HOUSE MEMBERS VOTE TO ABOLISH CITY WATER BOARD

Sharp Debate in House Results in Favorable Action on Anderson's Measure.

PEOPLE WILL CAST VOTE

Omaha to Decide Whether Commission Shall Rule.

FOR ELECTION COMMISSIONER

This Measure Favored, Governor to Appoint.

KECKLEY BILL FINALLY KILLED

Another Attempt to Revive It in Interest of Cut in Freight Rates Falls in Lower Chamber.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, March 21.—(Special Telegram.)—The house this afternoon in committee of the whole went on record for and against the measure. It favored house rule when it recommended the bill to place the water works of Omaha under the jurisdiction of the city commissioners, thus abolishing the Water board, amended to take effect when a majority of the voters at a special or general election vote for the same.

It opposed home rule when it recommended for passage the Dodge-Sugarmen election bill amended to provide the governing shall appoint an election commissioner for Douglas county.

As the latter bill came from the senate it provided the election commissioner should be appointed by the district clerk, county clerk and treasurer. The judiciary committee of the house gave the appointing power to the governor and the house sustained the committee over the protest of several members of the Douglas county delegation.

In discussing the bill to abolish the Water board, Mike Lee, in defense of his former employers, the Water board, started a show that for a few moments was intensely exciting and highly amusing.

Lee asked those who signed the bill as introducers why they wanted to turn the water works of Omaha to the "third ward gang" and to explain why they did not provide for a vote in all the towns which the Water board is trying to unite into a Water district. Lee then said a conspiracy existed between the "Third ward gang," Tom Dennison and the stock yards to wreck the Omaha water plant.

Will Let People Vote.
Notwithstanding Lee's charges and the fact that miniature copies of the World-Herald containing a cartoon to the effect that the charter commission was elected by the inhabitants of the red light district and an editorial to the same effect, were passed to all the members, and despite Senator Dodge's presence on the floor, the house insisted on giving to the people of Omaha the right to say at an election whether they wanted to support a dual city government or place all the government in the hands of a commission elected by the people. The roll was not called, but the aye vote was overwhelming.

Bollen wanted to get even with those members of the house who recently killed one of his proposed constitutional amendments providing amendments shall be adopted when a majority of the members voting on a subject favor it. He proposed an amendment which was adopted that before the Water board is abolished a majority of those voting at the election shall favor it. A majority of the Douglas delegation favoring the bill, gladly accepted the amendment. Then Bollen proposed that the special election be cut out and the question submitted at a general election. This amendment was killed.

Simon said the object of the bill was to turn over to the city commission the right to manage the water works. He explained that when Omaha adopted the commission form of government, it abolished the park board and the police board and each commissioner headed some department of the city government. Under the present arrangement the city now had to pay the city commissioners $1,000 each annually and pay the Water board $2,000 annually. A city attorney and attorneys for the Water board; the city engineer and engineers for the Water board.

He resented vigorously the statement of Mike Lee and urged the members not to be confused by Mike's efforts to throw dirty water on the question.

"He is only doing it to poison your minds," said Simon.

He expressed regret that a man from Omaha should say that the 10,000 people were under the domination of the "Third ward."

"I resent the idea of a dirty statement like this."

He explained the bill did not abolish the Water board, but left it to a vote of the people.

Anderson called attention to the fact that the people of Omaha had repudiated the Water board members as a candidate for a place on the charter commission. The fireworks became so conspicuous that Sugarmen urged the chairman to stop further washing of

Pennsylvania Will Not Grant Temporary License to Friedmann

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., March 21.—No temporary medical license will be granted by the Pennsylvania State Board of Medical Examiners to Dr. Friedrich Friedmann of Berlin, who asserts he has discovered a cure for tuberculosis. This statement was made yesterday by Dr. J. M. Baldy, president of the board. Dr. Friedmann told four local physicians that he would not come to this city to perform experimental work unless he should receive a temporary license giving him permission to practice here.

"We will never grant Dr. Friedmann a temporary license," declared Dr. Baldy last night. "In the first place, the laws of the state do not permit such action, and, secondly, the members of the State Board of Medical Examiners do not intend to make themselves responsible for Dr. Friedmann and his 'cure.' If Dr. Friedmann wishes to come here and treat patients and collect fees for treatment, he will be compelled to take the state board examinations similar to those taken by any other physician wishing to practice in the state. We do not object, however, to his coming here as a consulting physician and demonstrating his vaccine, and I think every physician in the city will welcome him if he should come under these conditions. We feel, however, that some hospital should take the responsibility, whether he is successful or not."

