AGENCY LAW AGAIN UPHELD

W. D. Starbird Loses His Action Against the McShanes.

DOUGLAS CASE IS REVERSED

Supreme Court Rules Where an Exclusive Contract for Agency, Recovery Cannot Be Had if Third Party Makes Deal.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Neb., June 16.—(Special.)—The case of W. D. Starbird against J. H. McShane Timber company, in which Starbird secured a judgment against McShane for $18,706 in the Douglas county district court, was reversed and remanded to supreme court today.

It was set out that the lumber company owned property in the Big Horn mountains costing $400,000; that the capital stock of the company was $250,000, all held by J. H. McShane and F. J. McShane. The business was involved in debt and would have to be sold, and McShane requested Starbird to sell the property and promised he would receive "more money than he ever had." Later an agreement was made to give Starbird $25,000. Afterward the property was sold for $152,500 and plaintiff demanded his commission of $25,000, which was refused.

The court holds that where an exclusive contract for agency recovery cannot be had where property is sold by a third party.

Blunt's Case Reversed. The case wherein Jessie F. Blunt secured in the Cass county district court a judgment of $11 against the Burlington railroad, claimed duty from relief department was reversed and remanded.

Blunt was 35 years of age when working for the company at Plattsmouth. Later he moved to McCook and again entered the employ of the company as "Jessie Blunt," putting his age at 25, and secured membership in this name. The court holds that fraud was used and he cannot recover.

Beer Bottle Case Again. The case of the state against Woodruff Ball, after another hearing in the "Beer Bottle corner" controversy, was again decided against the state. The order of March 12, 1912, that Ball pay costs was reversed, however, and the state will pay the costs.

Small Judgment Stands. Nathan H. Blakeley appealed from the judgment of the Douglas county district court on a judgment secured against the Omaha & Council Bluffs railway in the amount of $36 on the plea that the judgment falls to correspond to the injuries received.

The judgment of the lower court was affirmed.

Superior May Build Municipal Auto Shed

SUPERIOR, Neb., June 16.—(Special.)—At a recent meeting of the council of the city of Superior, the matter of the blockading of the streets by automobiles left near the curb was raised, and the following suggestion was made, which has given very satisfactory results today in its first trial.

All of the cars are to be run to the middle of the street at right angles to the curb, and stopped there. In this way patrons of the stores on that street can drive to the curb and unload their produce and transact such other business, and then when their car is wanted it is not blocked by other cars, and has not been in the road of other patrons of the store.

It is the intention of the city council to consider the proposition of erecting a sort of shed of sheet metal with an artistic or Japanese roof, along certain streets for the shade and protection of the cars so located, and this shed or canopy will be properly illuminated both on top and within.

Notes from West Point. WEST POINT, Neb., June 16.—(Special.)—Miss Lillian Koch of this place, and Miss Fern Solomon of Norfolk, formerly a teacher in the public schools at West Point, will form a portion of the party which will sail for Europe on June 15 under the guidance of Rev. Figures just made available on the 1913 assessment of the personal property of Cuming county show an increase of the assessed valuation of over $100,000 over the figures of 1912.

L. C. Ferriman of St. Louis, and Miss Anna E. Wood of Hancock, were married by Rev. E. D. Clark, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church. They will make their home in St. Louis, where the groom is in business.

First Wet Day in Stanton. STANTON, Neb., June 16.—(Special.)—Friday evening a heavy rain fell in Stanton and the town has been in a flooded condition ever since, for it was on that evening that the city council granted saloon licenses to Carl Schneider, Martin Flake and Fred Felsch. Saturday morning, bright and early, the saloons were open for business and everyone who has hitherto been thirsty was quenching his thirst with fire water. During the six weeks the town was dry the city jail was without an occupant. Saturday evening four men, who had absorbed an undue amount of liquor and engaged in a free-for-all fight, were arrested by Chief of Police White.

Odd Fellows' Hall Burned. FULLERTON, Neb., June 16.—(Special.)—At 4 o'clock this morning the Odd Fellows' hall of this place was discovered on fire and in spite of the strenuous efforts of the fire company it was entirely consumed. The furnishings, piano and complete paraphernalia of one half dozen or more lodges, the building was well insured but the lower part was occupied by John Porterfield with a stock of groceries and general produce on which he held no insurance. The cause of the fire is unknown.

State Architect Prepares Plans for Eighteen New Rooms Under Roof of State Capitol, Which Will Soon Be Ready.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Neb., June 16.—(Special.)—The drouth in the state treasury was relieved a little this morning when five counties listened to the call and sent in the following amounts: Dodge, $30,000; Pierce, $15,000; Cass, $12,000 and Boone, $7,000.

