

PAROLED CONVICT ARRESTED

Mrs. William Hanger Fears Husband May Assault Family.

HAS ATTACKED HER BEFORE

On Two Occasions He Has Been Convicted of Attempts to Take the Woman's Life and Served Sentences for Both.

A mysterious anonymous letter asking Mrs. William Hanger, Eighteenth and Dodge streets, to come to a given location on South Fifteenth street Tuesday night, led to the arrest of her former husband, William Hanger, just a few days after he had been released from the state penitentiary on parole by the pardoning board. William Hanger was arrested at the Rex hotel, Fifteenth and California streets, last night, following information furnished by Mrs. Hanger. Whether Hanger wrote her the letter or not is not known, but the letter reached her soon after he came to Omaha.

Hanger was twice convicted of attempted murder and was twice committed to the state penitentiary. Both attempts at murder were made on his wife. Several years ago he attacked her in Lincoln and was then prosecuted by County Attorney Tyrell, who was county attorney of Lancaster county at the time. He served his sentence, or a part of it, at that time. When he got out he came to Omaha, where Mrs. Hanger and the two small daughters were then living. He again attacked her with a revolver. She struck the weapon in such a way that when he fired the bullet was discharged into the floor. Help came and Hanger was placed under arrest. On his person at that time, according to J. M. Macfarland, attorney for Mrs. Hanger, was found a letter in which he stated his purpose to kill his wife and himself and to thus get the two children into the custody of his mother in Kentucky.

Tried and Convicted. He was given an indeterminate sentence of from two to fifteen years. July 10, the pardoning board arranged to have him released on parole, and on that day he was released. He came to Omaha and engaged a room at the Rex hotel.

It was yesterday that Mrs. Hanger received the anonymous letter purporting to come from some woman who was an old acquaintance. The letter requested Mrs. Hanger to come to a given place on lower Fifteenth street to meet the old acquaintance. Mrs. Hanger showed it to her attorney, Mr. Macfarland, who cautioned her that it might be a decoy letter. That evening the 16-year-old daughter received a letter from Hanger at the Rex hotel, saying that he was in town and that he would call at the home to see the daughter. The girl was frightened almost into hysterics, remembering the former incidents that occurred at the home when he called. She showed her mother the letter, and the mother had the paroled man placed under arrest. He is now being held at the city jail.

Asks Explanation. Mr. Macfarland has written a letter to John O. Tolson, member of the pardon board, asking by what law a man can be paroled after he has been twice convicted and sentenced to a penitentiary sentence. He also suggests that if this man commits any violence the pardon board will be placed in an unenviable light.

Mr. Tolson holds that there must be two sentences prior to the one from which parole is proposed before a convict falls into the class that cannot be paroled. Mr. Tolson also says that the man promised him and the other members of the pardon board faithfully that he would not molest the woman at all if he were paroled and that he expected to let bygones be bygones in the matter, but that he had a fatherly interest in his children.

Garrett Finds Crop Conditions Are Fine

Vice President Garrett of the Great Western spent Tuesday night in the city, and in the morning left for Chicago. While in Omaha he was guest of Luther Drake, playing a few holes of golf and touching at the Country club.

Vice President Garrett is getting home from an inspection tour that has taken him over all of the company lines and has been out ten days. Speaking of crops, he says that in Great Western territory small grain is better in quality and the yield is ahead of last year. In Dakota, east of the Jim river, the yield is heavy, but west, light on account of the continued dry weather. Through Iowa and Minnesota the wheat is close to the bumper yield and corn, should fairly heavy rains, come within the next week, will be better than an average crop.

Ure Secures Money for Water Bonds

City and County Treasurer William Ure has returned from New York City where he has been for a week on official business. He delivered the Water board bonds sold over a year ago in the sum of $564,520. The bonds have been in the American Exchange National bank in New York City since they were sold a year ago. The money is being held by the treasurer.

"Whether I shall turn the money over to the new water district or not," said Mr. Ure, "is still one of the questions I have to solve. For the time being we have the money here."

POCKET PICKED OF BIG ROLL ON CROWDED CAR

I. Marvin, Sixteenth and Leavenworth streets, lost a purse containing $15 Tuesday evening while he was a passenger in a car between Manawa and Omaha. The car was crowded and Marvin stood on the back platform with three men and two women. When the car rounded corners he noticed that he was jostled a good deal, but he thought nothing of it until a little while after he gotten off of the conveyance and wanted to use some of his money.

