"Dresher is my dear hot weather friend

"I have learned to rely upon even depend upon, that man Dresher," says Miss Tony Dresser. "I need him the moment summer weather plays have with my pretty white frocks and things,

"No matter how I soil my walsts, dresses, skirts or coats, Dresher undertakes to clean them for me and usually has them to my home as quickly as a laundry would deliver a towel. Then, too, he keeps my white slippers white; he blocks my straw hats into shape and makes new gloves out of my old ones as rapidly as I notl 'em.

"Oh yes! he finished cleaning my parasol and belt, too - it's simply wonderful what cleaning work those Dreshers turn out and it is still more wonderful that they don't charge more than they