At the present time there is $53,000 in general registered warrants outstanding. From June 1 to the present time new registered warrants amounted to $115,000 while there was paid $100,000. It is not getting ahead of the game and it is up to the delinquent counties to respond with what funds they have belonging to the state and get them in.

Blanks for Phone Reports. The railway commission is sending out blanks for the annual reports of the telephone companies doing business in the state today.

Historical Committee to Mark Site of Merrell Mission

SPRINGFIELD, Neb., June 16.—(Special.)—The committee on marking historic sites, appointed by the State Historical society, composed of L. A. Bates of Springfield, Father Michael Schies of Plattsmouth and E. E. Lyle of Wahoo, met on the site of the Merrell Mission last Saturday to make some arrangements with the owner of the property about securing the right to have this old mission preserved as a historic site.

Clarence S. Paine, secretary of the State Historical society, met with the committee and took a survey of the grounds. The main building is still standing, but is fast falling into decay. The original structure was built of cottonwood logs and served as a fort as well as a mission. It was erected by Moses Merrell in 1836. The hills around still show evidences of the ancient Otoe Indian village that was located here eighty years ago. There are depressions in the hills around the mission showing the places where the Indians stored their grain and where are some larger circles where their large tepees were located.

In the center of the mission building is a large limestone chimney seven feet wide and four feet thick with a large fireplace in it. This chimney is twenty feet high and is in a good state of preservation. Three large cottonwood trees stand south of the mission measuring from thirteen to fourteen feet in circumference, and that have been placed there by the Indians eighty years ago. The mission is located three miles west of La Platte in Sarpy county and in a beautiful valley near the Platte river.

L. A. Bates, a member of the committee, recited an original poem entitled "Marking the Trails."

OWEN D. CONN PLEADS GUILTY TO BURGLARY

SAN FRANCISCO, June 16.—Owen D. Conn, known as "the $100,000 burglar," pleaded guilty to a charge of burglary today and will receive sentence Saturday. His plea brings to an end a sensational criminal career reaching from Chicago to the Pacific coast and covering a period of two years. During that time, Conn, according to his confession, looted homes in broad daylight over $100,000 worth of valuable. He posed as a theatrical man, and had lived in highly respectable localities.

Conn was captured after a running pistol duel in the street, during which the burglar was shot in the leg. Mrs. Katherine Peps, who was extradited from Detroit under suspicion of having been an accomplice of Conn, has been released from custody.

FACULTY MEMBERS KEEP OUT

Professors in State University Not on McBrien's List.

APPROACH CHANCELLOR AVERY

He Told Promoter that He Could Not Accept Pay for Lecturing and Others Followed His Example.

LINCOLN, June 16.—(Special.)—The puncture of the McBrien lecture bureau is still the most talked of topic in the gathering places of Lincolinites, and no place more than over at the state university, where the scheme was evolved by McBrien while at the head of the university extension lectures bureau. It seems that he had all the details ready to spring before he let loose of the salary he was drawing from the university, and it is hinted that he did some commission lecture promoting before then.

All the university folks, however, are congratulating themselves that none of the names of the faculty professors have appeared in the published list of suckers, which is due, perhaps, more to the caution of Chancellor Avery than to any foresight of McBrien's associates, who are not adverse to taking money for lectures when they can get it legitimately. As the story goes, McBrien went to Chancellor Avery with a request that he head his list of attractions, and sign up the form contract and note for advance payment of commissions. The chancellor, however, sidestepped by saying that he could not charge for his addresses, being a servant of the state for that very purpose, although he would be pleased to accept any invitations which might come to him. Not talking for money, of course, he could not be expected to pay a commission for lecture duties.

Faculty Members Caution. The attitude taken by the chancellor toward McBrien's allotments in some way got whispered around the faculty, and when the proposition was put up to them, as it was to most of them, why, of course, they could hardly go in unless the chancellor did, and when he got the name of Chancellor Avery on his list, they would be pleased to have him come back.

Others whose names were inscribed upon the McBrien roll of names are kept constantly explaining. Among them Don L. Love, reformer, former mayor, and late defeated candidate for city commissioner, insists that while he signed the contract, he was too wary to give any notes for advance commission, and thinks he should not be included in what is known as the "josh list."

"I am sorry to have this happen," Mr. Love is quoted as saying, evidently sorry for himself than for McBrien, for he goes on, "by setting me out as an easy mark it will make my office as a mecca for promoters that will disappoint them, and bother me."

