Body of Man Found in Field Near Exeter

EXETER, Neb., April 8.—(Special.)—The body of a dead man was discovered Saturday in Albert Biba's pasture, two and one-half miles southeast of Exeter. The body was in a crooked draw in a small water hole, entirely covered with water. The location is very near the center of the section a half mile from any road in either direction. The body had been lying in this secluded spot at least two months. There was a deep gash nearly three inches long in the right side of the neck extending from the base of the ear to the center of the throat, also a bruise on the left side of the head. The left eye was out of its socket and the right partly out. The man was fairly well dressed, but did not appear as a man of much means. At the coroner's inquest, receipts and other papers found on his person pointed to him as a Mr. Mowery from near Lincoln, who formerly lived at Archer, Neb. The coroner's jury gave their verdict as murder by a party or parties unknown. The body was brought to town and the telegraph and telephone were used to such good effect as to locate his wife near Lincoln. She arrived Monday, says her husband was subject to peculiar spells, when he would leave home and be gone for days or weeks at a time. The last time she saw him was about January 12, when he took one of his spells and left and was never seen alive again. A number of people remember the appearance of a strange man, who scared several women half to death one evening about two and a half months ago and peering in at the windows and acting very strangely. Many people have since come to think it a case of suicide, as an open penknife has been found in one of his overcoat pockets. The body was buried here.

Water Road Election at Columbus. COLUMBUS, Neb., April 8.—(Special.)—May 29 is the date selected by the city council for the special election for the voting of $10,000 water works extension bonds, and at the same time a proposition will also be submitted to the voters for the location of the proposed Shaw Carnegie library. It is proposed to locate the library building in Frankfort park. There is considerable sentiment against locating the building in the park.

Some Sensible Advice On Womanly Beauty

(From Martyn's Drug Journal.) Healthy hair adds much to womanly beauty. It is such an easy matter to have a glorious mass of lovely hair that the dull, "stingy" kind is inexcusable. A canthrox shampoo (which can be used at home and costs very little at any drugist's) removes every particle of dust, dandruff and excess oil and, after rinsing, the hair dries quickly. It makes the head feel good and leaves the hair soft, fluffy and easy to do up. Keep the skin clear, velvety and attractive and remove tan and freckles by daily applying a lotion easily prepared at home by stirring two teaspoonfuls of glycerine into one-half pint with hazel nut or hot water then adding four ounces gum arabic, which costs little at any drugist's. This lotion which is used instead of face powder seems part of the skin which it tones to a beautiful, natural color while overcoming the oily, shiny appearance of the face, so often due to the use of face powder.

First Unit of Genoa Power Plant at Work

COLUMBUS, Neb., April 8.—(Special.)—After an expenditure of approximately $60,000 the Nebraska Power company has demonstrated that it has in operation a successful hydro-electric plant at Genoa. The first unit is complete and this week it was connected with the Genoa city electric light plant and furnished the city for the lights in that city. The initial trial was successful. Engineers are on the ground and are preparing plans for additional units which will develop 16,000 horse power.

CUSTER SHERIFF LOOKING FOR TWO BAD MEN

BROKEN BOW, Neb., April 8.—(Special.)—Warrant is out for the arrest of Maurice Childs and Ed Fredericks, young men residing near Callaway, charging them with assault and carrying concealed weapons. At a neighborhood dance given at the farm of Jake Hearle, twelve miles west of here, Childs and Fredericks are alleged to have made their appearance, shooting up the place and creating a rough house in general. According to statements made by those present, Childs took the center of the floor, drew his gun and waving it around his head, informed the company that he had never seen a bad man and that he was about to give them a demonstration. Upon being remonstrated with by Edward Pelky, one of the guests, Childs took a shot at his feet. Then cleared his way to the door by shooting in all directions. Pelky is to this Fredericks had started to clean up the crowd with a pair of brass "knicks," but was quickly relieved of them by a bar-man. The two then rode away on horseback, and the whole neighborhood is now being scoured for them by Sheriff Wilson and his deputies. Childs has been posing as a bad man for some time past, and on more than one occasion been in trouble.

