HOWARD AND SIXTEENTH STREETS

Hermosillo, Chief Bute and Major Gutierrez are reported killed.

A celebration of constitutional sympathizers at Nogales, Ariz., during the night led to riots when government sympathizers interfered. The police dispersed the mob after making many arrests.

State Collects Bill of Thirty-Five Cents from Government

WASHINGTON, May 10.—The commonwealth of New Hampshire today lodged a claim for 35 cents against the federal government of the United States, and the worst of it is, the United States has to pay, notwithstanding that economy must be the watchword of the administration in the face of tariff revision.

Zealous state authorities in an unrelenting campaign against pests invaded the back yard of the postoffice building at Dover, N. H., and discovered three brown-tail moths in a lonely tree that sheds its shade upon the hard working postal employees of Dover during the rest periods.

The state "bugologists" without much ado destroyed the nests of the pernicious bugs and presented a bill for 35 cents, evidently at the established rate of 15 cents for the first nest and 10 cents each for the others.

The postmaster protested vigorously, with the declaration that he, himself, could have annihilated the moths without expense if the state had pointed them out. An issue was threatened and the quarrel was referred to the Treasury department. Sherman Allen, assistant secretary of the treasury, who learned diplomacy as an assistant secretary to President Taft, conceded the point. After a formal bill and voucher are rendered, a treasury warrant will be sent to the state.

Barn Burned at Ravenna. RAVENNA, Neb., May 10.—(Special.)—During a thunderstorm Thursday evening lightning struck the large barn belonging to L. P. Southworth, located in the east part of town. The barn was entirely destroyed, together with considerable baled hay and other property. Seven horses were taken from the barn and saved. A heavy downpour of rain helped the fire department to keep the fire from spreading to other buildings. It so happened that the general agent of the insurance company was in town, and at 10 o'clock Friday morning Mr. Southworth had a check for the amount of the policy.

CONVICTED MAN INNOCENT

Evidence Secured at Des Moines in Whitbeck Case.

ANOTHER MAN CONFESSES

Young Man Spends Four Years in Prison on Charge that He Helped to Be Without Foundation.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) DES MOINES, May 10.—(Special Telegram.)—Evidence seems to have been turned up to show that Walter Whitbeck, who is serving a long term prison sentence for the murder of his father in Fayette county, is in fact innocent, as he has all along claimed.

A detective in the service of Whitbeck's mother has been working on the case and claims to have secured new information throwing light on the case. Today the fact became known also that a man who committed suicide at New Orleans left a note and confession which indicates that he was the man who killed the elder Whitbeck, and that the conviction of the boy was all a mistake. State officials will make a full investigation of the matter.

Whitbeck has been in prison nearly four years, and was convicted on circumstantial evidence and sought to prove an alibi.

Mining Magnate Puts Blame on Pinchot

WASHINGTON, May 10.—"Gifford Pinchot more than any other man has been responsible for typing up Alaska," James F. Galbreath, secretary of the American mining congress told the senate territories committee today. He added that former President Roosevelt's executive order of 1906 withdrawing Alaska coal land from entry "warranted a revolution" and favored the bill before the committee for government aid in construction of Alaskan railways, but opposed a system of government lease of coal lands.

George H. Patrick, counsel for the Alaska Northern railway contended his company should have an opportunity to penetrate the interior of Alaska without fear of competition with a government aided road. He assailed the Taft administration which he said, "used its whole power to crush the Alaska Northern road."

Only Those With Good Looks Wanted as Omaha Teachers

Startling as this pronouncement of local educators may be, resounding hosannas will welcome it in the public schools, for at last the high hope of the boy who wants to love his teacher is gratified—the new shibboleth of Omaha's supervisors of education is: "Only good-looking teachers need apply."

"Every school teacher ought to be good-looking—all the women teachers, I mean," said Elias Holovitchner, president of the Board of Education. "I stand firmly for the attractive young woman in the public schools, because her influence is greater."

"Sure," said Nathan Bernstein, high school professor, "a teacher ought to be attractive. There is no doubt about her being able to do better work if she is prepossessing. Of course, I would exempt the men, but women teachers should be pretty. By that I do not mean they should have a pretty face or form, but a beautiful character, which shines right out of their faces. I have known women who failed, although they were well educated and capable, because they were ugly."

Prof. Bernstein cited certain cases of teachers—now serving in the Omaha schools. "This woman is not pretty," he said, "but she's so good that you think she is. And this one is not beautiful, but you forget all about it because there is so much character to her. You see it in her face."

If there are any ugly old maids who are teaching now and have made good they will not be fired from the force, but any awfully homely woman, who wants to become the instructor of the young, will have a hard time getting on the Omaha teaching staff.

"Ugliness should not be forever before little children," said a prominent local educator. "Deformity ought never, never be in charge of children. It would be criminal. Of course, after a time the children may become accustomed to homeliness and even forget all about it, but the teachers of the young should be normal in looks, intellect and character."

er road tax to whatever extent the dragging tax is levied.

The money is raised by a tax levied on the entire county and it is spent among the farmers, who do the dragging. It provides for dragging all graded roads when they need it and all at one time. Representative McGinnis and Schupp are the authors of a bill which is now in effect permitting the expenditure of the inheritance tax fund for any road improvement. Formerly this money could only be used for permanent improvements.

In counties not under township organization the county board is authorized to appropriate the unexpended balance from precinct bond levy to be used for road improvement in the precinct. This is H. R. 112 by Searle of Utah.

Under the provisions of S. F. 271, by Bushnell, the governor is authorized to appoint a highway commission of three members. The board is to act in an advisory capacity to county boards when requested to do so.

Ninety per cent of the one-fifth mill state aid bridge levy was appropriated by H. R. 234, introduced by Cronin of Holt.

