EAST OFFERS BIG SALARIES

Nebraska May Lose Another One of Railway Experts.

WETTING RECEIVES BID

Chicago Corporation Willing to Give Him Six Hundred Dollars Year More Than He Receives in Nebraska.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, May 28.—(Special Telegram.)—It is becoming evident that Nebraska is known far and wide for something it raises besides corn, hogs and politicians. Last week the railroad commission was compelled to raise the salary of Rate Expert Powell because other commissions in eastern states were paying him of greenbacks in his face and daring him to come to them.

Yesterday Accountant L. E. Wetting of the commission was offered an advance of $600 per year to accept the private secretaryship to the president of a Chicago corporation.

STATE BOARD TO PARK STATE HOUSE GROUNDS

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, May 28.—(Special.)—The Board of Public Lands and Buildings have made arrangements for the completion of the cement walks and parking on the north side of the state house. The work on the south half was completed something over a year ago, but on account of lack of funds the north side was not started. There are now sufficient funds to complete the work. The flag stones are flat and about two feet square. They readily sell for 10 cents each, and in this way contribute considerably to the regular fund.

The work on the north will be practically of the same nature as that on the south, the walks all raised to the level of the lawn, the large plaza in front converted into flower gardens with walks about them and a fountain may be placed midway between the building and the street.

Wedding Party Goes Across Line to Make Ceremony Legal

PILGER, Neb., May 28.—(Special.)—To have the marriage ceremony performed in a cow and hog yard surrounded by bellowing cattle and growling hogs was the experience of Mr. Lloyd Doy and Miss Lovina Snyder who were married in Holt county just across the line separating Rock from Holt counties. No, they did not allow the rude hogs to sniff at them, or the steers to stare, merely out of idle sentimentality, as some people are married in balloons, or 30,000 leagues under the sea. It was a practical matter with them. It was a matter of making the contract legal and binding.

It was all because the mischievous brother of the bride raised a technicality in regard to the license being obtained in Holt county. Just at the moment when the minister was ready to conclude with the "I do's" and "I wills" the minister put a question to the bride, "Do you take this man as your lawful husband?"

The shy technicality hunter sat silent through most of the ceremony, and when it was almost over he arose and begged permission to interrupt for a moment.

"This couple," he said solemnly, although he could scarcely suppress a laugh, "will not be legally married if the ceremony is concluded here, as this is Rock county and the license was procured in Holt county."

Bloodhounds Find Trail at Bradshaw

BRADSHAW, Neb., May 28.—(Special.)—Bloodhounds were brought here Monday night to attempt to trace the men who robbed three stores here Saturday and at once followed it to a house in the northwest of town, where they refused to go further. They were then taken back and given the scent at another place and at once followed the trail to the northwest of town, where they were then given the scent at the third place with the same result. The owner of the house was not at home, having purchased a ticket for Hastings on the afternoon train Monday. Just what course of action the officers will take has not been fully decided upon yet.

HOLSTEIN CATTLE SALE AT LINCOLN ON JUNE 3

A sale of Holstein cattle will be held at Lincoln June 3 by W. F. Finnegan of that place. Mr. Finnegan has been in the dairy business and is in a position to know what constitutes a good dairy animal. The cattle he is offering for sale are all individuals that he has selected to use in his own business, and they would not be for sale at this time were it not for the fact that he is forced to discontinue same on account of the health of himself and wife, and also the pressure of other business. In this sale he is going to offer thirty-four head of cows, eleven heifers under one year old, and one herd bull. There are four registered cows in the lot and the balance are practically pure bred, but the papers cannot be furnished with them. They are a nice, clean lot of cattle all the way through and are all good heavy milkers. They are strongly representative of the De Kol and Marcelles families and are a nicely marked lot. They are practically all giving milk at this time and a record of their tests can be given, some being taken under the auspices of the Lancaster company dairy-men's association. He will also sell his herd bull, General De Kol Craddock. He is three years old and was sired by Craddock De Kol, a bull that recently sold for $1,000. A brother to General Craddock De Kol also sold for $300. He is a sire of proven merit and should go to head some good herd. Sale will be held at farm, one and one-half blocks north of Twenty-seventh street car line, Lincoln.

THINKS SHE'S A GIRL AGAIN

Memory of Marriage, Husband and Children Blotted Out by Train Accident.