WATER LOBBY HARD AT WORK

(Continued from Page One.) The fight is satisfied the stock yards is carrying out its agreement with Howell and is not opposing the bill. The house spent the morning discussing the code insurance bill. Chris Gruenther of Columbus and John Brynes, formerly chairman of the democratic state committee, have joined the numerous water board lobbyists to add their voice to the support of the measure. Gruenther insists that he is a personal friend of Hitchcock's, so therefore it is perfectly natural for him to come here and help out his friend. Gruenther is also a candidate for internal revenue collector, and not having the support of Mr. Bryan, is naturally anxious further to cement the support of Senator Hitchcock. He knows nothing about the merits of the bill nor whether the people of Omaha want it, and cares less, but is for it because the Water board has a democratic mouthpiece that bawled out for him to come to the front. He said he expected to stay in town only a few hours and he really looked ashamed of himself for being here on such a mission. The Water board not only assembled here in person and had runners bringing out members of the house all day for consultation, but secured a circular letter from a bunch of Omaha bankers; but by tomorrow they expect to have a petition down here signed by a lot of Omaha and South Omaha people for the bill. In the meantime the Water board lobbyist may double cross the stock yards and try to bring this corporation again under the jurisdiction of the board, having used the South Omaha company in getting the bill from the sifting committee.

NEW TARIFF WILL PUT PAPER ON FREE LISTS

WASHINGTON, April 8.—John Norris of the committee on paper of the American Newspaper Publishers' association, said tonight: "The practical effect of the proposed tariff upon news print paper and pulps will be to admit news print paper and pulps free of duty from all the world without qualifications of any sort. Chemical pulp is also admitted free of duty from all nations with the exception that chemical pulp must pay $2 per ton from those Canadian provinces which prohibit the exportation of pulp wood."

INSURANCE COMPANIES WORK Very Much Interested in Defeat of Code Measure.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, April 8.—(Special.)—If the big eastern insurance companies can get the seat of Auditor W. H. Howard, said a prominent insurance man this afternoon, "they will feel amply rewarded for maintaining the big lobby which has been working for the passage of the code insurance measure known as S. F. 364." Continuing he said: "These big companies have attempted to get the auditor on their side and have been turned down by him in every attempt. A representative of the general council of the progressive life association of the insurance companies of the east has been in Lincoln for the last four weeks working for the passage of this bill and they are using every effort to make it win out because they consider it a slap at Mr. Howard. They are after him because he refused to endorse a proposition submitted by them in the early part of the session allowing insurance companies of the east to escape penalties provided for a violation of the Junkin anti-trust law."

According to this gentleman only two propositions in the code bill are of interest to the eastern companies. One of them is the section that takes from the auditor the jurisdiction of the insurance department. The other is that section which if it becomes a part of the law will cripple the home companies, which have made great inroads into their business. One of these home companies, because of the large settlements to policyholders, a system with which no eastern company can compete, is their especial object of attack and is in fact a thorn in the side of the large eastern insurance companies who are so interested in seeing this measure win out in Nebraska. "They know that they cannot influence the present senate and hence they are working for any measure that will take from him the jurisdiction of the insurance department of the state."

LOAN SHARK BILL PASSED

Simon Gets Enough Votes After Hard Fight on Floor. (From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, April 8.—(Special.)—After a hard fight, which at times looked like a losing one, Simon secured the passage through the house this afternoon of his loan shark bill. Bollen, in explaining his vote, said he had been requested to see who was behind this bill, and after a thorough investigation desired to inform the house that Judge Howard Kennedy had behind it and all the charitable institutions in the two cities; and Brain, in explaining his vote, said every humanitarian in the country was for it. Mr. Allison in reply to these two, asked God to help all these men and institutions if they were really behind such a measure as this.

