English language well enough to talk for publication.

Then came Tom Smith of York, who wanted to be a member of the Board of Control and was favorably looked upon by Governor Morehead. Unfortunately for Tom, however, he was not considered by the Bryan democrats as progressive enough to have a place in the Democratic cabinet at this time and he was sidetracked to the job of oil inspector, a position he did not care particularly about receiving. Mr. Smith can speak the English language very fluently with a scattering of Hibernian which sounds very musical, and in talking to the newspapermen he told them things about the switch that did not please the governor and while he did not depose Tom from the job of oil inspector, he deposited the job entirely and Tom has been left out in the cold.

Maupin's Labors Unrewarded. When he switched Mr. Smith to the job he hit another democrat who was down for the smooth job, Charles Pool of Tecumseh. Charles had been mighty accommodating in the campaign for the primary nomination, and when he saw that Dick Metcalf was liable to get Mr. Morehead's scalp he pulled out of the race, and as a result Morehead landed Pool was sure of oil inspector, but when Smith landed in that berth, Pool was out of it. In order to fix things up satisfactorily, seemingly, the governor then shunted Pool over to the job of labor commissioner, but in doing so he hit another of the faithful who supported him, had a dead game crotch on the labor job. His name is Bill M. Maupin. Bill had turned down an old friend and business associate, Mr. Metcalf, to support Mr. Morehead, because he believed a democrat should never be dry, and had done gallant service in the Morehead campaign, even going so far, according to Mr. Maupin, as to write all those nice things that Morehead fired at Governor Aldrich in his speeches about the latter being a double-crosser and all that. Still he willing to admit now that he got the two men mixed.

Then Leo Mathews was a sure winner for the position of private secretary, but another man got the job, although it was understood that Leo had been promised the place. However, Mathews was given assistant clerkship No. 7 in the house, and he says that he is perfectly satisfied and has no kick coming and the appointment of private secretary was perfectly satisfactory to him. It is thought that such as Senator Jim Brady of Albia in Mathews' brother-in-law, and that Leo has the way who shall be postmaster at Albia, which is his home town. It is known that Senator Brady engineered the deal which landed the assistantship in the house for Mathews and it is believed that the thing is all fixed, hence the ap-

Case of Weaver Next. And now comes another man to join the "back-to-the-farm" brigade. His name is Samuel Andrew Jackson Weaver of Superior. Mr. Weaver claims that he had the promise of special deputy field game warden at a salary of $600 per year. There are two of these positions to give out. Weaver has lived in Nebraska since 1908 and used to herd cattle with General Vinton in his Saline county. He says that he has been personally acquainted with nearly every governor the state has had and has always been a faithful democrat and supported the candidates of his party. He feels so badly over the turning down by the governor that he sent the executive a long letter yesterday.

New Convict Bill Ready. A bill by Senator Reynolds of Dawes county, which is similar to the Dodge bill introduced in the senate last week regarding the employment of convicts, will be introduced in the senate Monday. This bill goes a little farther than the Dodge bill, which provides that the convicts shall receive not less than 75 cents per day and that at least one-third of it shall be deposited in the prisoners' fund, and calls for a wage for the convicts nearly equal to that paid for labor of the same class. It also provides that one-half shall be placed in the prisoners' saving fund.

Yelzer to Intercede for Prince. John O. Yelzer expects to appear before the governor Monday and ask for a stay of sentence for Prince, the slayer of Deputy Warden Davis, who has been sentenced to hang in a couple of months. Mr. Yelzer, who is a member of the Pardon board, will ask for a six or twelve months' stay and quotes scripture by saying: "Let he who is without sin cast the first stone." Whether this refers to the beheading of the oil inspector's job by the governor as being a sin is not stated.

HEROIC RESCUES AT PAXTON HOTEL FIRE

(Continued from Page One.) Mrs. Garrett called to him that the hotel was on fire, Woods turned in the alarm. When the firemen came with ladders Mr. and Mrs. Garrett were in a more advanced state of preparation for their rescue than most of the other guests.

They sought shelter in the hotel lobby. There were 185 guests in the hotel when the fire broke out, and nearly two score employees. At least half were quartered in the Murray building. Those who failed to waken at the sound of the hotel alarm were roused by hotel employees. Especially active in the work of rousing the patrons were Proprietor Kitchen, his son, Dick, and bell boys Jimmie Murphy, Frank Woolsey and Jerome Daly. Later in the day a committee of traveling men made up a purse of $30 and presented it to the boys. This committee was composed of the following: George J.

Sternodorff, H. E. Nagel, C. C. Johnson, C. S. Dempster, F. R. Manning, J. C. Lewis, P. H. Blatun, Bert Strawbridge, Joseph Marshall, R. H. Hastain, H. Silverman, H. C. Harding and Dick Hargrove. The committee also voiced their appreciation for the efforts of the firemen.

Gray Hair Sign of Age. Easy Way to Restore Color. A harmless remedy, made from common garden sage, quickly restores gray hair to natural color. The care of the hair is just as important as to care for the teeth to keep them from discoloring. Why spend money for cosmetics and creams to improve the complexion, and yet neglect your hair, when gray hair is even more conspicuous and suggestive of age than wrinkles or a poor complexion? Of the two it is easier to preserve the natural color and beauty of the hair than it is to have a good complexion.