Dr. Friedmann's vaccine is a mixture of tubercle bacilli and a substance which he claims will destroy the bacilli. He claims to have cured several patients in Berlin.

Applicant for Coal Claim Knew Little About It

CHICAGO, March 21.—Evidence against Albert C. Frost and four others on trial before Federal Judge Landis for alleged Alaskan land frauds was offered today by Miss Florence Capron, formerly of Winnetka, Ill.

Miss Capron testified that she was approached in 1905 by C. W. Mirroles, former traffic manager of the Chicago & Milwaukee Electric railway, and that he induced her to sign an application for an Alaskan coal claim without her gaining any definite understanding of what she was signing. Mr. Frost at this time was head of the electric railway.

"I don't recall any of the conversation I had with Mr. Mirroles," said the witness, "because it made so little impression on my mind. I knew in a general way that Mr. Frost was interested in an Alaskan railroad and that Mr. Mirroles also was interested in the same project. He asked me to sign and as a favor I signed."

"Did you have any personal interest in the matter?" asked Attorney D. B. Townsend, special assistant attorney general.

"Oh, none at all," replied Miss Capron. "When did you first really know what the papers you signed were about?"

"When I was called before the grand jury several weeks ago."

Hair Found Stored in a Secret Cellar on Musica Premises

NEW YORK, March 21.—Creditors of Antonio Musica and his son Phillip, the hair importers who are under arrest in New Orleans charged here with obtaining $1,000,000 from twenty-two banks through fraudulent invoices, learned today that human hair valued at $300,000 had been found in a secret subcellar of a stable owned by the Musica in the Bay Ridge section of Brooklyn.

Deputy sheriffs made the discovery while conducting a search on a writ of attachment yesterday. They found 21 bags of fine quality hair stored in the cellar. An expert appraised it as worth as much as $300,000. Search also was made of the Musica residence and the house was found to have been shorn of many of its more valuable furnishings.

Gardner Will Not Accept Pension Job

WASHINGTON, March 21.—Senator Obadiah Gardner of Maine having refused the job of commissioner of pensions, it was learned today friends of Dr. D. C. Gensch of New Philadelphia, O., have renewed their efforts on his behalf for the place. There are a number of other aspirants for the place, however, and Secretary Lane is understood to be canvassing the field carefully.

Mr. Gardner is credited with refusing the offer because he and his friends do not believe the place "was big enough," but his friends ventured the opinion that he "deserved something better."

Mr. Gardner had been prominently mentioned for the position of secretary of agriculture when President Wilson was making up his cabinet.

There are a number of candidates anxious for the place, among them several from Indiana, backed by the Indiana delegation in congress.

John Bell of Illinois also is said to have strong backing.

EXECUTED UNDER THE OLD FUGITIVE LAW

Governor Gonzales of Chihuahua Shot by Madero Firing Squad Which Crosses to El Paso.

PROMINENT LEADER OF PEOPLE
Muhler, German Consular Agent, is Still Held by the Huerta Authorities, Despite Activity of Germans.

EL PASO, Tex., March 21.—Mexicans arriving at Juarez from the south today declared that they were part of a firing squad which executed Abraham Gonzales, governor of Chihuahua under the Madero government, a fortnight ago.

Gonzales was killed under the notorious "fugitive law," these Mexicans declare. The Chihuahua governor, his self-proclaimed executioners say, was killed before arriving at Torreón, while on his way from Chihuahua City to Mexico City, where he was to have been placed on trial for an alleged revolutionary plot.

At Jimenez the ex-governor was separated from six other prisoners, and alone in a single car drawn by an engine was hurried south. At a quiet place north of Torreón he was removed from the car and shot, say the men who admit being present.

Gonzales has been missing since his removal from Chihuahua nearly three weeks ago. He was one of the most prominent leaders of the revolt on. He was well known among American cattlemen before the revolution, being a cattle broker of Chihuahua City. He was educated at Notre Dame university, South Bend, Ind.