As a rule, the victims of the air bubble take it good naturedly, and are already charged off to profit and loss their tuition in the school of experience.

Chase County First to Report Assessment

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Neb., June 16.—(Special.)—Chase county is the first to report to the State Board of Assessment on its assessment for the year 1913.

The personal property is listed this year at $407,070 against $392,854 reported in 1912. This is a loss or reduction of $14,216.

Real estate is given on lands as $1,335 acres, valued at $1,135,000 and assessed at $220,000. Last year the report showed $1,446 acres, valued at $1,265,500 and assessed at $1,111,500.

Lots this year are shown as 5,021 in number, valued at $230,136 and assessed for $47,820. Last year there were 3,021, valued at $231,970 and assessed at $46,324.

This makes an increase in lands of $14,250 and of lots of $15,816, a total of $30,066, but the fall in value of personal property makes a loss to the county of $14,216.

BARNARD QUILTS FARMING FOR A MOMENT OR TWO

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, June 16.—(Special.)—Clyde H. Barnard, secretary of the senate, is at the state house looking up the progress of the new law on the subject, "The Senate's Revenge; or, the Biennial Raid on the State Treasury."

"The work on the publication is coming on nicely," said Mr. Barnard. "I have been so busy down at my home in Pawnee looking after my fruit crop and other crops that I have left the work largely to my assistant, but I find that it is going along finely."

"Speaking of the crops," said the secretary, "you ought to see the crop of alfalfa I cut last week. It went all the way from two to three tons to the acre and when you figure that there will be at least a couple more crops, it looks pretty good for Nebraska. Wheat stands up finely and the best crop I ever saw in the state. Corn is coming on in great shape, and a good deal of the wheat is clear and free from weeds. The wheat is just beginning to turn yellow and will soon be ready for the harvesting. It is a great year for Nebraska."

Anti-Removalists Will Make Statement

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Neb., June 16.—(Special.)—Senator Reynolds, removal member of the committee selected to prepare statements of costs of removal or extension of the University of Nebraska at the downtown site, did not get home yesterday as contemplated.

The downtown members of the committee requested that he stay over until today and they would try to formulate a statement of their side of the matter. The publicity which has been given their stand for extension, in the Bee, or more properly putting it, their lack of a stand, has opened their eyes to the fact that they can not hoodwink the people on this proposition any longer and that they have got to make some kind of a move in order to show that they really have anything to back them up.

Senator Reynolds said this morning they had finally told him they would prepare a statement sometime this week and that it would be mailed to him.

INSURANCE AGENT ACCUSED OF DISHONEST METHODS

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Neb., June 16.—(Special.)—After a long hunt in an effort to locate W. C. Dart, an agent of the North American Accident company, he was apprehended in Lincoln Saturday evening.

Dart has been sailing under several aliases among them "W. T. Carey," "W. H. Smith," and "H. Davis," and has been soliciting insurance under those names. The attention of the department was first brought to his work in Lincoln in 1912 by the company under which he was working at that time cancelled his right to act as their agent.

Since the inauguration of the present auditor, Mr. Howard, his attention was called to Dart's work at Haystack and he at once called the attention of the Northwestern company to it. They responded that they had received a few policies sent in by Dart, but none of them contained any recitations and they asked the auditor to allow the policies to stand that the holders might not lose on account of the dishonest work of the agent and the wishes of the company were respected.

Later they notified Auditor Howard that Dart under the name of W. T. Carey had written several policies in North Platte, Crete, and Fairbury. Sheriff Hyatt of Lancaster county after chasing the man to St. Louis and other points apprehended him Saturday evening, in Lincoln.

It is said that Dart formerly wrote insurance for the Woodmen accident company of Lincoln, but was in trouble most of the time because of his methods. It is also said that there is a warrant out for him in St. Louis for the same kind of work.

RAILWAY COMMISSION SETS TIME FOR WIRE HEARING

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, June 16.—(Special.)—The railway commission has set September 5 at 9 a. m. as the time for hearing the application of the Western Union Telegraph company, for a suspension of the operation of the Stebbens' telegraph rate.

The way it looks out is the lower rate of 25 cents to any point in the state for a ten-word message is below the cost of transmission and expense of the company necessary to keep up the business.

"When is a humane officer humane?" asks R. Tucker, one hackman who has survived the tide of taxis and "autos for hire." Tucker says he turned his team facing uphill on Farnam street and along came a humane officer and informed him that he was facing the wrong way.

"Go on," said Tucker. "Then the humane officer flashed a 'big star' and Tucker turned his team facing down the hill.