Joseph Butler, Voter for Fifty-Five Years to Be Disfranchised

Joseph Butler, 2530 California street, father of J. P. and D. B. Butler, city gas commissioner and city commissioner, respectively, believed the "honest elections law," being administered by Harley G. Moorhead, was a good scheme until he suddenly discovered that he could not vote here, although for fifty-five years he has been voting every year, having been naturalized in Ottawa, Ill. Although he voted before many voters were born and has taken active interest in civic affairs, Mr. Butler will be disfranchised unless his naturalization papers, which have been misplaced, are found. Mr. Butler is 85 years old. He is making a strenuous effort to find his papers or secure a copy of them.

Mrs. Stowitts Buried at Forest Lawn

Funeral services for the late Mrs. Arthur D. Stowitts were held yesterday at the residence, Clarinda apartments, Thirtieth and Farnam streets. On account, however, of the late arrival of relatives the burial was deferred until 4 o'clock in the afternoon, when interment took place at Forest Lawn cemetery. Rev. Dean Tancock of Trinity cathedral conducted the service.

Surviving the deceased are three daughters—Marguerite, Dorothy and Helen—all of Omaha. Mrs. Stowitts has been prominent in church work in Trinity cathedral and social circles. She was the widow of the late Dr. A. D. Stowitts of Sidney, Neb., who was well known throughout the state.

NO COMPLAINT FILED AGAINST DINUZZO

No complaint was filed against Philip Dinuzzo, proprietor of a messenger exchange, who was arrested Tuesday on the charge of assault on Sherman C. Reisel of Red Oak, Ia. It appears that Reisel had undertaken to carry a package for Dinuzzo with the knowledge of the latter. He collected the messenger charges as well as a C. O. D. charge of $2.50, which he failed to turn over. Dinuzzo went to collect the money from him and upon Reisel making a threat of assault Dinuzzo knocked him down with a well directed blow. Reisel has fully recovered.

Discovers How to Get Skin Really Clean

"I never knew what it was to have my face, neck and arms really clean until I began cleaning them with buttermilk," writes Emily Coulson. "Always much given to scrubbing and soaping, of course, after each ablution I imagined myself thoroughly clean. One evening after washing in the usual way, I put on a coating of precolated buttermilk paste. After this had dried I wiped it off with a soft towel and was surprised to see how soiled the towel was. The paste had gone deep into the pores and taken out what remained of the grime accumulated during the day—and which I had not realized was there. Next day I began using the paste instead of soap and water. My skin now has an appearance—and feeling—of cleanness such as it never used to have. The precolated buttermilk paste, which I get at my druggist's, because of its natural bleaching and softening properties, has made my complexion satiny smooth and beautifully white. It eliminates both soap and face cream from my toilet requisites."—Advertisement.

Should the Consumer Wait?

Some of the objectors to dollar gas NOW have denounced the proposed franchise in unmeasured terms, as though it would not bear honest investigation, when as a matter of fact, it has been published for two weeks in each of the daily newspapers.

To understand that the proposed franchise safeguards the interests of the public and the gas consumer, one has merely to read it slowly and carefully. You can do this and we hope you will.

SO THAT YOU MAY EXAMINE THE PROPOSED FRANCHISE AT LEISURE, THE COMPANY WILL MAIL A COPY TO EACH OF ITS CUSTOMERS. ADDITIONAL COPIES MAY BE OBTAINED FROM THE COMPANY UPON REQUEST.

If you ask those who object to the people either voting upon or approving the proposed gas franchise what they would have you do, they will reply, "WAIT."

If you should ask them what the price of gas will be after four or five years, should the city possibly win the dollar gas case, they can make only one reply, and that is "ONE DOLLAR."

Fortunately, upon this occasion, the consumer will have a chance to say for himself whether he prefers dollar gas NOW, with the right to regulate future rates by contract between the City and Company, or whether he favors long drawn out litigation with the RESULT IN DOUBT.

It is to be questioned if the objectors are as familiar as they might be with conditions in the average Omaha home, where the increased cost of living is steadily reducing the purchasing power of the dollar.

The business of the Omaha Gas Company is SERVING THE PEOPLE. Approximately 20,000 Omaha kitchens—practically all of them—cook with gas.

Every one of the 20,000 or more women who toil in these kitchens is a valued patron of our company. Each is saved a considerable amount of labor, time and discomfort by the work which we perform.

In most homes the women are the economists. They do the saving. They are the ones who best understand how the price of everything they have to buy, EXCEPT UTILITY SERVICE, has gone up during the last ten years.

These housewives use the gas, pay the bills, purchase the ranges and water heaters—telephone to the Company for assistance when appliances are out of order.

They appreciate the meaning of a SAVING OF 15 CENTS PER THOUSAND FEET IN THEIR GAS BILLS.
