

Luther Burbank's Greatest Gift to the Farmers of the World

A MEMBER of the United States Department of Agriculture has made the statement that the Burbank potato is adding seventeen million dollars a year to the farm incomes of America alone. Although the Burbank potato was one of his first creations, Mr. Burbank has continued his potato experiments yearly, sincere in the hope and belief that he may yet give to the world a potato as much superior to the Burbank as the Burbank was to its small round predecessors.
