GRAIN AND PRODUCE MARKET

Wheat Market Shows Bull Tendency with Price Upturn.

CORN SPECULATORS ARE TIRED

Trade in the Yellow Cereal is Extremely Dull and is Helped Only from the Upward Trend

Of Wheat.

OMAHA March 25, 1913

There was a bull market in wheat during the morning yesterday, with a decidedly good upturn of N cents for the late months and 1% cents for May from the close Thursday. The Liverpool market did not show the weakness expected following the late break in all markets on this side of the ocean Thursday. This was very surprising because Avgentine shipments were given very large at 3,104,000 bushels and the total supplies from south of the equator at nearly double those of a year are. Minneapolls stocks increased 175,000 bushels for the week ending today. Dulluth increased 400,000 bushels. There was no cash business reported in Chicago and the only export trade mentioned in reports were 19,000 bushels at Winnipeg. There was some builtsh news with an "if" in it at times during the session.

One feature was the claim that the thoods night reduce the whork acceage on lowlands it the plant had begun to the control of the control of the plant had begun to the control of the plant ha on lowlands if the plant had begun to grow. Another was that the two er three cold spells over Texas and Oklahoms the last few days may have done some injury to the clant. Strength was shown at Minneapolls when the May price want to 86. This arrows and the strength was shown at Minneapolls when the May price want to 86. This arrows and some life the strength was shown at Minneapolls when the May price want to 86. This arrows are strength was This encouraged some and Omaha. The marbying in Chicago and Omaha. The market appears to be without any decided tendency at the present, a little over selling one day followed by a good rally the next. Cash wheat was unchanged.

There is a tired feeling in the speculative trade in corn futures. Two or three times vesterates the Market was unchest. times yesterday the May price was advanced close to 53% and July at one time close to 54%. The trade was extremely dull at the time and the market was helped by the bull turn in wheat. The cash trade all over the country is paralyzed by the floods, which prevent business with the east Sentiment in the ness with the east. Sentiment in the Chicago trade is bearish, but there is a Chicago trade is bearish, but there is a hesitation about pressing the selling side of the market because on each break of any importance buil leadership is felt and sellers are obliged to cover with losses. Cash corn was unchanged to ic

Later reports from the flood country sided in keeping the price advance in check, it being held by some investigators the damage to wheat was confined to narrow strips and was more than counterbalanced by the benefit from moisture on the uplands.

Primary receipts of wheat were 543,000 bushels against 22,000 bushels last year. Statistics on seaboard clearances of wheat and flour were not completed.

Business in corn today was confined largely to local dealers. Though the tone was dull, light shipments kept prices firm. Buying of oats by elevator interests was the feature of trading in that coreal.

After a firmer feeling in provisions, a light hog run, prices eased off on a little liquidation. Article Open. High. Low. (Sone. Yes'y.

HOGS—Receipts were rather liberal this morning, but advices from other markets were of an encouraging nature and the feeling at the local yards was better from the outset. Shippers and speculators apparently had good sized orders and they started out but had been declared. they started out buying light and butcher weight hogs at prices that were any-where from strong to 5c higher. Pack-era seemed equally eager for anything on the light order, but mixed and heavy hogs were in very poor demand and prices for this class of stuff were at no time better than steady. Towards the close prices on all grades weakened and dropped back into about the same notches as yesterday, with the heavy offerings possibly a fittle lower than at yesterday's possibly a fittle lower than at yesterday's best time. From start to finish buyers discriminated against the heavies and only bought these grades under protest. Bulk of the hogs sold at $8.805.800, with good lights up as high as $5.5. The movement early was fairly active, but it eased off on the close and it was well along towards noon before the last hogs were dispused of.

The market has been rather uneven all week and not much change has been noted in either direction. Heavies have just about held their own all week, while

The week-end finds values in general on a sharply lower basis with lambs and wethers suffering the most decline. The bulk of the decent killing lames are now selling at a range of $8.1028.50, as against $8.4028.75, at the close of last week so largely 2505000 lower than a week ago. As usual of late the most inquiry has been for the lighter grades of good quality, though owing to a relative scarcity of for the lighter grades of good quality; though owing to a relative scarcity of such kinds, the heavier ones sold to a good advantage on some days. The lamb market was well supported by feeder buyers, who bought a larger percentage of the offerings than usual both on shearing and finishing account. Strictly feeding lambs are bringing prices around $7.0008.00, while shearers are moving mostly at $8.0008.15, both classes being generally regarded as about steady with a week ago.

Fat ewes and wethers are closing lighted lower, wethers showing most of the de-
