Ringer Back Home. Attorney Dean Ringer returned yesterday from Lincoln, where he has been looking after pending legislation affecting South Omaha. He is much interested in a bill re-enacting the Gibson law, which provides for the appointment of three men as fire and police commissioners of South Omaha, and making the mayor ex-officio chairman of the board without a vote. The bill has been recommended by the senate judiciary committee for passage.

The charter amendments submitted by the South Omaha citizens' committee through Attorney Ringer have been recommended for passage by the cities and towns committee of the lower house.

The amendments submitted by Mayor Hector's charter committee, which were killed a week ago in the lower house have been brought back to life. It will be possible to go ahead with public improvements in South Omaha if the amendments to the charter pass with the labor clause stricken out.

MEN WHO STOLE BULLION HAVE CONFESSED THEFTS

George Stevens and Lee Carlisle, who were arrested last evening by Policemen Shields, Scanlan and Moran, while carting bullion bars away from a car on the tracks near the American Smelting and Refining company, signed a confession on Friday afternoon before Chief of Detectives Maloney and other witnesses. They confessed to breaking open the door of the car, extracting fifteen bars and hauling them to a junk dealer situated at Eighteenth and Cuming streets, where they received $25 for the whole. On the second trip as they were returning to the junk shop with twelve bars on the wagon, they were arrested by the officers. Each bar is worth considerably over $25. R. Finkelstein, 1222 Cuming street, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Detectives Ring and Van Deusen charged with receiving the stolen property. The merchant denied that he had bought the metal from the men. Finkelstein was released last night on bonds in the sum of $5,000.

BOYS FIND THAT CORN IN WRECK NOT THEIRS

Joseph, Willis and Arthur McCrean, aged 2, 11 and 8 years, respectively, have a heavy pile of pieces at their home, 2809 South Sixteenth street, which is the envy of every boy in the neighborhood. The problem of feeding these birds is one of much concern to the three brothers, but when two cars loaded with corn crashed into each other at Fourteenth and Locust streets yesterday afternoon the boys thought the problem had been solved and armed with bags went to the spot and loaded these sacks. But just at the zenith of their happiness a large railroad detective stepped in on the scene and arrested the three brothers and two others who were there. They were turned over to the detention home, where the little fellows spent last night, wondering who would feed their pets this morning. They are charged with incorrigibility.
