

The Society Bee-Hive

By MELLIFICIA. Thursday, April 8, 1913.

OMEBODY once said that a busy youth is the best possible prelude for a self-contained and independent older age, and if such is the case, there is every probability that a certain 9-year-old youth, known as Buster and residing in the West Farnam neighborhood, will be a captain of industry.

His genius was brought to my attention the other day as he was making contracts with other boys, some younger and others older than himself, to dig dandelions out of his father's lawn. He was quite a bargainer and considered bids all the way up to 15 cents per small basket measure for the work.

When asked on how much he was getting for the work he answered evasively, saying that it should make no difference as long as he paid for the services rendered him.

The mobility of his special talent interested me and after following the lead along a little ways I learned that he had first contracted with his father to clear the pest at 25 cents per basket, leaving a tolerable good profit of 10 cents and up

Goff-Thorne Wedding.

A pretty wedding was celebrated Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock, when Miss Fay Veletha Thorne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick William Thorne, became the bride of Mr. Charles Henry Goff. The marriage lines were read by Rev. Clyde Clay Cissell of Fremont, former pastor of the Hanson Park Methodist Episcopal church, assisted by Rev. C. W. McCaskill, the present pastor.

The bride wore white charmeuse, draped with embroidered white chiffon, and trimmed with French rosebuds. Her Marie Antoinette veil of white tulle dropped to the waist and was caught by a wreath of pink rosebuds. She carried an arm bouquet of pink roses. Mrs. Irene Lucas, a cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid and was gowned in white charmeuse, draped with pink chiffon, trimmed with pearls. She wore a Marie Antoinette veil of white, with a wreath of pink rosebuds, and carried an arm bouquet of pink roses.

The flower girls were little Miss Dixie McManis, who was gowned in pink, and little Miss Martha Lucas, who wore a gown of white chiffon. They carried bouquets of pink and white rose petals. The ring bearer was Master Edward Benson, who carried the ring on a white satin pillow. Ropes of smilax were stretched by Misses Ruth Fisher, Louise Lewis, Margaret Spalding, Edith Lease, Hazel Hegblade and Nina McCaulley, all gowned in white.

Mr. Walter Goff of Council Bluffs, brother of the groom, was best man, and the ushers were Messrs. T. L. Combs, Bert Horner, Wilcox and Johnson of Council Bluffs. Mr. Charles Cooke played the Lohengrin wedding march for the bridal procession and Mendelssohn's wedding march as the party left the church. Mrs. Bert Horner sang "Because I Love You, Dear."

Pink spring flowers were used in decorating the church and the bride's home, where a reception followed the ceremony. In the receiving line were the members of the bridal party, Mr. and Mrs. Goff, Mr. and Mrs. Thorne, Mrs. Mary Goff of Chicago, mother of the groom, and Mrs. J. A. Lucas of Los Angeles, Cal., grandmother of the bride. Assisting in the rooms were Mesdames Elmer McManis, John Battin, H. L. Adams, J. H. Walrath, Willard Todd, Clarke Shelby, C. C. Cissell of Fremont, Paul Havens, J. B. Good, L. M. Smith, the bridesmaids, the flower girls, gold brides, the ring bearer, finger ring; the maid of honor, a gold vanity purse, and the bridesmaid, a French Ivory fan.

Mr. and Mrs. Goff left for a wedding trip along the Pacific coast. They will be at home after July 1 at the Carpatha.

Grant-Hanson Wedding.
The wedding of Miss Minnie Hanson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Hanson, and Mr. Amos Grant took place Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents. Rev. William Boyer, pastor of the Walnut Hill Methodist church, performed the ceremony. Miss Avidia Moore sang "O Promise Me" and Miss Mamie McDonald played the Lohengrin wedding march.

