

RELIEF WORK IS NOW ORGANIZED, MANY ARE AIDED

Relief Distribution Systematized.
 For the systematic distribution of relief supplies, the territory has been divided into subdivisions, each in charge of a business man of known executive ability, constantly in touch with central headquarters at the city hall and at the Auditorium. At each of these sub-district stations two doctors are to be constantly in attendance, with the right to call upon nurses and hospital facilities as needed. For immediate necessities, resources and supplies are at hand, and means of transportation, through express transfer wagons and auto trucks, arranged for.
 The financing of the relief work, furthermore, has been under charge of a committee of business and professional men of highest standing, responsible for the collection and safe keeping, and especially the expenditure for proper purposes and avoidance of waste and graft.
Looking Forward to Rebuilding.
 More than that the city as a whole through those who have taken hold for the time being is already looking forward to what comes after temporary relief—the rehabilitation of the damaged houses, and the rebuilding of the storm-wrecked district. Plans are being perfected for clearing up the debris and providing the means for the work of building, which must go on upon a huge scale.
 Almost every merchant and institution has promptly and voluntarily offered to extend payments on obligations due, and to give credit to patrons who have suffered losses.
 The indomitable spirit of Omaha is shown in every direction, in the work accomplished and in plans for the future, and the striking note is courage and confidence.

CREIGHTON MEDICAL ASSISTING IN RELIEF WORK

The senior class at the Creighton college of medicine is serving on the relief staff of doctors now on duty in relief work, while the juniors of the same institution are attending to emergency calls from different districts.
 Sunday night the students were marshaled and assisted in the relief work in the stricken districts. Since that time they have worked day and night at the hospitals and relief stations, rendering valuable aid. Classes were practically at a standstill Monday, and are still so in the upper classes.

Omaha People Have Relatives Not Heard From in Dayton Flood

A. V. Kinsler, one of several Omahans with property or family interests in Dayton, O., is still wondering just how much of a loser he may be as a result of the flood.
 So far as his largest building—the old Army black—is concerned, he figures that it is comparatively safe, as it was above the two bridges and dam that went out of the river and if flooded at all must have been from back-water, which could not have done much harm. But he has still another down—a business building, which was in greater peril, he fears. And then he owns some twenty renting cottages imperiled even more probably.
 He has been unable to get any word from these thus far, and is eagerly watching all dispatches.
 Jay Rosenthal, 338 South Twenty-fifth street, has relatives residing in Dayton, but feels that they are out of the way of the flood, but no word of their safety has yet reached him. His mother, Mrs. Matilda Rosenthal, and two sisters, Misses Sarah and Rena Rosenthal, all reside at 206 Maple street in Dayton.
 George B. Prinz, architect, 1013 New Omaha National Bank building, has sent several messages to Dayton regarding his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Prinz, and two brothers, Lewis and Charles, but as yet has no word regarding their welfare.
 Arthur Williamson, Omaha manager for the American Radiator company, is worried about his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Williamson, who, according to press reports, are near the path of the flood. He has been unable to get any answers from telegrams sent there. Mrs. Arthur Williamson, who is also from Dayton, is relieved so far as her mother, Mrs. Scott, is concerned, as she is now visiting in the east.
 Mrs. De Forest Richards and her mother, Mrs. William P. Callahan, formerly resided in Dayton, where they are still property owners, but they have not yet been able to get any word from there. Mrs. Richard's sister-in-law, Mrs. Vernon Clark, has not yet been heard from. Frank Callahan, a nephew, is also there and a message was received from him yesterday just prior to the bursting of the Laramie reservoir. Mrs. William P. Callahan and Mr. and Mrs. De Forest Richards still own their former homes there. Miss Elizabeth Hahn, housekeeper for Mrs. Callahan is also from Dayton and owns several houses there.

JEWISH RELIEF COMMITTEE OF FORTY WILL ASSIST
 At a meeting of Jewish residents at the Young Men's Hebrew association headquarters, a relief committee of forty was named to assist sufferers in the storm district. Harry B. Zimman, chosen chairman; Henry Monksky, secretary, and Sam Frank, treasurer. The committee will work with the general relief committee. Accepting the chairmanship of the committee, Mr. Zimman, said:
 "In the name of humanity this meeting is called to enable the Jewish people of Omaha to assist the homeless and afflicted men, women and children of our city. We have suffered a crushing blow, but will survive and our city will grow greater.
 "As well said in The Bee, 'No precautions of ours could have prevented this terrible visitation, and all we can do is to succor the injured, comfort the bereaved, house the homeless and help to put the lamed ones again on their feet.'
 "It must be understood that while we apparently meet here as Jewish citizens of Omaha, we have resolved to do our part for all that have suffered in this terrible calamity. In the past we have been called upon to help sufferers in other cities and states. Tonight we voluntarily meet to help our own afflicted sisters and brothers, be they white or black, Christian or Jew. Let those who will be selected for this trying work take hold with a willing hand and a determination to relieve suffering humanity.
 "HARRY B. ZIMMAN, President.
 "HENRY MONSKY, Secretary.
 "SAM FRANK, Treasurer."

