President of Alabama Company Writes to Secretary Royce.

NEBRASKA LAW IS OVERLOOKED

Company Says It Has No Agents in State, but Banking Board Has Letters to Men Acting as Such.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, June 29.—(Special.)—The Standard Home company of Birmingham, Ala., which has been in trouble with the State Banking board because of the fact that some of its agents had been doing business in Nebraska without authority of the board, still continues to try to explain its position in the matter. Yesterday Secretary Royce of the board received a letter from the president of the company, F. E. Whitehead, saying that the company has no agents in Nebraska and that if anybody has been soliciting business for the company it must have been some personal representative of one of its agents outside of the state.

The same mail brought from E. M. Dunaway of Kansas another letter enclosing a letter received by him from Roy D. Whitehead, written on a letterhead of the Standard Home company, informing Mr. Dunaway how to go to work to get a policy and explaining its workings. He also referred him to "my agent, James O. Ladd," for information.

Explanations Do Not Explain. Ladd is the man who voluntarily came before the board, acknowledged he did not know he was working for a company that had no right to do business in the state, and said he would quit them at once.

In his letter to Mr. Royce, the president of the company acknowledges that they did at one time apply to the State Banking board for authority to do business, but after two weeks without the application, believing there was no chance to land, he seems anxious in his letter to impress Secretary Royce with the idea that if business is being written by agents it is without the sanction or knowledge of the company. However, he does not explain why the company has been accepting policies or contracts sent in by these agents from Nebraska. Secretary Royce is of the opinion that the more they attempt to explain the more serious the matter appears.

The name of the new company is the Union Accident Insurance company and has a capital of $100,000.

CONFESSES SLAYING CHILD

Naked Body of Twelve-Year-Old Girl Found in Trunk at Ogden.

WOMAN SHIELDS MAN, BELIEF

Police Think Victim Stain After Assault—Poundmaster Called Up and Asked to Come and Get a Dog.

OGDEN, Utah, June 29.—Following the discovery of the naked body of a 12-year-old girl in a trunk at the Union station here Sunday, Mrs. Augustus Ekman of Salt Lake City, the mother, confessed to killing her daughter. She is under arrest with C. L. Anderson of Los Angeles, her former husband.

While Mrs. Ekman asserts she chloroformed the girl in her sleep, physicians assert the child was choked to death. The condition of the neck and head bears out that surmise. The woman declares she committed the crime because the girl was ill and an incubance and she could not take care of her.

Checked Two Days Before.

The trunk had been checked from Salt Lake City two days ago and when Anderson appeared today to have it rechecked to Salt Lake City, the railroad officials demanded the trunk be opened because of the peculiar odor emanating from it. They found the remains of little Frances Williams.

Anderson and the woman have been separated for fourteen years and only became reconciled two days ago. They were on their way to Michigan when arrested. The woman denies that Anderson knows anything of the crime.

The police believe she is shielding Anderson and expect to secure a confession along that line from her. They were taken to Salt Lake City.

Child Seen Thursday.

SALT LAKE CITY, June 29.—Frances Williams Ekman, the child whose body was found in her mother's trunk at Ogden yesterday, was last seen by neighbors at her home here on Thursday, the day Mrs. Ekman and Anderson departed for Ogden. The child had been sent to a grocery store and as she returned to her front gate here mother came outside, put an arm affectionately about the little girl and led her into the house. An hour or so later an expressman came and carted off the trunk with the child's body.

Before departing for the station to check the trunk Mrs. Ekman called up the city poundmaster and asked him to come and get a dog of hers which, she said, she did not have the heart to leave for neighbors to mistreat.

Had Three Husbands.

According to neighbors, Mrs. Ekman has had three husbands, Frances being the daughter of her first, George Williams, who is said to be in the army, at present stationed in California. Anderson was her second husband. For several months she had been living here with Thomas Ekman, a paper hanger. Over a week ago Ekman went to Kemmerer, Wyo., to do some work there. After his departure Anderson appeared and they decided to leave together for Michigan.

That the child was first abused and then murdered is the conclusion of the Salt Lake City police, who are working on the case with Ogden officials.

After the child's body had been placed in the trunk it was not taken directly to Ogden. Instead Mrs. Ekman and Anderson spent the night at a local hotel, where they spent the night, the trunk being brought up to their room. The next day, Friday, the trunk was taken to the station and thrown on a train for Ogden.

According to the story told by the woman here tonight, Frances was attacked by an Italian who invaded the Ekman home, and she gave her chloroform to end her misery. Mrs. Ekman narrated her story without emotion. Her account conflicted with that given to the Ogden police. She said after the murder that Anderson appeared and they decided to go to her former home in Ironwood, Mich. They were compelled to get off at Ogden for lack of funds. Anderson says he did not know the body was in the trunk until he was arrested.
