

MRS. HUEGELE BRINGS SUIT

County Superintendent in Des Moines Sues Accountant. Declares Report Wrong. Suffrage Amendment Passes Iowa House, but is Killed in Senate Committee After Long Hearings.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) DES MOINES, Feb. 21.—(Special Telegram.)—Mrs. Jennie Huegele, former county superintendent, today commenced suit against George Poorman, expert accountant employed by the county board, for $5,000 damages on account of alleged defamation of character and misrepresentation regarding her and her office made in his report of the examination of the office last fall.

He reported a shortage in funds and that the accounts were very badly kept, and upon this a suit was commenced by the county to recover for sums said to be due. It is understood that the suits have been withdrawn.

Suffrage Men and Cold. The enthusiasm for woman suffrage, who this morning were in high gear because the house of representatives passed the resolution for a constitutional amendment by a big majority, became sad this afternoon when the senate committee on constitutional amendments recommended the same measure for indefinite postponement and will so report to the senate. The senators believe this will put an end to the matter for this session.

No Cause of Action. Profane and harsh words, "cuss words" in fact, when heard over the telephone are not a basis for legal damage action in Iowa. This decision of the supreme court was handed down in a case wherein Nettie Kramer of Franklin county sued Henry Rickmeyer for damages on account of "fright, shock and humiliation."

Supreme Court Rights. The senate spent the forenoon discussing the advisability of requiring that the supreme court shall in deciding the unconstitutionality of a law be unanimous. The bill came from the committee with recommendation that it be indefinitely postponed, and the discussion was on this report. The bill had passed the house and was urged by Attorney General Cosson. The report was adopted by a vote of 27 to 17, which defeats the bill.

New Bills. By Kimball—To increase the number of judges in the Fifteenth judicial district. By Mattos—To require a filing fee for recording mortgages of 50 cents for each $100.

By Gillette—To legalize the practice of "suggestive hypnosis." By Kimball—To make it compulsory that the additional $50 from probate fees be held county clerk's salary.

By Sullivan—Amending as to the bureau of labor statistics. By Webber—Workmen's compensation act. By Francis—Relating to instruction of jurors.

Road Measures Coming. The preliminary work of the legislative committee in the matter of highway legislation is about completed, and Chairman Balkema of the highway committee will soon present several new bills to the legislature embodying the best thought of the members. The general bill for a highway commission and for a classification of the roads has been completed.

Workmen's Compensation. Senator Webber of Wapello county has introduced in the senate an entirely new bill relating to employers' liability and workmen's compensation for injuries. This is somewhat like the bill recommended to the Missouri legislature after an exhaustive investigation of the subject. It applies to all industries and to all employees regardless of number. The employer may elect to come under the provisions of the law or remain out and take his chances with the present laws.

Where the Lawyers Disagree. Serious disagreement between the lawyers of the legislature over some of the radical reform bills has appeared. The senate committee on judiciary has reported for postponement the bill from the house which requires that in order that the supreme court may declare a law unconstitutional it shall be unanimous and have the decision in writing subscribed to by every judge of the court. Some of the house lawyers are insistent that this would be a proper check on the courts and would materially affect the status of laws that are questioned. A fight on the floor of the senate is threatened.

Northwestern Plans Track Meet for Girls

EVANSTON, Ill., Feb. 21.—Miss Hazel Woodhull, physical director of young women students at Northwestern university, has put forth a plan for a girl's track meet to be held in Patten gymnasium some time in March. The idea, which became generally known last night at the university, found much favor among the girls. Miss Woodhull said that there would be no trouble in having a larger percentage of entrants to take part in such a meet than take part in such meets for boys. The events would include twenty-five and fifty-yard dashes, running and standing broad and high jumps, a relay race, a shot put and a pole vault. The plans are to be finally decided upon by the women's board of control.

HOTEL PEOPLE ARE SUED FOR THE DEATH OF A BOY

Charles E. Fanning and the Chesapeake Restaurant company have been sued for $15,000 damages for the death of Benjamin Broomfield, a 16-year-old elevator operator, who was accidentally killed in the Savoy hotel, formerly the Oma hotel, on December 23, last. The suit is brought by Jacob Broomfield, father of the boy and administrator of his estate. The Chesapeake Restaurant company is sued as proprietor of the hotel and Fanning as owner of the building.

According to the petition young Broomfield was ordered to operate the elevator, though he was not familiar with its operation. Having brought the car to the first floor, he stepped out. With no occupants, the car began to move upward. To save the car and the building from possible damage the boy tried to run into the elevator, intending to check its rise. Its speed was too high and he failed to enter. He was caught between the edge of the car floor and the top of the elevator door and was crushed to death.
