Agent of Textile Workers Maker Above Statement to Senate.

He Says Manufacturers of the Piner Grades Cannot Compete with the Outside Mills of Proposed Rates.

WASHINGTON, May M.-Announce hear no more tariff arguments after the country appeals for an extension of time. They will be disregarded, however, and all manufacturers who have inquired have been notified that they may file briefs up to the time the bill is reported to the senate.

Corridors of the capitol and the senats office building were thronged today with those who wish to be heard before the Tuesday night.

State Senator Samuel Ross of Massa thusetts, representing the United Textile Workers of America, appealed to Senstor Johnson's sub-committee today for not so great a reduction on cotton manufactures as is proposed.

Will Throw Men Out of Work Senator Hughes asked if he thought the proposed cut would reduce wages,

"No, it won't reduce wages," said Ross, because we won't stand for it; and the time is past in this country for any reduction in wages. We have nothing to do with the manufacturers' end of it, but we feel that the great reduction in cotton duties will throw men out of work. If the duties on the finer grades are cut it will put a heavy drain on the capitaltration of the mills. I don't think the cotton milis are over-capitulized, but the workers do fear that men will be thrown out of work because local manufacturers cannot meet fereign competition if the duties are too low," Democratic leaders determined today plan to hurry consideration of the bill in the senate. Henators Simmons and Hoke Smith declare that when the debate begins the senate will meet daily at 10 a. m. and continue to 6 p. m.
