DODGERS DEFEAT CHICAGOS

After Losing Ten Straight, They Wallop Cubs, Nine to Two.

CURTIS ALMOST UNHITTABLE

Pierce and Overall Hammered for Seven Apiece; Reulbach Checks Onslaught After It Is Too Late.

BROOKLYN, July 14.—After losing ten straight games the Brooklyn cut loose today and batted out a victory over Chicago, 9 to 2. They hammered Pierce and Overall for seven hits apiece, Reulbach checking the onslaught after it was too late. Curtis pitched erratic ball, giving eight bases on balls. He was almost unhitTABLE, however, allowing only three scattered safeties. One of these was a triple by Williams in the third, with Pierce on first, the result of a base on balls. Mitchell opened the seventh with a single and then Curtis passed two men. Goodell batted for Overall and fouled out. Williams forced Brennan, spring Mitchell and Evers grounded out.

The Brooklyn actually won the game in the third when they landed on Pierce and Overall for five hits which, with two errors, scored five runs. Daubert led the batting with two doubles and two singles and four trips to the plate. A peculiar feature of the game was that the twenty-four Chicago putouts were divided among three men. Evers and Corridan had a busy day around second, accepting twenty-four out of twenty-six chances. Curtis was also active around second.

I. Omaha's Home Rule Charter—Franchises

What is in it—what is not in it—what it means.

Although it will be two or three months before the people can vote on the new home rule charter for Omaha, there is danger that their judgment may be warped or prejudiced by misinformation and false statements disseminated by its opponents. To let the people know just what is in the charter, and what is not in it—what changes it is intended to bring about and what it is not intended to do—The Bee will from time to time explain its different features.

The assertion is being made that the new charter "contains no provisions for the control and regulation of public service corporations, which are badly needed." This assertion is either born of ignorance or wilful perversion.

The home rule charter gives the city absolute control and regulation of all public service corporations. This power may be exercised through the council or directly by the people, themselves, by initiative. In addition to the charter, itself, establishes certain regulations which the people have long in vain demanded.

For example, it cuts down the maximum price that may be charged for gas from $1.15 per 1,000 cubic feet to $1; for water from 35 cents a 1,000 gallons to 25 cents a 1,000 gallons; for electric light from 14 cents a kilowatt hour to 11 cents a kilowatt hour; compels the street car company to pay for paving, not only between the rails, as now, but also between the tracks, and one foot on each side of its outer rails. It limits new franchises to twenty-one years, prohibits assignment to foreign corporations not subject to state court jurisdiction, makes the present 3 per cent tax a minimum and provides for full financial publicity, not only for checking up the tax, but also for rate-making.

The charter provides, further, that the city may acquire by purchase or condemnation, and operate itself or by lease, any or all the public utility services, and issue any necessary amount of bonds to pay for them, subject, of course, to the approving vote of the people.

The home rule charter widens the city's power to regulate and places salutary restrictions on franchised corporations so much more than our present or preceding charters that there is no comparison as to safeguarding the people's rights and exacting adequate service and compensation for privileges accorded.

Muhall identified as one he had made to John A. McIntyre, secretary of the National Typothetae.

"A great many men had been brought up from the south to take strikers' places, but they proved no good to the employers," wrote Muhall. "Our plan was to get them to go out on strike also so they would become charges on the unions and help cut up their funds."

"The report told of an arrangement with employment agencies by which new men could be secured, who were to be encouraged to go on strike as soon as the labor unions suggested it.

etals of the fight against Pearce were brought out through a letter from Muhall to M. C. Holtzman of Cumberland, Md., dated April 27, 1908, which outlined a plan to "send you all the labor organizers you wish, and guarantee all of them to be first class men," to organize the fight against Pearce.

Says Gompers Threatened Roosevelt.

In a letter to Cushing in April, 1908, Muhall wrote of a conference on March 23 between President Roosevelt and Samuel Gompers, at which the latter said Gompers declared that if labor were not favored more in legislation it would carry on a campaign to elect labor men to congress. Muhall wrote Cushing that he had found in tours of large cities that the "threat of Mr. Gompers was being carried out to the best of his ability," and added that the Gompers "labor leaders are doing their utmost to turn the labor organization into the Hearst movement in Philadelphia."