Edward Ireland of Bargaintown, a hamlet eight miles from Atlantic City, N. J., was admitted to a room in the Atlantic City hospital to see his wife, who about a month ago was knocked down by a Shore Line express near her home and sustained a fractured skull.

She hovered between life and death for three weeks, but several days ago began to improve.

"Who are you?" she inquired when her husband entered the room.

"Don't you know me?" inquired Mr. Ireland.

"No, I don't recall having met you," said the woman.

"Mr. Ireland did not answer, but stepped outside the corridor and sent in their five children, whose ages range from 3 years to 15.

"The boys and girls clasped her hands and kissed her, but she looked at them with the eyes of a stranger. When they departed and the father returned again to the room she said:

"It was nice to see some young folks again. Those children were they that just left here?"

ONLY NEED ONE COMMITTEE

Senator Norris Gives Interview on His Reorganization Plan. CUT OUT DUPLICATE PARTS Party Machinery Too Complex at Present and Should Be Simplified for Greater Efficiency.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) WASHINGTON, May 28.—(Special.)—Senator Norris today expressed his conviction that the national republican congressional committee should be abolished. He believes it duplicates the work of the national committee, and that it would improve conditions to have the work performed by one committee.

There is no doubt that we have entirely too many political campaign committees," said Senator Norris today. "We have what is called a national committee, consisting of one member from each state. Then we have the national congressional committee, an entirely independent organization that is likewise composed of one member from each state.

POWERS GET OUT BIG STICK

Greece and Servia Told Time Has Arrived to Sign Treaty. PRACTICALLY AN ULTIMATUM

LONDON, May 28.—The growing displeasure in diplomatic circles of the great powers at the attitude of Greece and Servia found expression today in what practically amounts to an ultimatum, which Sir Edward Grey, the British secretary for foreign affairs, delivered to the delegates of the belligerents.

The communication, which was couched in strong phrases without ambiguity, made it clear that enough time had been spent in futile discussions of the peace settlement and that the moment had arrived for signing the draft treaty.

They were taken about the difficulties of spelling in a Washington club the other night when Senator Martin of Virginia smilingly said that he was reminded of a puzzled friend of his in Richmond.

The puzzled friend, the senator explained, occupied an office in conjunction with another young man. One afternoon the former was writing a letter when he suddenly paused and became very thoughtful.

"Say, Jim," he finally remarked, glancing across to the other, "how do you spell 'grapple'—with one 'r' or two?"

"Well," replied Jim, who didn't want to hurt the questioner's feelings, "if you are going to use any 'r's, I guess you might go the limit."—Washington Post.

THE BROWN BOTTLE BUGABOO

To our Clients:—Chicago, November 12, 1912. Please take note that we have recently given our opinion to one of our clients as to the relative merits of the white and brown bottles for beer, we wish to state that the ONLY advantage of the white bottle over the light bottle consists in the protection it affords against the influence of light WHERE BEER IS NOT OF SUCH QUALITY AS TO BE IMMUNE AGAINST A HIGH DEGREE OF STABILITY, so that they are practically immune to such influences as prolonged chilling and possible storage at summer temperatures, they become less sensitive to the influence of light, so that with the usual precautions no bad effect need be feared.

"FOR SUCH BEERS THE LIGHT BOTTLE IS PREFERABLE EMPLOYED because it can more readily be inspected before filling to insure thorough cleanliness, and because the finished package reveals at a glance whether the contents meet the requirements of the consumer as to color, clarity and freedom from sedimentation."

Our great store for boys is crowded with remarkable values. A more complete boys' outfitting shop than the one you will find on our second floor is hard to imagine. King-Peck Co. 16th & Howard. Formerly King-Swanson Co.

The fine taste dominates. Genuine quality—is not gauged by the volume of production, by color of glass in the bottle, or by extravagant claims of superiority. HIGH LIFE Beer, by virtue of the liberal use of fine materials, excellent brewing and proper aging in wood—is acknowledged to be the "finest tasting beer ever produced."

Miller High Life The Champagne of Bottled Beer. We use light bottles exclusively for this high grade beer—common beer comes in dark bottles. Miller High Life is a trademark of Miller Brewing Co. Brewed in Milwaukee by Miller Brewing Co.