RUMORS AFOAT THAT EXTORTION IS PRACTICED
 Are there any dealers who are charging extortionate prices for the necessities of life as a result of the increased demand due to the storm? This is what the relief committee wants to know. Rumors were numerous to the effect that some few dealers were asking the sufferers extortionate prices for groceries, clothing and coal.
 "I think that is blackmail," said C. C. Rosewater, secretary of the relief committee, when he heard the report. "An investigation will be made when reports like that come in from now on and we will take steps to have published the names of any who attempt such extortion."

Simian Cremere is Found Dead Back of South Omaha House

Simian Cremere, 27 years old and residing at 127 North Twenty-sixth street, South Omaha, was found dead yesterday morning at 10 back of his home with a bullet wound in his neck. Near by his side was a .28-caliber revolver with one shell exploded.
 Cremere and one Joe Bido were arrested several days ago, the former for drunkenness and the latter for stealing clothes. Cremere was fined $10 and costs in Judge Callahan's court and after paying it he still had $50 on his person. When found by the officers there was not a cent on his person and this led to an investigation at which it was developed that Cremere had told someone that he was afraid that he was going to be killed.

 Joe Bido and John Ross, both Roumanians, were arrested and the evidence since collected substantiate the suspicions of the police that these two men knew something about Cremere's death.
 The body was taken to Bernard Larkin's undertaking establishment, 431 North Twenty-fourth street, where it will be held for the coroner's inquest.
 Later information lead the police to believe that Cremere died at about 8 p. m. Tuesday.
 All lived at 127 North Twenty-sixth street and were employees of the packing plants.
MRS. H. H. PUTNAM IS IMPROVING AT WISE HOSPITAL.
 Mrs. H. H. Putnam, 5140 Burt street, who was in the drug store at Fortieth and Dodge streets at the time of the storm Sunday evening and who was unconscious for many hours, is improving at the Wise hospital. Mrs. Putnam, a clerk and Mr. Barnes were the only ones in the drug store at the time of the storm. They ran out in the street and Mr. Barnes was killed by being thrown against a telegraph pole.

 E. S. Macdon, 11 Bath St., Bath, Me., sends out this warning to railroaders everywhere. "My work as conductor caused a chronic inflammation of the kidneys and I was miserable and all played out. I was weak and had dizzy spells, and a friend recommended Foley Kidney Pills. From the day I began taking them, I commenced to regain my strength. The inflammation is gone and I feel better now than I have in twenty years." Try them. For sale by all dealers everywhere.—Advertisement.

Bilious, throbbing headache means bowels are clogged and liver stagnant—you need Cascarets.
 You're bilious, you have a throbbing sensation in your head, a bad taste in your mouth, your eyes burn, your skin is yellow, with dark rings under your eyes; your lips are parched. No wonder you feel ugly, mean and ill-tempered. Your system is full of bile not properly passed off, and what you need is a cleansing up inside. Don't continue being a bilious nuisance to yourself and those who love you, and don't resort to harsh physics that irritate and injure. To the Members of the Conservative Building and Loan Association:

After a close analysis of last Sunday's tornado, as affecting the loans made by this Association, we find that not to exceed Four Hundred of our Six Thousand borrowing members suffered loss. These losses run from a few shingles to total loss. Of those thus affected, more than 50% carried specific tornado insurance on their own properties. Their losses are being quickly adjusted and many of these are already restoring their houses.

Of those not carrying their own tornado policies, many are arranging for funds with which to begin the work of repair; a number being already at it. A considerable number of those whose properties are totally destroyed will not be able to rebuild, unless the public comes to the rescue.

To protect this Association, particularly the investing and savings members, we are carrying a blanket tornado insurance policy of $150,000.00. This does not assist or relieve those borrowing members who did not carry specific tornado policies on their own homes. Any losses accruing to the Association on account of borrowing members not carrying wind insurance, will be paid out of this fund. After allowing the most liberal estimates of loss, we find that the amount chargeable to the insurance company protecting us by this blanket policy will be no great sum compared with the face of the policy.

Our membership is absolutely safeguarded from any loss whatever, as in addition to this $150,000.00 protective policy, the Association has a reserve or contingent loss fund of $250,000.00 available if needed.

Our great effort right now is to assist those of our borrowing members who suffered damage by last Sunday's storm, in getting their houses in tenable condition again, and we will go just as far as possible in extending them financial assistance for this purpose.

On account of the number of inquiries being made at the office relative to the effect of the recent disaster on our business, we believed it best to make public the exact condition of affairs.

Board of Directors of The Conservative Savings & Loan Ass'n.
