KING OF GREECE ASSASSINATED IN CITY OF SALONICA

foreign office are without official news of the assassination.

The last previous report regarding the movements of the king of Greece was received in London when he attended a thanksgiving service at Salonika on March 8 to celebrate the fall of Janina.

Crown Prince Constantine is still at Janina with the Greek army.

Queen Mother Alexandra, who is King George's sister, had not received any news at a late hour.

SKETCH OF DEAD MONARCH

He Was Elected King of Greece Fifty Years Ago.

Few European rulers of modern times have had a more interesting and eventful career than George I, king of the Hellenes. He was born December 24, 1845, as the second son of Prince Christian of Schleswig-Holstein-Sonderburg-Glücksburg, who became king of Denmark in 1863, and Princess Louise, daughter of King Carl XV of Sweden and Norway. In baptism the young prince received the name Christian William Ferdinand Adolphus George and he was christened Prince William, without prospects of fortune, when he entered the naval service of Denmark as midshipman.

The young prince had made one or two cruises and was on the point of starting on another when, in October, 1862, a revolution broke out at Patras and Vainza, which two days later reached Athens. King Otto of the Bavarian house, who had occupied the throne of Greece for thirty years, lost his throne in three days. He calmly retired to Bohemia where he died five years later, apparently without regretting the loss of his throne.

The European powers were puzzled how to replace Otto. The crown of the Hellenes was first offered to Prince Alfred of England, second son of Queen Victoria, but the English government declined the offer. It was then offered to Duke Ernest of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha, who also declined it. Then it was that at the suggestion of M. de Chaudordy, minister of foreign affairs of the French government, proposed to the other powers to offer the throne of Greece to Prince William, then in his teens. Russia and England approved of the choice and the other powers followed suit.

Elected Fifty Years Ago.

The young prince was elected king of the Hellenes by the National Assembly at Athens, March 18, 1862, and accepted the crown, through his father, acting as his guardian, June 4, 1863. He was declared of age by decree of the National Assembly June 27, 1863, and landed in Greece on November 2 of the same year.

The first sale of property in the vicinity of the new million-dollar hotel since the hotel was announced has just been made and shows the effect of the new hoarding on the value of real estate in its neighborhood.

JUDGMENT IS ENTERED IN BREACH OF PROMISE SUIT

Judgment for $500 against Samuel Hill was entered in the office of the clerk of the district court. This was the amount awarded by a jury in Judge Sutton's court last week as damages for his failure to marry Mrs. Katherine McGuire and to give her property said to be valued at several thousand dollars, as it was alleged, he promised.

LIVE STOCK ENROUTE IS WELL TAKEN CARE OF

Railroad freight men say that with the roads, live stock losses among animals enroute to market were no greater during the recent storm than during normal weather conditions.

BOYS SHOOT AT CABOOSE; KILL FREIGHT CONDUCTOR

BELLEVILLE, Ill., March 17.—C. S. Boswell, conductor on a Southern railroad freight train entering Belleville tonight, was shot and killed by two boys, who fired revolvers at the caboose as it ran by.

1st. Immediately before the war the most unpopular and almost despised man in Greece, so disliked, in fact, that even an attempt was made to shoot him and his daughter, Marie, while they were driving, became the popular hero and he and his family were idolized by the easily swayed people. In their enthusiasm for the royal family the people even forgave the king that he had accumulated a large fortune by successful industrial enterprises and stock speculations in Paris and Brussels.

The king's eldest son, Crown Prince Constantine, was married at Athens on October 29, 1888, to Princess Sophie of Prussia, a sister of Emperor William, and his second son, Prince George, appointed high commissioner in Crete after the war, married Princess Marie Bonaparte in 1907. The other children of the king also became connected by marriage with the reigning houses of Russia and Great Britain.

Charles D. Beaton, the druggist, owning two-thirds, and Frank B. Keenan, owning one-third of a triple brick house at 1812, 1814 and 1816 Dodge street, made the sale to J. A. Eckles, a local investor, through the Payne-Slater company. The owners received $25,000 for the property. The lot faces the new hotel site and has a frontage of sixty-seven feet on Dodge street.

Once more, in 1897, trouble arose and the Deliyannis cabinet forced the king to go to war against Turkey, although he knew that Greece was not prepared for war and was certain of defeat. The war was short and would have been disastrous for Greece, had not the other European powers come to the rescue and put a stop to further hostilities. Not for any consideration for the Greek nation, but out of friendship for the king and his family, did the powers intervene, forcing Turkey to accept terms of peace which were more favorable for Greece than for the victorious Turks.

This seemed to bring the Greeks to their senses and make them realize how much they owed to their king. George

NEW YORK, March 18.—The death of King George of Greece will make no change in the Balkan situation in the opinion of George H. Moses, former American minister to Greece, who resigned his post last summer and now has business offices in this city. Mr. Moses said that Constantine, King George's son

BETTER GARBAGE DISPOSAL

Your invitation to your readers to make their suggestions to the charter makers through The Bee ought to be appreciated, especially by us women who cannot very well go down to the city hall to tell them what we want. I have lived in several cities besides Omaha, and in all of them they have very much better arrangements for taking care of the garbage. This is where something ought to be done for the relief of the householders.

CLEAN STREETS FIRST

Responding to your invitation for suggestions to the charter makers, I want to urge the importance of better street cleaning facilities. If it comes within the charter makers' scope of authority to provide ways and means of raising an adequate fund for this purpose, they certainly should take advantage of the opportunity to fill one of Omaha's long-

SALOONS FARTHER FROM CHURCHES

Here is one thing I hope our charter commission will do for us: Let them increase the distance between the church and the saloon. There is no good reason why a saloon should be permitted to plant itself right in the path of people going to church or Sabbath school. Every church that owns its own place of worship ought to have a free zone of at least two blocks around it.

STOMACH SICK, SOUR, UPSET AND FULL OF GAS? Pape's Diapepsin

In five minutes! Time it! All Indigestion, Heartburn and Dyspepsia gone and your stomach feels fine.

Wonder what upset your stomach— which portion of the food did the damage— do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in revolt; if sour, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented into stubborn lumps; your head dizzy and aches; belch gases and acids and eructate undigested food; and your foul, tongue coated—just take a little Diapepsin and in five minutes you will wonder what became of the indigestion and distress.
