LARGE SALE OF LOTS

In Cody's Second Addition and Scout's Rest Addition to the City of North Platte, Nebr.

COLONEL W. F. OODY

(Buffalo Bill) On the Grounds.—Lunch Served on the Grounds While the Purchasers Were Picking Their Lots.

NORTH PLATTE, Neb., Feb. 17.—(Special Telegram.) Today was the opening day for sale of lots in Cody's second addition and Scout's Rest addition to this city and the sale was up to expectations in every respect. Col. W. F. Cody (Buffalo Bill), the owner of the lots, was on the grounds and held an informal reception to all comers, the majority of whom were purchasers of one or more lots in the new addition. Lunch was served on the grounds and cigars passed by Agent C. P. Temple and then those present scattered out to select their new home site. Promptly at 12 noon, automobiles formed in line just west of the Union Pacific roundhouse and the workmen were invited out to lunch and to see the additions. The old Scout delivered a brief address to those present, telling a few stories and thanking them for the interest shown by the home builders of his old home town.

The tracts of the land in above additions are part of the old Scout's Rest ranch (the home of Buffalo Bill) and being adjacent to the new shops and roundhouses that is being built here by the Union Pacific Railroad company at a cost of $100,000, they are just ideal locations for the men that will work around these shops.

C. P. Temple, real estate agent at North Platte, Nebraska, certainly has demonstrated his ability in the handling of such tracts. The first tract of this land was laid out last fall under the name of the Cody addition and was opened for sale December 10th. This addition consisted of 120 lots and was practically all sold out in ten days. The sales for the opening day in the last two additions were forty-one lots, showing beyond doubt that these tracts are not going to last long.

HAS NOTHING TO ARBITRATE

John Latenser, County Architect, So Advises the Commissioners.

MAY ARBITRATE FOR DELAYS

Proposal is Referred to Committee of the Whole, Which Will Act on the Matter at Meeting Friday.

John Latenser, county building architect, has advised the county commissioners that there is nothing to arbitrate in the matter of extras of Caldwell & Drake, county building general contractors. His advice was given in a communication to the commissioners, in which Mr. Latenser noted a specific provision of the general contract that there shall be no payment for extras unless said extras were ordered in writing. Mr. Latenser said other differences of the county and the general contractors may be arbitrated if both sides desire arbitration.

County Attorney George A. Magney in a letter replying to the commissioners' request for advice said the board can if it chooses arbitrate differences resulting from delays in building construction. At their meeting the commissioners received and read Caldwell & Drake's proposal to arbitrate. The proposal was referred to the committee of the whole and will be considered by that committee Friday. John C. Lynch, the only commissioner who has committed himself, is opposed to arbitration.

Visiting Nurses Care for Many Who Have Tuberculosis

The Visiting Nurse association held its regular meeting in the parlors of the Paxton hotel yesterday. Mrs. W. R. Adams reported that in the last week five new babies had been taken care of by the association and nothing had been provided for them. Three nurses have been kept busy by the society during the last month. The report from Miss Stiff, who has charge of the dispensary for those suffering from tuberculosis, stated that there were from one to fifteen patients who called at the dispensary each day. At the present time there are sixty cases receiving medical treatment from those in charge.

Contract Let for Grading County Lot

Contract for grading the half block of ground in front of the new county building was awarded to F. O. Johnson, court house wrecking contractor, at 63 cents a yard, by the Board of County Commissioners. Johnson contracts to begin the work March 1 and have it completed in forty days, and gives a $1,000 certified check to secure fulfillment of his agreement.

With the grading finished April 10, or sooner, the county will be able to park the ground in front of the building and make it fairly attractive for the summer, though it will not present a finished appearance until the approaches are constructed.

Johnson's original bid for the grading contract was 53 cents, work to be done in ninety days. When the commissioners were about to award the contract to another bidder at a higher figure because of shorter time, Johnson agreed to reduce his time to forty days.

ERNEST NOLEN TO BE BROUGHT TO OMAHA SOON

United States District Attorney Howell has been informed by the district attorney at Memphis, Tenn., that Ernest Nolen, brother of Diggs Nolen, who was sent to federal prison from here, is to be brought to Omaha from Memphis within two or three days. He is charged with having been implicated in a plot to free Diggs Nolen from the county jail in Omaha, while Diggs was being held here pending his trial in the federal court on the charge of using the mails to defraud. Nolen is to be here in time for sitting of the special grand jury that is to be called for March 10. The special grand jury will have a lot of cases to take up here, as there are a dozen or more Indians in the Douglas county jail awaiting the investigation of the grand jury on charges of introducing liquor on the reservation, besides some white slave cases for the grand jury to work upon.

McKinney was given a $10 suspended fine and Jackson $15 and costs, also suspended.

OMAHA MADE BUTTER IS USED FAR FROM CREAMERY

Omaha butter butters bread many hundreds of miles away from Omaha. In a private letter to Dave Northrup, commercial agent of the Great Western, his friend, H. L. Fales, secretary of the Southern Spindle and Flyer company of Charlotte, N. C., says that Omaha made butter is the butter sold in the portion of North Carolina where he resides. He adds that the nearest butter distributing agency is 200 miles away, yet at Charlotte, Omaha-made butter is as staple as sugar and that no other kind is ever seen in the store.

Omaha Still Paying High Price for Corn

The fact that Tuesday Chicago received 1,334 carloads of corn and Omaha but 134, according to railroad men, does not mean that the first named market is making any gains over the local one. Illinois corn that has been held back on account of its bad condition is now becoming marketable and is being rushed into Chicago.

The receipts at Chicago yesterday, railroad men say, were the heaviest of the year and that day after day when Omaha was handling 150 to 200 cars of grain Chicago was getting around fifty to seventy-five.

All fall and winter Omaha prices on corn have been higher than those of Chicago, especially when freight rates are taken into consideration. The differential has been around 2 cents in favor of Chicago, but offsetting this has been the freight charge of 12 1/2 cents per 100 pounds for hauling from Omaha to the lakes.

Yesterday Chicago was paying 4 1/2 cents per bushel for No. 2 corn, while here in Omaha the price was 46 cents on the same grade, indicating that Omaha is the better market by some 6 cents per bushel.

Most of the Omaha corn continues to move south and it is seldom these days that a carload goes east. The Omaha elevators are still filled with the grain and the car shortage continues, while from all through the south continues the cry for more Nebraska corn. It is wanted on the plantations for feed and in the cities for milling purposes.