NOGALES, Ariz., March 21.—Max Mueller, German consular agent at Hermosillo, is held by authorities at the state capital, despite activity of German and American diplomats. While Mueller has been released from jail, he is said to be held a prisoner at his home.

Will Attack Cannon.
CANANEA, Mex., March 21.—A demand for the surrender of this place was received today by Colonel Moreno of the federal garrison here. It came from Colonel Cabral, commanding the state forces now mobilizing at Del Rio, midway between Cananea and Naco, on the border.

Cabral said he would attack in the morning and recommended that all women and children be removed from the place. Automobiles continue to hurry the noncombatants to the border at Bisbee and Douglas, and before the time of the threatened attack all women and children will have been removed.

Salazar is Undecided.
WASHINGTON, March 21.—Inez Salazar, one of the rebel chiefs in northern Mexico, seems undecided whether he will cast his fortunes with the Huerta forces or with the factions still in arms against them. Meanwhile Juarez is reported under a general Salazar is allowing railroads to be repaired and trains are running in and out of Juarez.

The revolutionists, Pereyra and Contreras, according to reports from Durango, have abandoned Cuernavaca and are said to be in retreat to the north. Durango is quiet, but without railroad communication.

Will Attack Hermosillo.
GUAYMAS, Mex., March 21.—It was said officially today that 4,000 federal troops will arrive here Monday to proceed against the insurgent state authorities at Hermosillo. The troops will come by steamer from Manzanillo, where they embarked from the neighborhood of Mexico City. Already about 1,000 federals are garrisoned here.

Only Forty Per Cent of Farmers Believe in Modern Methods

WASHINGTON, March 21.—More than 40 per cent of all farmers interviewed by government representatives believe that experience is the only way to learn how to farm. This percentage told agents recently sent out by the Department of Agriculture that they took no stock in farmers' institutes, demonstration agents, farm papers of Department of Agriculture bulletins as an aid to making the soil more productive.

Starting on motorcycle or on foot, four department agents traveled through thirty states, interviewing every farmer on the way and asking questions. This inquiry revealed the fact that of the farmers who got Department of Agriculture bulletins, 54 per cent read them and 48 per cent followed the suggestions contained therein.

Of those who attended farmers' institutes, it was learned that 54 per cent practiced the methods advocated there.

Mr. Bryan suggested that the city erect a statue of Thomas Jefferson as a companion to the memorial to Abraham Lincoln on the capitol grounds here.

NEW YORK, March 21.—Charles E. Finley, the New York banker, through whose efforts Dr. Friedmann was persuaded to come to this country with his tubercular vaccine, will give a banquet in Dr. Friedmann's honor Sunday night at Mr. Finley's country home, Great Neck, L. ## Grand Jury Will Take Up Case of Mrs. Eaton Monday

PLYMOUTH, Mass., March 21.—The grand jury will convene next Monday to consider the case of Mrs. Joseph G. Eaton, charged with the murder of her husband, Rear Admiral Eaton.

From her room in the county jail Mrs. Eaton sent a cheerful message this morning to her daughter, Miss Dorothy Ainsworth. "I want to tell you all not to worry about me," she wrote. "It will come out all right in a few days. Look after mother and don't allow her to become excited."

Mrs. Eaton had learned that her mother, Mrs. George Harrison, who is ill at the Eaton home in Norwell, was suffering intensely because of the shock of her daughter's arrest.

The widow herself appeared optimistic and accustomed herself to the routine of jail life without complaint.

The hint from official sources that a second arrest might be made involving the purchase of the arsenic in pure white powder that was found in the admiral's digestive organs, it was learned today. Thus far the police have been unable to discover where the poison was obtained or who bought it.

It was understood that the will of the admiral would not be offered for probate until the investigation of his death was cleared up. It is believed he left little more than an insurance of $5,000 on his life.

Securities Stolen from Man on Train

NEW YORK, March 21.—W. A. Hall, president of a magazine company, was robbed in the Subway yesterday of $5,000 worth of negotiable securities. The theft became known early today through an advertisement in which Mr. Hall offered a large reward for the return of the papers with "no questions asked."

Mr. Hall was on his way from Wall street to the Grand Central station to deliver the securities, which he had just ordered to another. He had placed them in an inside pocket of his coat, which he had buttoned. But when he stepped off the train at the station he found that one of the buttons had been clipped off and the securities were missing. He remembered three men who had jostled him in the train, but he declares he will not prosecute the thieves if they return the securities.

