PUBLIC STANDS WITH THE BEE

Expressions of Appreciation Heard on All Sides. DIETZ SAYS LOWER RATES Macfarland Says Howell Wants to Get Money for Board to Pay for the Lobby at Lincoln Last Winter.

Public approbation of The Bee's test suit to force reduction of water rates is manifest everywhere and water consumers all over the city are expressing their gratitude for the fight in their behalf. "Go to it," "We're with you," "Here's hoping you force the rates down," "It's time the issue was brought to a focus and extortionate rates reduced," "The fight is for the people and ought to succeed," is heard on every hand.

"I am certainly with The Bee in this fight," said First Assistant City Attorney Louis J. Toepel. "and if you force the reduction of water rates in this manner you will be entitled to the gratitude of the public, and, what's more, you will receive it."

"The Bee is on my side," said Gould Dietz. "It looks like a big scrap coming off, but its worth it. We're going to have lower rates."

Chairman McDonald of the Board of County Commissioners believes that in carrying the fight for lower water rates to the courts The Bee has done something which residents of Omaha of all varieties of opinion will long remember to its credit.

"Resentment against imposition is something which is inherent in American nature," said Mr. McDonald, "and when it comes to paying excessive prices for such a necessity as water about everywhere is with The Bee."

"A fight which has been a fight for the interests of the citizens of Omaha and one which has been highly justified and fair, is the one which The Bee is bringing rapidly to a successful close," was the opinion vouchsafed by Chief of Detectives Stephen Maloney. "I, as a property owner know how much will be accomplished when the Water board is forced to yield."

ROCK ISLAND HEAD IS HERE

President Mudge Making Tour of Inspection of Road.

SEES BIG BUSINESS AHEAD

Says the Crop Outlook Was Never Better—Start to Be Made on the New Freight Depot Here in the Fall.

President Mudge of the Rock Island was here yesterday, coming on his annual inspection of the lines and properties of the system. He came in the morning on a five-car special, and after having been through Minnesota, South Dakota and Iowa. He was accompanied by Second Vice President Ridgway, General Manager Whitenton of the Iowa lines, Superintendent Gibson of the West Iowa division, Des Moines, and several other officials.

"The depot is going to be built on the site purchased west of the sixteenth street viaduct, and while I am not absolutely positive, I hope considerable will be done this fall, so that we can have the structure completed and ready to handle business some time next year.

"It is hard for corporations to get money at this time, not because business is poor, but by reason of the fact that the men who have been supplying railroads with money are a little more cautious than ever before. They are not suspicious of courts and state railway commissions, but they are uncertain as to just what these tribunals may do."

"Crop all along the Rock Island system are splendid and promise to yield abundantly, says President Mudge, and with good prices that are likely to maintain, he looks for a prosperous year for the farmers, at least.

During the day President Mudge looked over the Rock Island terminals here, toured in an automobile about the city, called on a number of the railroad and business men, and, in fact, did not have a minute of leisure during his stay that continued until 4 o'clock, when he left for the west to look over the Nebraska and Kansas lines.

North Half of State Gets Good Soaking

The north part of the state was deluged by rain Thursday night and all fears of a drought in that section were dissipated. From Inman, west of Norfolk, all the way through to beyond O'Neill and over the country for fifty miles south of the Northwestern to up in the Bonesteel country in South Dakota there was from one and one-half to two and one-half inches of rain. Lighter showers were general over the entire north portion of the state from Norfolk to the Missouri river.

J., June 20.—Thirty-one striking mill workers, members of the Industrial Workers of the World, who were convicted recently of unlawful assemblage, were sentenced today to serve three months each at hard labor to the county jail. MUST REVEAL FOOD VALUES

Assessor Reports He is Not Able to Find Out Quantity and Value of the Food Products that are in Storage.

WASHINGTON, June 20.—At the night session the subcommittee in charge of the income tax change of the tariff bill determined to change the basic exemption of the income tax from $4,000, as in the house bill, to $3,000. This, however, would apply only to single men or women. An additional provision would give to the married man with a dependent wife or to the married woman with a dependent husband $1,000 more exemption, or a total of $4,000. Further exemption is provided for the family at the rate of $500 for each minor child, but in no case would this apply to more than two children. This would make the exemption for the family with two or more children $5,000.