The bride was gowned in white crepe meteeur, with tulle of white broad tulle veil, caught with real orange blossoms sent from California by Miss Etella Huesels, formerly of Omaha. Her bouquet was a shower of bride's roses and sweet peas. The only jewel worn was a pearl lavelle, the gift of the groom. Miss Elsie Hanson, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. Her gown was pink messaline, with overdress of white chiffon and trimmed with pink French rosebuds, and she carried an arm bouquet of bridesmaid roses. Little Miss Doris Headley, niece of the groom, carried the ring in a lily. Mr. Boies Grant, brother of the groom, was best man.

The bride presented the bridesmaid with a sapphire and pearl pin and the ring bearer with a bracelet. To the other attendants she presented bouquets. Mr. and Mrs. Grant went to Kansas City and other southern cities on a wedding trip, and will be at home after June 25 at 411 North Nineteenth street.

REWARD ARGUMENTS ALL IN

Judge Munger Now Has Dividing of Money for Capturing Bandits.

DECISION IN ABOUT TWO WEEKS

Kate Schnell Claims All of the Reward for the Capture of the Fifth Bandit—Many Attorneys Argue.

Arguments in the Union Pacific reward controversy were heard by Judge T. C. Munger in the federal court yesterday, and the case was ended so far as the attorneys and claimants were concerned. Judge Munger took the matter under advisement and will render his decision within the next two weeks.

Kate Schnell of Kansas City was the last claimant to be put on the stand. Through her attorney, Tate Matters, it was brought out that she discovered that there was a fifth bandit, who later was arrested. This bandit was Mathews, and Matters is claiming the entire $5,000 reward offered for his arrest and conviction, in behalf of his client.

Following Miss Schnell's testimony, the attorneys began their arguments. Each was given five minutes in which to state his case. The arguments chiefly lay in a discussion as to whether the police officers were entitled to any part of the reward.

High School Cadets Encampment to Be at Missouri Valley

The battalion of high school cadets is to hold its encampment at Missouri Valley this year the second week in June, from the 8th to the 14th. The cadets will go there on a special train. The camp is to be known as Camp McHugh. Thursday of that week will be visitors' day, when a special train will be run from Omaha to carry visitors to the camp.

The battalion consists of nine companies and the band and there are some 60 cadets in the battalion.

Captain F. G. Stritzinger, commandant of the battalion, made a trip to Missouri Valley Wednesday to look over the ground and determine whether or not the cadets could encamp there. He was met at the station by members of the commercial organization of that city and was invited to bring the battalion there. At a meeting of the commercial organization with the council it was decided the camp site should be allowed, the battalion, and Captain Stritzinger accepted it.

Dane Refuses to Be Branded With German Measles

A family of Danes has ordered Vincent McDonough of the city health department never to darken their door again and have appealed to City Recorder Michael to reverse a decision of a city physician. Members of the Danish family fell ill and the city physician called.

"You've got German measles," was the announcement at the conclusion of the diagnosis. The head of the family protested. He said he was proud of his Danish origin and was willing to suffer with any Danish disease, but he refused to be affected by any German malady. Dr. R. W. Connell says this is the first case on record of a man carrying his national pride even to his physical ill.

Ryder Would Have Civic Organizations Join Their Forces

Police Commissioner Ryder has returned from Chicago, where he attended a meeting of the City Planning association. Ryder suggested that this organization associate with the League of American Municipalities, which holds its next meeting in Winnipeg the second week in August. Ryder is president of the league.

"By joining the League of American Municipalities the City Planning association could attend the general meetings of the league and work as a branch division of the league to greater advantage," said Ryder. "I'm in favor of all city improvement associations joining forces and moving on together."

City Commissioner C. H. Withnell returned with Ryder. T. R. Kimball, who also attended the meeting from Omaha, has not returned.

Dunn's Idea Kills Dandelions Faster Than Mayor's Order

Women of the city are all excited over his announcement that dandelions are fine skin food, says Chief of Police Henry W. Dunn. He declares even men have called him up and asked if he was really serious or just "funny" about the medicinal value of the dandelion.

"And some of the men are eating dandelions today," said the chief. "Not only has the discovery resulted in a wide campaign on the dandelion, but it has interfered with recreations. Some of the golf players are punk since I made that announcement. The yep every few minutes to eat dandelions."