Representative Mockett of Lancaster is the author of H. R. 41, which provides relief for local conditions within the corporate limits of the city of Lincoln.

According to S. F. 43, by Smith, the state engineer is required to furnish plans to county boards for all bridges costing more than $200.

Representative Pries succeeded in securing the passage of a bill for the marking of county roads on both sides. The surveyors are to do the work.

DEATH RECORD.

Dr. Charles A. Mastin. KEARNEY, Neb., May 10.—(Special.)—Dr. Charles A. Mastin, a former pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church in this city, and a prominent worker in the Methodist conference in this district for thirty years, died at the age of 84 years at the home of his son, Clyde T. Mastin at Elm Creek on Friday morning at 9 o'clock.

Dr. Mastin came to Kearney in 1894 and took the work of pastor of the local church, where he worked until 1905, when he was appointed chaplain of the state industrial school for boys in this city. One year later he again took charge of the local church and gave his entire time to its work until 1908, when he was appointed superintendent of this district, in which capacity he served for three years before going into the local work again in Kearney. Since that time he had worked in different cities in the eastern

OBJECTS TO BEING KISSSED

Young Woman Has Man Arrested for Making the Attempt.

DESMOND SAYS IT IS WRONG

Assistant Manager of Store Says Girl Makes Complaint Because He Was Forced to Separate Her from Pay Roll.

Martha Capacius, aged 16 years, employed in the glassware department of the Woolworth 5 cents and 10 cents stores, at Sixteenth and Douglas street, filed a complaint in police court charging Desmond Vanatta, assistant manager of the establishment, with assault and battery. Desmond was arrested a half hour later on a warrant issued by Sophus Nebel, Jr., and served by Detectives Dunn and Kennelly.

The Capacius girl, who lives at 1617 Dodge street, has been an employee of the establishment since February, and stated in court that she was sent Wednesday afternoon by Vanatta to the basement to procure some glass dishes. He followed her, and as the two were searching for the articles, asked for a kiss, and upon being refused seized the girl and holding her arms, proceeded to take one anyway.

Upon returning to the first floor Martha told several companions of the happening, and, on going home, related the occurrence to her parents. According to her statement she was given her time, presumably because she had told of the affair. The Capacius girl worked from 8 in the morning till 6 at night with an hour for lunch at noon, and received the sum of $4.50 for her toil. Vanatta stated that he had been connected with his firm for six years, holding down a responsible position, and in all that time no word of disparagement had been offered his employers by the people under him. He declared the whole affair to be a put up job to get revenge for having discharged the girl, who, he asserted, was unable to look after her work on account of the close proximity of the musical departments, where the ragged refrain succeeded in holding her attention to the detriment of the business.

Four girls were brought from the store and said the Capacius girl related the occurrence to them Wednesday afternoon, and also stated that at all times Vanatta had acted the "perfect gentleman" toward them.

In substantiation of his statement that there was nothing to the story, Vanatta produced Charley Scherer, employed in the basement at the time of the supposed stolen kissing, who said that he was near the pair the entire time they were searching for the glassware and saw no such event.

Judge Foster was up a tree for a moment as to what his decision should be, as Officer McGinnis, a neighbor of the Capacius family, was very emphatic in testifying to the girl's good character. The verdict eventually was that, considering the seriousness of the charge and the lack of evidence, he could do nothing but discharge Vanatta. The girl's father says he intends to take the case to a higher court. Vanatta is married and lives at 214 South Twenty-Sixth street.

PROBE INTO O'HARA CHARGES

from Davis. She said that the paper was meant as a club to be held over O'Hara, according to assurances given her. Later Davis asked her to sign a second affidavit against O'Hara, but upon advice of Fred Mortimer, a lawyer friend of Springfield, she declined to do so.

"Why didn't he want you to sign it?" inquired Senator Etzelson.

"Because he said that Davis might not keep his promise to keep the affidavit secret."

Throughout Miss Robinson, dressed in a trim gray suit and frequently brushing back the long green veil which fell over her pretty face, spoke in a clear, unhesitating voice.

Exonerates O'Hara. "I wish emphatically to deny that there was any improper relations between myself and Mr. O'Hara, or that that subject was even discussed," she kept repeating between the interrogations of Chairman Etzelson.

"Neither did Davis offer any money in connection with my signing the affidavit, were you ever married?" asked the chairman.

"Yes," the witness replied. "My husband was Foster Shriver of Springfield. I was granted a divorce from him last April. I am now living with my mother and do dressmaking at 713 South English avenue at Springfield."

Dental by Mrs. Inbusch. A special to the Journal from Madison, Wis., today denies that Mrs. Inbusch was a member of the Vredenburg party. The special says:

"She admitted acquaintance with Thomas Vredenburg, and admitted the possibility that she might have been in Chicago at the time in question."

"If I was in Chicago at the time, however," said Mrs. Inbusch, "I was staying with friends and not at any hotel. I have nothing whatever to do with this affair. I know nothing of it except what I have read in the newspapers. I have never stayed at the Hotel Sherman and never visited there with Mr. Vredenburg, nor do I know Mr. O'Hara. I never knew Maude Robinson, nor have I been in Springfield in two years."

"I believe that the bringing of my name into this is part of a political conspiracy against my father, just as the charges are being used against Mr. O'Hara by the saloon keepers and dive keepers, who resent his investigation."

O'Hara Tells Straight Story. O'Hara at the afternoon session told of meeting Vredenburg on the train January 17. On the way to the dining car Vredenburg was accosted by Miss Robinson, and Vredenburg, having invited O'Hara to luncheon, introduced him to the woman and asked her to join them at luncheon. His testimony was a complete alibi for January 17 after leaving the Lamb's cafe. His actions on the 18th and 19th were similarly accounted for.
