CORN IS MOST PROMISING—Farmers Are Already Beginning to Worry About a Scarcity of Harvest Hands—First Cutting of Alfalfa is Heavy. The Burlington's weekly crop report made to General Manager Holdrege is just about as optimistic as any that have heretofore been issued. Reports had been current that Nebraska grain was suffering from lack of moisture, but this report, that covers conditions up to last Saturday night and takes account of the entire grain-raising area of Nebraska, drives away all anxiety and shows that with the exception of a small area in the extreme southwest corner of the state, the outlook for a bumper crop is just as good as it was three weeks ago. All through the state, with the exception of a limited territory in the vicinity of McCook, there was an abundance of rain last week, the precipitation ranging from one-half to two inches. Compilation of figures made by agents and their reports, verified by the superintendents, show the condition of winter wheat to be as follows, compared with the average of the last ten years: Last Previous Week. Week. Omaha division, per cent... 102 103 Lincoln division, per cent... 102 103 Wyoming division, per cent... 102 107 McCook division, per cent... 90 84 Estimates are Lower. Superintendent Allen, who is in the city, has this to say of the report on wheat: "On the three eastern divisions—Omaha, Lincoln, and Wyoming—I think the estimates could be raised 10 to 15 per cent and still be conservative. On the McCook division it is estimated that winter wheat has been damaged by dry weather from 25 to 50 per cent between Oxford and Wray on the main line and in the neighborhood of 25 per cent from Republican, Neb., to Oberlin, Kan., and from 10 to 30 per cent on the St. Francis branch. "Recently, however, there have been some very good rains over the dry territory, with the exception of along the St. Francis branch and the estimates of damage may be a little high. This territory is on the McCook division and apparently brings down the prospective yield on that section. "Superintendent Flynn of the McCook division of the Burlington is at headquarters, and in discussing the crop condition in the southwest part of the state, said: "Wheat is somewhat spotted out in our sections. There are some fields that have been badly injured by dry weather, while but a short distance away, there are fields where the yield will be very heavy. This brings down the average, but every where the quality is excellent. "Conditions improved. The weekly report of the Northwestern has not been compiled, but the data in the hands of General Manager Walters. The showing that is made in Northwestern territory in Nebraska is much ahead of one week ago. In every locality there has been plenty of moisture and cool weather has stimulated the growth of small grain. "According to the reports coming to General Manager Walters there is no place along the Nebraska lines in the Northwestern where small grain has been damaged in any particular. "Traveling Freight Agent Clifton of the Union Pacific is in from a trip as far out as the west line of the state and says that everywhere he has been small grain is in perfect condition and promises the heaviest crop in years. Demand for Harvest Hands. All through the southern counties of Nebraska, winter wheat is beginning to turn and the prediction is that with warm weather cutting will begin the last of this week and that next week, harvest will be in full blast. It is generally agreed that there is going to be a shortage of harvest hands and that high wages will be the rule. Already farmers are beginning to talk $3 per day and board. Railroad reports and reports of railroad men who have been to the country investigating the crop situation all agree that while corn is making good headway, hot and dry weather is badly needed. All through the southern part of the state farmers have plowed their corn the first and have commenced going through it the second time. There the corn is from twelve to fifteen inches high and is a very dark green in color, showing a healthy condition. From the central part of the state north corn has been about all cultivated once and is unusually free from weeds. It is conceded that at this time, as compared with the average at this season of the year, the condition is 100 per cent. The first cutting of alfalfa has been secured and it is the general opinion that it is the heaviest and best in years.

Lucy McBride, Shot by Husband, is Dead. Mrs. Lucy McBride, who was shot by John Jacobson, died Monday afternoon at St. Joseph's hospital shortly after 1 o'clock. CADETS AT MISSOURI VALLEY. Omaha High School Regiment Enjoying Annual Encampment. MARCH TO THE UNION DEPOT. Army Cooks Prepare the First Meal for the Hungry Lads—Camp is to be Called "Camp McHugh." Heralded by the blare of trumpets and stepping to the music of a Sousa march, the Omaha high school cadet regiment left the campus at 7:30 yesterday on the first leg of their journey to Missouri Valley, where the annual encampment is to be held. Bright and early all the cadets, in company with fond mothers, fathers and sisters, appeared on the parade ground waiting eagerly for the order to fall in. When the order was finally given, it was with alacrity and enthusiasm that every cadet complied. The lines were formed on Dodge street and the parade down Farnam street to the Union depot began. The regiment arrived at the depot, huddled the provisions in the commissary car, and then dissolved in order that a last parting farewell might be had with parents and less fortunate friends. At 8:30 the order for entrainment was issued and the cadets clambered aboard. The special train of eleven cars immediately pulled out amid vociferous cheering on the part of every person in or around the depot. The train arrived in Missouri Valley at 9 o'clock and was met by a delegation representing the town officials, who solicitously offered their assistance and cooperation to make the visit both a profitable and enjoyable one. Lines were formed at the station and the boys soldiers paraded through the town to the site of the camp, where they awaited the arrival of the baggage and the ever desirable commissary. Tents were pitched along the company streets which had been previously piped for water, while the cook tent, with the professional army cooks in charge, was served at the far side of the lot in time to prepare the first allotment of rations. Captain Stritzinger, after the erection of all the tents, announced that the name of the camp would be "Camp McHugh." The only drill scheduled for Monday was a company drill just before the noon hour. At 5 o'clock in the afternoon Lieutenant Colonel James Durkee held regimental inspection. During this parade he announced the rules that will govern the actions of the cadets during the camp. The camp will be open until 8:30 in the evening, until which time it is the privilege of the cadets to visit in town and become acquainted with their hosts, the townspeople. They may also purchase any of the accessories or incidental things that they may have forgotten in their hurried departure. By 10:30 all privates must be in bed with their lights out in the tents. The officers are at liberty to stay up until 11:30, at which time they, too, must extinguish their lights and go to bed. This will end the first day of real army life in the open for the cadets.

