LINCOLN, March 12.—(Special Telegram.)—The senate probably made a record today when in an hour and a half it passed twenty-five bills and immediately after lunch in one-half hour passed ten more.

The senators are already considering the advisability of doing away with the appointment of a sifting committee, believing that the senate can successfully dispose of the matter themselves by passing or rejecting the bills before them. When the big bunch of bills began to come over from the house it may clog the wheels of progress in the senate.