INCOME TAX TO GET MORE

BIG FAMILIES WON'T HELP

Five Hundred Dollars' Allowance for Child Will Not Apply to More Than Two—Committee's Work Not Completed.

The Underwood bill treated the man and woman of the family as a unit in fixing the exemption of $4,000, but the senate committee has added another amendment which would make taxable the income of both husband and wife if each had separate taxable incomes. The committee has not completed the income tax schedule and probably will be several days working with the various features to comply with these changes. An amendment was adopted giving the president authority to suspend certain rates in the tariff bill and to proclaim special rates against nations which discriminate against products of the United States.

TWO VISITORS GET INTO BAD MISUNDERSTANDING

B. J. Browning and Bert West of Platte Center, Neb., who came to Omaha Thursday for the purpose of beholding all that is refined and beautiful within the city limits, wound up the tour with an involuntary inspection of the interior of the city jail. It seems Browning had brought with him considerable cash, and fearing depredations, deposited the same with a local cigar store, receiving in turn a receipt.

A little later in the evening a lapse of memory caused him to suspect his friend, Bert, of appropriating the lure and the two engaged in combat. They were arrested and upon being brought to the station, Browning found the receipt West was given permission to leave, but was given a lodging for the night, he was given a cot in the cell room. After due apology had been made and accepted, both were given permission by Judge Foster to depart blithely on their way.

AFTER COLD STORAGE PLANTS

Board of Equalization Cites Two Firms to Appear.

MUST REVEAL FOOD VALUES

Assessor Reports He is Not Able to Find Out Quantity and Value of the Food Products that are in Storage.

Inquiry into the quantity and value of food products in the underground vaults of cold storage firms in this city will be conducted by the Board of Equalization, in session at the court house next Wednesday. Two firms have been cited to appear before the board, and the members are planning to extend the investigation further.

Predecessors of County Assessor Counman have never been able to get figures showing the amount of food products held in storage in Omaha, and Mr. Counman this year met the same difficulty. The present Board of Equalization, however, believes it is entitled to information on which it can base proper assessments and as a beginning it has summoned the Omaha Ice and Cold Storage company and the People's Cold Storage company to show why their assessments should not be raised. The Omaha Ice and Cold Storage company, in its return to the assessor, made no declaration of any products in storage. The People's company returned an item of $100 for "property on hand" and one of $1,000 for "other property not assessed." The Omaha Cold Storage company confessed to having $3,500 worth of "property on hand."

ALL MEATS HAVE ADVANCED Strawberries Have Been Scarce, but More Will Soon Arrive to Replenish the Local Market.

All meats have advanced 1 cent a pound in the last ten days. Pork loins are now 14c; pork chops are 17c; round steak is 20 cents; sirloin steak is 25c; and porthouse, 25 cents a pound.

Butter advanced 1/4 cent this week in the wholesale price, but the retail price remains at 22 cents a pound. Eggs declined 1 cent a dozen, selling now at 15 cents.

Lozanberries have begun to arrive. They will sell around 20 cents a box at the beginning of their season. Black raspberries are 15c a box.

Texas peaches are here, but they are green and high in price. Early June plums may be bought at 40 cents a basket. Apricots are $1.25 a crate. Watermelons sell at 3 cents a pound, and range from fifteen to twenty-five pounds. Cantaloupes are 10 cents each. Albert King, alouper at Hayden Brothers' grocery department, says they are plentiful and will be reduced to a nickel apiece very soon.

Lemons are almost prohibitive. They have advanced to 30 a case and will go to 35, grocers say, if the weather remains hot. The lemonade season is diminishing the supply and the price is rising. Grocers have begun to sell bottled lemon juice for lemonade and soda pop as substitutes. The lemon juice is sold in 10-cent bottles and is the essence of the fruit, a few drops being used for a glass of lemonade.

Oranges are 16 a box and are not of the quality that carries an guarantee. Vegetables remain cheap and at the same figures.