Conservative Will Not Reduce Dividend Rate. The officers of the Conservative Savings and Loan association report that the volume of business this year has been so large, and the increase in loans so gratifying, that the dividend of July 1 will be at the rate of 6 per cent per annum. On account of the reduction of the interest rate to all borrowers last October from 7-1/2 per cent to 5-1/2 per cent per annum, the officers had given it out that there would likely be a corresponding reduction in the dividend rate, possibly bringing same to a 5 1/2 per cent per annum basis. They now find that after the payment of all expenses and adding to the reserve fund, as required by law, the profits will be such as to require the maintaining of the dividend at the old rate of 6 per cent per annum.

Come Up Where You Belong! In the human body, "man-power" comes from food. But the food must be right. The gray tissue cells of Brain and Nerves are composed principally of water, albumen and Phosphate of Potash. The first two exist in every-day food, but phosphate of potash is frequently lacking. This necessary element is supplied in Grape-Nuts FOOD. Made of choice wheat and barley, it contains all the vital mineral salts of these grains, including the phosphate of potash so essential for proper nourishment of Brain and Nerves. Grape-Nuts food is thoroughly baked, digests easily (in about one hour), and thus forms a perfect complement to ordinary food in the dietary of the average person. Grape-Nuts—more than any other one factor—supplies both body and brain with nourishment up to the standard of Nature's requirements. If health and the efficiency which comes with it appeal to you, try Grape-Nuts! Ready to eat direct from the package with cream and sugar—and wonderfully appetizing. "There's a Reason" for Grape-Nuts. Sold by Grocers everywhere.

Two Engage in Gun Duel and One Hurt. Tony Bianco, 2311 Pacific street, and Louis Succanni, 1921 South Twenty-first street, quarreled early Sunday evening and after dire threats being exchanged the two parted. An hour later Bianco, accompanied by Joe Piglicca, strolling near Twenty-second and Pierce streets, carried Succanni on the opposite side of the thoroughfare. Bianco drew a revolver and fired two shots at his enemy, one lodging in Succanni's right arm and the other making a flesh wound on the same shoulder. Piglicca also fired two shots, neither of which did any damage. The two artillery men are being held pending an investigation of the affair. BEE NEWSIES ENJOY AN EVENING AT THE EMPRESS. Manager Harris of the Empress theater, had seventy-five newsboys who sold The Bee, as his guests for the first performance of the evening Saturday night. Moorhead Objects to Board Counter Given His Office. Election Commissioner Moorhead doesn't like the temporary substitute for a counter over which to receive voters' registrations, which the Board of County Commissioners has provided, and has served notice that unless better accommodations are provided the restoration bond election may not be held July 15, as planned. Mr. Moorhead surveyed with disgust the plain boards which have been put up at the entrance of his large office in the court house and remarked that he was "looking for Johnnie Lynch." County Commissioner Lynch is the victim because he is chairman of the court house committee. He has been out of town, but Mr. Moorhead was not disposed to give consideration to any alibi. "I can't use that," said Mr. Moorhead. "If I had had proper accommodations we would have started registering voters here this week, but nothing can be definitely decided now. It is certain that if we can't get the voters registered we can't hold the election July 15." It was Mr. Moorhead's plan to begin registering voters at his office the latter part of this week and to have registration day in all the precincts June 21. He thinks that many business men who decline to take time to register in their precincts will come to the court house for that purpose. Some early comers who wanted to register, appeared at the office, but were turned away. Mr. Moorhead particularly dislikes his pine board counter because he had understood he was to have a marble-topped one. He says he is willing to get along without marble in view of the need for haste and the fact that he is in temporary quarters, but he won't stand for what he has.
