Subscribers leaving the city temporarily should have The Bee mailed to them. Address will be changed as often as requested. Be careful not to drink your saffras tea too early. Come again, Mr. Bryan, when you can stay longer.

The Home Rule Principle.

Everybody favors the principle of home rule, and particularly the principle of home rule in city government. But, strangely enough, when it comes to applying the principle, its loudest advocates too often hunt for an excuse to oppose it. Here in Nebraska we have taken a tremendous forward step in the adoption of a constitutional amendment, giving home rule to all cities having a population of more than 5,000—a step which has taken us years to make.

The Open Door for Railroads.

California, having succeeded, through its State Railway commission, in defeating the original plan for unmerging the Union Pacific-Southern Pacific, is now attempting to dictate a substitute plan that will make the Benicia cut-off an open door, admitting all railroads that may desire to run into San Francisco over that route.

Wisconsin and Nebraska.

In connection with the proposed enactment of workmen's compensation laws, it is pertinent to note the commendation of the Wisconsin law by the Outlook, which carries the name of the recent presidential candidate over that route.

Looking Backward This Day in Omaha

Compiled from Bee files. MARCH 23. Thirty Years Ago—The town is stirred up over a case of old-fashioned whipping of a high school boy, charged against Prof. Learned, temporary successor to Principal Hine.

SECULAR SHOTS AT PULPIT.

St. Louis Republic: Washington clergymen are all stirred up over the question of cremation and denounce it as pagan. Chicago Post: A Philadelphia clergyman favors Sunday bazaars to be preceded by a prayer.

AN EASTER POEM.

When from the Mount the Virgin went— The awful Mount of Calvary— Her slender form was weak and bent— Her smile in too great pain for thee, Ah, how hast tasted bitter wine, Gethsemane is his and mine.

Every Home Needs This Fine Remedy

A Mild, Reliable Laxative is Something No Family Should be Without. No well regulated home should be without a laxative for there is scarcely a day in a family of several persons that someone doesn't complain of a headache, of sleeplessness, or show the first signs of a cold.

MRS. J. W. ANDERSON. I am a mother of seven children, and I find it difficult to keep my bowels regular. I have used Dr. Lewis' Liquid Laxative for several years and find it to be the best and most reliable medicine I have ever used.

Effective. It is mild and gentle, pleasant-tasting and free from gripping. It does not hide behind a high sounding name and is absolutely free from any prohibited ingredient.

The Doctor's Advice by Dr. Lewis Baker

The questions answered below are general in character, the symptoms or diseases are given and the answers will apply to any case of similar nature.
