BY MELLIFICIA. Wednesday, July 23, 1913.

ONE of the globe trotters of Omaha think no more of going to Europe for a week than going down to New York. One man declared that it was really cheaper, as tips are only paid as you leave the steamer. Dr. and Mrs. B. B. Davis and their son, Herbert, returned home this morning after spending eight days motoring in England. They spent much time in the Wordsworth country and one day at the Wordsworth cottage. This was one of the most interesting days of their trip. The caretaker at the Wordsworth cottage was an old friend of the poet. The tourists were especially favored with good weather during their week in England. They visited many abbeys and castles of interest and returned home on the same steamer on which they left Boston, spending eight days each way on the ocean. Mr. and Mrs. George Kelly and Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Burgess sailed yesterday on the return trip of the Laconia for London. They will spend six weeks in Europe, motoring in England and France. Dr. and Mrs. A. B. Somers, Mrs. F. L. Haller and Mrs. F. H. Cole left Saturday evening for New York and will sail Wednesday for a stay of six weeks on the British Isles. They will take several motor and coaching trips through England.

Personal Gossip. Mr. and Mrs. George L. Hammer and Miss Hilda Hammer have taken the apartment at the Clarinda, which was occupied by the late Mrs. A. D. Stowitts and family. The three daughters of Mrs. Stowitts will be to Arkansas to be with their grandmother, Mrs. Blanchard. Mrs. Charles P. Southard of St. Louis is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Charles Scott Smith, and Mr. Southard. Mrs. Southard is recuperating from two serious operations, which she underwent in St. Louis a few weeks ago. Omahans in New York. Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Davis and daughter, Miss Elizabeth and Mellora Davis, and Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Northrop are at the Hotel Alpin. Dr. and Mrs. A. B. Somers, Mrs. Frank Haller and Mrs. F. H. Cole, who sail tomorrow for England, are at the Wolcott hotel.

For the Future. Several affairs are planned for next week in honor of Mr. Larimer of Wichita, who arrives Saturday to be the guest of Mr. A. B. Warren. WEST HARNEY STREET RESIDENTS CARRY WATER. A bursted water main at Twenty-eighth and Harney streets early Tuesday evening precipitated a lot of uneasiness among residents in that locality that depend upon this particular main of supply for their water. The possibility of such an accident cannot be blamed upon anyone, but patrons of the system complain that they had no word of the mishap and that when they appealed to the offices of the company by telephone, they were informed that the company knew what it was doing and was given no satisfaction as to when the supply would again be forthcoming. Unprepared for the occasion, many of the residents had to carry water for Tuesday evening and Wednesday morning's use.

O'Connor Meets Old Omaha Men on His Trip to the Coast

"The Omaha fellows are all doing well in Seattle," said County Commissioner Tom O'Connor, returning from Seattle, where he attended the meeting of the National Association of Charities and Correction. "I met a great many former Omaha people there and I want to say they are up and coming and are all making money." Among those O'Connor met at Seattle was Harry E. Moore, son of the former mayor of Omaha, formerly city passenger agent of the Wabash railroad. He is now city passenger agent at Seattle for the Oregon Short Line. Another was J. E. Riley, formerly a contractor here, who is now a promoter at Seattle. Carl Retter, formerly manager of the Orpheum in Omaha, is manager of the Orpheum there. George Casey, who ran a meat market in Omaha, was found by O'Connor running a meat market in Seattle. Peter Murry, another former Omaha meat market man, whose shop used to be at Thirtieth and Park avenue, was discovered in a meat market of his own in Seattle. These and others formerly of Omaha. Mr. O'Connor met while on the coast. "These coast towns are coming to the front," said O'Connor. "They build and improve and they don't stop at anything. I don't know where they get the money, but they are improving all the time. They are bonded to the teeth, however, and I don't think there are many of those coast towns that could find a sale for any more bonds."
