SELLING DRUGS TO MINORS

Raid is Made on Drug Store and Three Are Arrested.

COMPLAINTS ARE NOW FILED

Jensen Led is to Be Sent to Kearney Following the Prosecution of the Druggists for the Sales.

Probation Officers Bernstein, Bosburg and McCauley arrested Dr. Robert Kelley and Mrs. Dora Brookdorf, proprietors of the Rex Drug company, Sixteenth and California streets, yesterday on a charge of selling cocaine to minors.

Assistant County Attorney S. F. Nebel, Jr., entered the establishment and was present when Walter Jensen, a former messenger boy, aged 17 years, purchased a quarter's worth of the drug.

At a word from Nebel the officers, who were nearby, arrested the proprietors, together with J. P. Rainey, 1111 North Twenty-third street, the clerk who made the sale.

Mrs. Brookdorf lives at 2613 Cass street and Dr. Rainey, who is physician for the Cudahy Packing company, resides in South Omaha. Both admitted having sold the drug on previous occasions to the Jensen boy and others, stating it was a regular thing with the majority of the drug stores in the city.

MISS LOUIS ESPLIN is the possessor of a Panama hat that is the envy of all Omaha women who have seen it. Miss Esplin has a sister living on the Panama canal zone. Her husband, R. C. Helms is in the employ of the government and the creation comes as a present from this sister and her husband.

The Panama that Miss Esplin is wearing is woven as fine as a piece of silk and is as soft and pliable, and in Omaha, or any of the cities of the states, would retail at $50., or more. These hats, or at least those of high grade, are all woven by the native women of the zone, the weaving being done under water to keep the straw soft.

With the Panama canal nearing completion, the number of visitors to the zone is continually increasing. The picturesque hats of the better element in the cities attract the northern visitors, and, of course, the observation is followed by the impulse, which is generally obeyed, to take one back home. It is not so many years ago that panamas were first imported into this country, and as more excursionists take the trip to the big ditch, so will the popularity of this style hat increase in vogue.