Newspaper Men Reject Invitation

Health Commissioner R. W. Connell is in with the newspaper men. Heretofore he has stood high in the estimation of the fourth estate, but he has made a break which disclosed his true state of feeling toward reporters.

"You boys have been talking about bad conditions at the posthouse," said the doctor. "I want to prove to you that everything out there is all right. You fix a date and I'll take you out there. I'll get towns and everything and..."

YOUTH TRIES TO JUMP FROM THIRD FLOOR WINDOW

J. G. Nichols of Alnsworth, Neb., and Belleville, Kan., employed at the Belmont restaurant, Sixteenth and Dodge streets, apparently received bad news from home and attempted to commit suicide by throwing himself from his bed room window on the third floor of the Belmont hotel, 1518 Dodge street. He was caught by H. P. Morris, a guest of the establishment, just as he was dropping over the ledge.

Morris caught him by one ankle and succeeded in pulling him back to safety. When the officers arrived Nichols was in a hysterical condition and beyond crying for his mother, no intimation as to his reason for trying to make way with himself was obtained. He was taken to the station for safe keeping. Dr. Fols stated that Nichols had imbibed too freely in liquor, which, in a measure, was probably responsible for his act.

SECRETARY BRYAN TOO BUSY TO ACCEPT INVITATION

Secretary W. J. Bryan has telegraphed the Commercial club declining the invitation to be a speaker at a banquet to be given at the club May 18 in honor of Brigadier General Frederick A. Smith, who retires from active service in the United States army.

Commercial Club Wants Trains for Omaha Shoppers

Endeavors will be started immediately by the passenger transportation committee of the Commercial club to secure better train service in and out of Omaha. The first improvement the committee will seek will be the rearrangement of train schedules to get visitors in and out of Omaha at more reasonable hours. Trains touching towns close to Omaha will be changed in arrival and departure time so that shoppers from these towns may get into the city early in the morning and leave the same evening, if the committee can influence the railroads. The matter of a subway connecting the Union and Burlington stations also will be taken up by the committee. Those who are working for improvement are T. P. Redmond, R. T. Byrne, T. L. Combs, Harold Thompson and Ward C. Gifford.

SCHOOL ATHLETE WANTS TO HAVE FOUR-LEAF CLOVER

Earl Turner, a colored lad attending Long school, has appealed to the principal, Miss Martha Powell, to find a four-leaf clover and present it to him before the fall athletic meet of the public schools, May 15. Turner is in class C and weighs eighty pounds. He will contest in the running and broad jump events.

"You remember that you found a four-leaf clover before the meet last year," Turner said to his principal. "Won't you see if you can find another this year? And, say, see that I don't draw No. 13. For you know this is 1913, and win so many hoodoos I simply couldn't win."

Money for Working Girls' Home is Now Available for Use

Trustees of the Working Girls' home, the founding of which was directed by the will of John A. Creighton, have been paid $177,453, the amount of the bequest after interest to date had been added and $9,400 attorneys' fees had been subtracted. The latter items resulted from the delay incident to carrying the will into the supreme court.

Out of the sum received by them the trustees, John A. McShane and John D. Creighton, will have to pay $12,477, including interest on the original amount of the tax, which was $9,000, leaving $165,000 available for the home.

Capt. Stritzinger to Assign Clerks to the Relief Work

Captain F. G. Stritzinger, in charge of the purchasing department for the relief committee, expects to shape matters so that he may be able to get away from the relief work by next week. He is anxious to get back to Fort Omaha, where he is stationed and where he has work to do. He has been connected with the relief work from the very first moment and has been constantly in charge of the purchasing department.

The War department does not aim to keep regular army men on relief work in cases of this kind after the immediate relief work is well organized and pretty well looked after. So beginning with next week Captain Stritzinger expects to leave a clerical force in his place at the relief station, so that he can handle the work by dropping in once a day for a half hour or perhaps an hour.
