GRAIN AND PRODUCE MARKET

Wheat Pit Flurries Bring Losses for Some of the Holders.

CORN BEARS ARE SATISFIED

While They Are Willing to Put Out Short Lines on All Hard Spots, They Refuse to Follow the Decline as Sellers.

OMAHA, March 5, 1913. OMAHA, March 5, 1911.

The rush which was made by scattered ongs in wheat to throw their holdings overboard was the leading bear factor in that market yesterday. Many of the holders have suffered severe losses on the present price recession and the pit was shock full of selling orders of "stop losses" description when the market was opened, and these orders continued in evidence during the entire session. It is not expected, even by the most evidence during the entire session. It is not expected, even by the most ardent bears, that declines are to continua indefinitely. In looking over the influences spread out before the speculative world in wheat yesterday one would be unable to inearth anything whatsoever that could be designated as a help to the holder. The seaboard reported sale of a small shipment abroad and Omaha, which was to lower sold and Omaha, which was it lower, sold twelve loads of No. 2 hard wheat for ex-port via the suif. The sales in Chicago of cash wheat amounted to only 60,000 port via the guif. The sales in Chicago of cash wheat amounted to only 60,000 bushes.

When she big stocks at the leading markets of the northwest as well as the heavy, supplies on farms of the United States are considered, coupled with the big visible supply and the larger shipments from exporting countries, the cash transactions in all positions were hardly worth mentioning. In addition to a flat cash wheat and flour market at Minneapolis, coupled with receipts there yesterday of more than double a year ago, were the reports from the spring wheat country predicting largely increased receipts at all terminal points, as farmers are desirous of escaping the tax on the srain now held in their hands. One road alone centering at Minneapolis was asking for 1,000 cars to be used this month in which to load wheat. An authority at Minneapolis says there are 14,000,000 bushels of durum wheat held there and which will be delivered on contracts in May. Cash wheat was in higher. Theybears in corn seem to feel that their bosition is the correct one. While they were willing to put out short lines on all hard apots yesterday, they refused to follow the declines as sellers. There was a great deal of bear talk indulged in argund the corn pit yesterday, while there was little of consequence that could be credited to the bulls. It is generally believed that the holders of May corn at Chicago are on on enormous scale and that the men who own that option know all the ins and outs of speculation, and that they are likely to give the bears all the rope they care to absorb in the short lines in the expectation of covering their contracts at profits.

Cash wheat and in case there is a good sized long interest in the expectation of covering their contracts at profits.

Cash corn was to higher.

Chash corn was to higher.

There is a good sized long interest a May cats, and in case there is a rice recession in corn, the holders of ats would be obliged to liquidate, possibly at losses.

Cash cats was unchanged to the lower.

Clearances were wheat and flour equal of 24,000 bushels, corn 257,000 bushels and ats 1.000 bushels.

Although London Cables Are More Cheerful, There is No Foreign Demand for American Shares.

NEW YORK, March 5.—Although trading was not on a large scale, there was asgressive buying at times today of the favorite stocks, especially Reading. Steel and Amalgamated. There was no sign of heaviness which developed yesterday's further declines in the early session, but were unable to make headway. Prices fluctuated for a time and then moved definitely upward. There was a scarcity of stocks around the early range, and it was necessary to raise bids in all quarters of the fist, the standard issues being marked up 1 to 2 points. Profit laking in spots during the afternoon cut into the earlier gains.

Some of the specialties moved irregularly. This was particularly true of the tobacco stocks. Pump issues were weak. There were no developments upon which the day's movements could be based, speculative conditions remaining unchanged. Although London cables were more cheerful, there was no foreign demand for American stocks. Money rates were caster and exchange rates showed a firmer tendency.

Copper stocks were benefitted by reports of active European demand. It was said that sales of substantial amounts were made at 15 cents for electrolytic. Domestic consumers, however, showed no disposition to enter the market freely. The February report of the copper producers, to be published this week is expected to show no marked changes.

The bond market was irregular. Total week is expected to the changes.

The bond market was irregular. Total sales per value, $1,850,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

> HOGS Both packers and speculators started out this morning buying hogs on a 56:10c higher basis. While the trade packers and speculators was not specially active at any time, wen at this advance, over half of the supply had been disposed of before 10 o'clock. By this time, however, there was a weaker feeling in the trade and bids were not quite so strong as they were earlier in the day. From this time on the movement was very slow and were earlier in the day. From this time on, the movement was very slow, and in some cases buyers even refused to make bids. A little later on buyers made an effort to clean up what hogs were still unsuid, but the prices they offered were not so good as those paid during the early rounds, and the trade closed with most of the advance lost.

about 153 cars, or 10,700 head, being re-ported in. This is about 6,000 head smaller than both one and two weeks ago, and over 11,000 short of the supply on the over 11,000 short of the supply on the corresponding day a year ago.

ni the end however, practically all the hogs were cleaned up and some sales made on the extreme close looked very nearly as good as the figures paid carly. The long end of the sales landed at $3.30 with the bulk at $8.3098.55, this latter figure being the highest paid. The quality of the offerings was better than anything that has been here this week, and the poorer grades of stuff were decidedly in the minority, a fact which materially boosted the day's average.

WISE MEMORIAL BUTTON DAY SALE TOTALS $870

When the day's receipts of the "button sale" for the Wise Memorial hospital fund were all in Tuesday night they totaled $870. This was in excess of the anticipations of the committee that had the work in charge and it is grateful to all who helped swell the fund. The benefit charity ball that is to be held March 25 is now occupying the workers and they are planning to make it just as big a success as "Button" day.

But while there is much talk about Mexican troubles all is quiet and serebe on the

PRESENT SYSTEM NOT ADEQUATE

In Times of Business Depression it is Not Elastic Enough to Meet the Fluctuations that Enwac.

The Omaha Real Estate exchange will end communications to Washington asking that currency reform be taken up among the first problems to be handled by the extra session of tongress. This action was taken at the weekly meeting following an address on currency reform by J. De Forest Richards, eashier of the Omaha National bank. Richards is a member of the National Citizens' league. which was preanized at Chicago about two years ago for the promotion of a new system of more elastic currency. He was accompanied to the exchange meeting by B. Haynes, secretary of the organiza-

Bichards declared our present banking roubles which bring about periodic paucs and business depressions are in the reserve and currency system which now is a system of separate individual banking reserves and rigid currency issue, These fundamental elements he said are managed so unscienticifally that in times of stress they cannot be used adequately to support credit, and when stress comes the whole fabric of credit breaks down under the strain and banks whose purpose it is to grant credit at such times are compelled to contract credits.

Richards said the problem is not exchisively a bankers' problem. "Who ioses most," he asked, "when banks are placed in a position where they cannot grant credit to deserving borrowers, but are compelled to call existing loans and force their customers to meet them at great sacrifice, when values on every hand are shrinking and avenues of liquidation are shut off by fears of the future? It is the business man who sustains the heavy