Barthou Will Head New French Cabinet

PARIS, March 21.—Jean Barthou, minister of justice in the retiring French cabinet, today accepted the president's invitation to head the new cabinet. He called on President Poincaré and informed him that as the result of inquiries he was sure of an ample majority to support him in the Chamber of Deputies, and also in the senate, at least until the electoral reform bill comes up again for discussion. It was the lack of support for this measure which brought about the fall of the Briand cabinet.

At exactly 1:31, as the sun shone brightly upon the scene, the door of the little stone building in which the death watch was kept, opened and the solemn procession began its walk across the yard. At 1:33 they reached the building in which was erected the grim monster of death, and one-half minute later Prince began his ascent of the stairs leading to the trap. At 1:35 the trap was sprung and at 1 o'clock, 48 minutes and 23 seconds, the physicians pronounced him dead.

TOMORROW The Best Colored Comics with The Sunday Bee

For several days before the execution Warden Fenton had been deluged with letters, telegrams and personal requests for permission from people from all over the state to attend the execution, but the warden believed that it was best that the affair should be as private as possible and only about thirty-five people, including the guards, were permitted to be present, although a large number were at the prison in hopes that they might be given a chance to get in at the last moment.

Among those present were the prison physicians, Dr. Williams and his assistant.

ALBERT PRINCE EXECUTED Slayer of Deputy Warden Davis is Hanged in Penitentiary.

GOVERNOR REFUSES CLEMENCY
Executive Says No New Evidence Was Produced at the Hearing—Execution is Without Special Incident.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
LINCOLN, March 21.—(Special.)—Four minutes from the time that Albert Prince, the murderer of Deputy Warden Davis, began his death march to the gallows he dropped through the trap and thirteen minutes and twenty-three seconds later was pronounced dead by the physicians in attendance at the execution.

He met his fate unflinchingly and walked with firm step across the prison yard, preceded by Warden Fenton, a guard on each side of him and his attendants following. He mounted the steps of the gallows with the same firm step and when he reached the top faced the crowd, glanced for just a moment down at them and then let his gaze fall straight ahead into space. Immediately the black cap was adjusted and before the spectators had realized that the time had come the trap was sprung and Prince was shot through the door, his neck being broken by the fall.

There was no struggle and apparently his death was instantaneous.

Spends Time Praying.
The night, his last on earth, was spent mostly in reading his Bible and in prayer. Only about three hours were taken in sleep. He awoke this morning and after consuming some time in prayer and reading of the Bible in the presence of his spiritual advisers, two colored preachers, his brother, William Hyde Prince, visited with him until about 11 o'clock, and then left for the city, where he remained the rest of the day.

Prince seemed to realize that his last hope for a stay of execution had passed at about 11 o'clock, but the thought that only a few hours remained for him to do as he pleased did not seem to worry him to much extent, and when he parted with his brother he said to him:

"When I fall to my death my soul will go straight up to heaven."

No Statement to Make.
When it came time to start on the solemn walk across the prison yard to the little building in the southwest corner, within which was the gruesome instrument which would take his life, he was asked by the warden if he desired to make any statement he requested that nothing should be said to him when he reached the gallows and that the deed should be accomplished as quietly as possible. His request was followed out implicitly.

No Delay at Any Time.
Executioner Stryker, who has participated in all of the executions in late years at the Nebraska institution, said at the close of the hanging that it was the quickest and best executed affair of the kind he had ever officiated at or attended.

For several days before the execution Warden Fenton had been deluged with letters, telegrams and personal requests for permission from people from all over the state to attend the execution, but the warden believed that it was best that the affair should be as private as possible and only about thirty-five people, including the guards, were permitted to be present, although a large number were at the prison in hopes that they might be given a chance to get in at the last moment.

There is nothing in the world so dead as a mummy.

And the nearest thing to it in deadness is the business of the man who doesn't advertise.

Put some life into your business. Keep it moving upward or it will slide back into oblivion.

The public memory is very short. You have to keep telling them about what you have to sell or they'll forget you and do their buying at the store across the street.

If you sell the kind of things that men buy, you can talk to the best buying men through the columns of The Bee.

Talk to them every day, and add extra emphasis to what you say to them on Saturday—the day so many men do most of their buying.
