

WILL NOT HEAR MICHAELSEN

City Commissioners Refuse for the Fourth Time to Listen to Him.

DAHLMAN HAS A RESOLUTION

At Instigation of Delegation of Citizens Mayor Asks that Michael- sen Be Given an Oppor- tunity to Explain.

For the fourth consecutive time, by the same vote of four to three, city commissioners refused to give Waldemar Michaelson, discharged city electrician, a hearing on the charge made by Commissioner C. H. Withnell that he could not be depended upon.

Held Discharge Off.

Dahlman, Butler and McGovern voted to give the electrician a hearing. Ryder led the attack on Dahlman's resolution. After raising a point of order on the mayor's resolution on the ground that Michaelson was already discharged and Dahlman holding the point not well taken.

Will Test Discharge.

Withnell told the commission that regardless of the result of the suit Michaelson will bring to test the question as to whether the electrician can be discharged without a hearing, he will give him a hearing before the commission.

ALL WATCH BROOKS

His Clearance Sale Methods Are Entirely New.

PLAIN AND OUTSPOKEN

Brooks Thinks Out Immense Stock of Spring and Summer Clothes by Candidly Asking Assistance of Public.

Perfect candor and frankness will often win out where all else fails. When Brooks, the clothier in the City National Bank building at the corner of Sixteenth and Harney Streets, found that spring and summer clothing simply wouldn't sell at all, he called in the assistance of the only source that could be of any assistance at all—the general public.

Brooks came right out in the newspapers and stated that he was reducing prices because he had to in order to sell the clothing; he told all Omaha frankly that the past spring has proved one of the worst the clothier has experienced for years.

Since first announcing his sale Brooks has sold hundreds upon hundreds of suits and very soon he will entirely accomplish that which he found absolutely necessary to accomplish, to get rid of spring and summer clothing stocks in their entirety at most any price, so that he could purchase fall and winter goods without a load on his mind and without being crippled financially through possessing a lot of unseasonable goods instead of cash resources.

That's the way the matter stands, and if you need a suit at all you might as well buy it of a concern that has been with you, the concern that offers you positive "After the Fourth of July Clearance Sale Prices" right at this moment on any man's suit in the house.

Don't wait! Don't jostle in among others at those "July Sales!" Don't take any old suit or size that is offered you simply because you are going to get a Clearance Price. Brooks gives you a chance to buy leisurely and carefully and here are the prices he is featuring NOW:

- Any former $30 suit in the house may be had now at only $12.50
Any former $25 suit in the house may be had now at only $10.00
Any former $20 suit in the house may be had now at only $7.50
Any former $15 suit in the house may be had now at only $5.00
Any former $10 suit in the house may be had now at only $2.50

"Lunch Lurch" to Have Hard Time to Supplant Tango Here

WASHINGTON, June 26.—The "lunch-lurch," a variation of the tango and the turkey trot, is the latest society fad in Washington. To be properly danced, it would be indulged in before breakfast.

Jury Exonerates Metz from Blame

Fred Metz has been exonerated from blame for the accident to James Craigh, Easter Sunday, 1912, and Craigh will not get any of the $25,000 for which he sued Metz.

WASHINGTON, June 26.—The "lunch-lurch," a variation of the tango and the turkey trot, is the latest society fad in Washington.

Among the lurchers are Miss Katherine Elkins, Miss Dorothy Williams, Miss Sally Williams, Miss Katherine Britton, Miss Margarette Backus and Mrs. James F. Curtis.

Anticipating that the "lunch-lurch" is an outgrowth of the most foolish of all tangoes, and the latest freaky fad of eastern society, will take the town by storm and be worked to a frazzle while yet a novelty, Omaha restaurateurs, saloon-keepers and green grocers are preparing for the invasion.

"Let 'em tango until the ewes come home," barked a Douglas street bar-keep, whose name brings visions of a big plate lunch before the eyes of every tired and hungry hobo.

But if my bar-keep's remarks 'em a lunch-lurch' towards my lunch without buying a big beer, well, we've got plenty of long starters and ball bats behind the bar for just such emergencies.

"Lunch-lurch, hey!" exclaimed Otto Krumpholtz, a north-end street grocer, "lunch, old vin las upn yunat so."

EXTEND HELP TO CHILDREN

That is the Way to Improve Human Race, Says W. H. Slingerland. LOOK OUT FOR THEIR WELFARE

Medical and Psychological Inspection of Schools Will Do Much to Eliminate Defects and Assist Youngsters.

Medical and psychological inspection of public school students, free clinical service for the children and proper provision for the mentally deficient were among the things advocated for the betterment of the child of the twentieth century to the Commercial club at noon by W. H. Slingerland of New York, special agent of the Russell Sage Foundation.

"One child out of every ten," he said, "is defective. There is a double reason for special attention to this one-tenth."

"First—For their own sakes, for all are personally innocent, and pathetically helpless. They constitute the 'white man's burden' of the twentieth century."

"And, second—Attention should be given to them for the sake of the other nine-tenths, who are more or less afflicted by these afflicted ones. Compulsory education means compulsory disease. You should think about that. And since you have your rigidly enforced truancy laws it is a crime against the nine children out to give special attention to the tenth deficient one and protect them from him."

How to Help Them. "The future welfare of society and the highest interests of the state are deeply involved in the treatment accorded to defective children. What they shall be when they reach adult age, their relations to their normal associates and their capacity for self-support depends very largely upon how they are treated when is not done, such children are depressed and handicapped for life, he said.

"Public schools are a public trust," he said. "Omaha has no public school system of medical inspection. You business men can wield enough influence to inaugurate this work in six months. You should have free clinical service for the school children with special equipment belonging to the city. It should be for the school children especially, but ought to include work for babies and others below school age."

"A very large number of the youthful defective," he declared, "are children of the poor, who cannot afford medical treatment or hire specialists to correct crossed eyes, fit glasses, do dental work, operate on adenoids, straighten club feet or plaster cast deformed spines."

Mr. Slingerland favors a free dispensary and clinic for all persons. Persons who have not money enough to have their physical defects corrected, should be afforded this service free, he believes.

Assessment of the Street Car Company is Raised $250,000

Assessment of personal property of the street railway company was raised by the Board of Equalization from $7,900,000 to $7,250,000. President Wattles of the company told the board he was willing to admit the valuation previously had been low, but said the company had been paying a fair share of the taxation as compared with assessments of other Omaha corporations.