"I am perfectly confident that Mr. Gompers and his labor leaders can be badly beaten if the movement is taken hold of in time," Muhall prophesied. "I know if you take hold in the right way," he concluded, "no more delegations like the one that called with Gompers on the president will ever be gotten up and I have got in the National Association of Manufacturers can easily put those people out of business."

Real Union Service at Franklin, Ind.

FRANKLIN, Ind., July 14.—"We have been preaching Christian union for years; it is time we were taking some practical steps toward cultivating the spirit of union," declared Judge H. C. Barnett in the Tabernacle Christian church here yesterday. He then proposed that the entire congregation go across the street to the Presbyterian church and worship as an evidence of good will and Christian brotherhood.

All of the 350 members of the congregation fell in with the plan and, headed by the pastor, the Rev. William J. Wright, crossed to the other church, where they were given a hearty welcome. The two congregations joined in singing "Blest Be the Tie That Binds Our Hearts in Christian Love," and the Presbyterian pastor, the Rev. W. B. Tyler, insisted on the Tabernacle pastor assisting in the services.

Both congregations were so well pleased with the plan that several of the leaders said similar visits to other churches would follow.

Pruritis a Severe Form of Eczema

A Method of Home Treatment that is Very Effective.

There is probably no other remedy so well known as E. S. B. for the blood. And it is remarkably effective in that form of skin disease known as pruritis or intense itching. The action of E. S. B. is rapid. It contains one ingredient, the active purpose of which is to stimulate the tissues to the healthy selection of its own essential nutriment. And the medical elements of this matchless blood purifier are just as essential to well-balanced health as the nutritious elements of the meats, grains, fats and sugars of our daily food. These facts are brought out in a highly interesting book on skin diseases, compiled by the medical department of the Swift Specific Co., 184 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. It is mailed free, together with a special letter of advice, to all who are struggling with a blood disease.

Get a bottle of E. S. B. 30-day of your druggist. It will surprise you with its wonderful action in the blood.

Don't accept something offered you as "just as good." The only reason why anyone should not try to sell you E. S. B. is the large profit made on something cheaper from crude drugs. Beware of any attempt to persuade you to buy something in place of E. S. B.

It is a SWEET AND PLEASANT SYRUP, AND TAKES NO OTHER NAME.

In July, 1908, Muhall began to write and receive letters about campaigns in Pennsylvania congressional districts and he wrote to Cushing: "It might be of some interest to you to show you what the Gompers people are doing in this state. They have nominated President Thomas D. Nicholas for the Tenth congressional district of Pennsylvania on the democratic ticket, and I should predict now unless there is a very good work done in that district, we will have a red hot agitator in the next congress. There are about 40,000 miners in that district, and Nicholas is their ideal."

"I hope Mr. Sherman and the republican congressional committee will get busy in the near future."

Muhall said the Mr. Sherman referred to was the late vice president.

Some of the congressmen who Muhall said were on the "Gompers blacklist" were given in a letter from him to Cushing as follows:

"The principal parties that he will attempt to defeat this fall will be Chairman Jenkins of the house judiciary committee, Speaker Cannon, Congressman Dassel of the Pittsburgh district in this state and Congressman Littlefield of Maine."

Correspondence submitted dealt at length with Muhall's efforts in behalf of the National Association of Manufacturers to bring about the re-election of Congressman Charles E. Littlefield of Maine and to defeat the present congressman, Daniel McGillicuddy.

Money is Persuasion. "A letter to Muhall from C. H. Holtzman at Cumberland said that the anti-Pearce organization there was costing 100 a day and 'much persuasion' was necessary."

"What do you mean by persuasion?" asked Senator Nelson.

"Money," said the witness crisply. "We had a large colored vote there that needed seeing often," he explained.

"You had to see the colored voters over and over again?" suggested Chairman Overman.

"Yes, sir. The last fellow who got to 'em had 'em on election day."

On June 14, 1908, Cushing wrote to Muhall telling him that he could point out that Pearce was "playing both ends against the middle." Cushing wrote: "You ought to point out to all such people—that is, those who naturally ought to be against Pearce—how he is trying to play both ends against the middle, that he is attorney for the Baltimore & Ohio and could not excuse himself as a paid employe if he does not oppose legislation when it came to a show down."

"So while Pearce is playing both ends against the middle, perhaps you can play both ends against the middle on your own account."