Simon was enthusiastic in support of his bill and said: "If the loan sharks are for this bill, as has been charged, why is it that they have had five loan sharks and two lawyers down here since Saturday fighting it? This bill will put the loan sharks in hades." At this juncture time was called on Simon and he was escorted to his seat by the sergeant-at-arms. The bill passed with the emergency clause, with "Yeas" of Douglas, voting against it and Drusedow and Sugarman absent. Those other bills were also passed: H. R. 172—Railroads must furnish transportation for shipper of car of stock. H. R. 173—Repealing omnibus bill. S. F. 127—Providing for the sterilization of habitual criminals. S. F. 128—Requires railroads, irrigation companies and canal companies to construct proper crossings. S. F. 129—Raises the fee to be paid by nurses taking examination to $10. S. F. 130—Permitting Omaha to issue bonds to buy the Auditorium.

Governor Morehead Will Let In Competition on Service. (From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, April 8.—(Special.)—Following the lead of the senate and house, Governor Morehead today placed his approval on House Roll No. 3, the Fuller bill for the county ownership of telephone lines. This bill will allow any county to come into competition with any private lines now in existence. The full list of bills signed this morning is as follows: H. R. 437, by the House Finance Committee—Provides a $2-50 mill levy for the maintenance of the state normal schools for the coming biennium. H. Mileage Tax of Half Mill for State Institutions.

NO BUILDING FOR EXPOSITION

Town Will Not Be Represented with a Structure at San Francisco—Women Not to Vote Whether They Want Ballot.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) DES MOINES, Ia., April 8.—(Special Telegram.)—The members of the legislature on the appropriations committee have agreed upon not making any appropriations this year for the state institutions under the board of control, but to substitute a mileage tax of half a mill for a period of five years to be used by the board in the purchase of land, erection of buildings and equipment thereof. This follows the method in use for the state colleges.

The senate committee on appropriations today decided on refusing to make any appropriation whatever for the town building at the San Francisco exposition and the bill for that purpose will be indefinitely postponed. The bill to add one more judge to the tenth district was passed today to the governor and will become a law. The new judge will be named from Waterloo. The house today defeated a bill which had passed the senate to provide for a vote of women next year on the question whether the women of the state want the ballot. This disposes of the last of the measures affecting equal suffrage.

State Fair Passes. The senate indulged in a long and acrimonious debate today on the subject of issuance of passes to the state fair and especially with regard to the necessity for admitting free to the exhibitors and others connected with the fair. Amendments were offered and there was much discussion of the whole policy of the state toward the fair. In the end the amendments and the bill were laid on the table, which disposes of the whole matter for this session.

Boards of Conciliation. The house passed a bill providing for boards of conciliation and the arbitration of labor disputes. It provides for appointment of a board or commission where a labor dispute arises and in case of failure to secure a settlement in peaceful manner that a full report of the matter be printed at state expense.

The senate passed a bill to require reports of accidents to the state labor department and to make other minor changes in the law as to that department.

Other Bills Passed. The senate passed bills: Fixing penalty for failure of a bank official to furnish assessor with list of bank stockholders. Authorizing committee on retrenchment to fix salaries in the state library department. Authorizing food protection bonds. Providing a way for correcting errors in assessments. Concurring in amendments to a bill in regard to revoking license of doctors. The house passed bills: Repealing exemption from tax of state land leased. For correcting abstracts in counties with insufficient appropriations for aid of C. C. Patten. For inspection of gypsum mines. Forbing free transportation of goods by common carriers.

Probably Soon to Adjourn. The Iowa legislative assembly commenced today what will probably be the next to the last week. It is regarded as improbable that any arrangement can be effected for final adjournment this week, but nobody expects the session to hold longer than the latter part of next week. The motion for appointment of a sitting committee for the senate will be called up tomorrow. It may not be strongly urged, as there seems but little need for a sitting committee in the senate. The house has been working under a sitting committee for a week with great advantage and has passed a large number of bills. A great deal of important legislation has already been practically completed, but a few of the larger things will be unfinished, so matter how long the session lasts. This week there will be an effort made to reach an agreement on the utilities bill and a hard fight made to pass some kind of a law for workmen's compensation. But if the mass of smaller things are got out of the way early some hard work will be done on appropriations. As yet only the smaller appropriation bills have been acted on.

Workmen's Compensation. The ugly fight of the week is to be over a bill in the senate for a new system of compensation by employers to workmen for injuries received in their
