

The Society Bee-Hive

BY MELLIFICIA. Tuesday, July 29, 1913.

KOBOJI seems to fill a long-felt want—a delightful place to spend the week-end. It is a pleasant motor trip for those who do not care for a long tour.

Philadelphia has its Atlantic City, New York its beaches, country homes and clubs outside the city; Chicago a score of summer resorts on the lake, where the family goes for the summer, and the men spend the week-end with them. But until the automobile became so popular there was practically no summer resort near enough to Omaha for a comfortable short trip.

Mrs. M. C. Peters and family have a cottage at the lake and Mr. Peters and Mr. Ralph Peters motor there for Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. Ben Gallagher has a cottage, and Mr. Paul Gallagher and Mr. Ben Gallagher have made several trips to the lake by motor.

One of the larger parties who motored to the lake for Saturday and Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Barker, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn C. Wharton, Miss Louise Dinning, Miss Elisabeth Congdon, Miss Frances Todd, Mr. Lawrence Brinker, Mr. J. DeForest Richards and Mr. Ward Burgess. The party left here Saturday morning at 6 o'clock and arrived at the lake at 4 o'clock that afternoon, returning home Monday.

WIFE ABANDONERS EXEMPT

Other States Not Co-Operative with Nebraska in Prosecution.

MANY DEPENDENTS LEFT HERE

Are County Charges Simply Because It Is Not Possible to Secure Their Extradition from Other Localities.

Because of the laxity of the laws of certain states that have not made wife abandonment as much of an offense as Nebraska has, Douglas county is supporting a long list of dependent women, whose husbands have fled to states from which they cannot be extradited.

"What we need is a federal divorce law and a federal law on wife abandonment," said J. M. Leidy, administrator of county charities.

Mr. Leidy says that so far state officials have been unable to extradite fugitives from the state of Illinois, for example, who have deserted wives in Nebraska. "Illinois makes wife abandonment merely a misdemeanor," said Mr. Leidy in discussing the matter, "and Nebraska makes it a felony. We have tried to get several men back here who have deserted wives and fled to Illinois, but the governor there refuses to issue necessary papers for what in that state is a mere misdemeanor. As a consequence Douglas county is supporting twelve women whose husbands are safe in Illinois.

"Now there is no reason why there should not be a federal law in regard to this matter. The Interstate Commerce commission has nothing to say concerning the operation of railroads within a state, but where interstate traffic is concerned it steps in. Why should not the federal government step in where a man abandons a wife and flees to another state?"

Youthful Stranger Waits All Day Long for Return of Uncle

Russell Lee, aged 12 years, of Avoca, Ia., journeyed to Omaha Monday morning in the company of his uncle, Asa Lee, of the same place. After depositing their luggage in the station the elder Lee instructed his nephew to watch the articles while he took a car up town and made a few purchases. He promised to return within an hour.

At 10 o'clock Monday night Officer Jensen, strolling through the station, discovered a sleeping boy on one of the benches with the handle of a satchel clutched tightly in his hand while the tears on his face told plainly that he was in trouble. The officer shook the lad, who upon awakening and discovering a policeman standing over him, one again burst into tears. After much assurance the boy told his story of waiting for his uncle since eight o'clock in the morning.

He had eaten no food during the day except an apple which he had purchased with his only nickel from the news stand. Jensen brought him to the station and a search for the delinquent uncle was made with no avail. Toward midnight the boy was taken to the detention home and his parents notified. The father of the lad is a prominent citizen of Avoca.

Joy Rider Released Because Judge Says Wrong Charge Made

John H. Reifschneider, former employee of the Electric Garage company, who, Sunday night, damaged Attorney Frank Crawford's automobile, which he took on a joy ride, was dismissed in police court.

Denise Barkalow, proprietor of the Electric Garage company, together with one of the heads of the company, consulted County Attorney Magney Monday morning in view of swearing out a complaint against the man. They were told by the county attorney to charge Reifschneider with "willful destruction of personal property." When the defendant was brought before Judge Alstad he was dismissed on the grounds that grand larceny should have been the charge.

Leakage at the Den is Now to Be Stopped

Plans to make certain men who have attended performances at the Ak-Sar-Ben Den without holding a membership ticket pay their money and join the organization are being worked out by the hustling committee.

Several Omaha men have been seen at the den who do not belong. How they got in without the ticket has been learned and their means of entry stopped. Some have been bringing friends and relatives to the show, representing them as guests from other cities. All these will be required either to buy membership cards or stay away from the den.

Opie Bailey Escapes from Detention Home

Opie Bailey, alias Irene Cody, 27 years of age, escaped from the Detention home on South Tenth street Monday night. She lowered herself from the window of her room, thirty feet above the ground, by tying together the bed clothing and sliding down.

After being convicted of theft from a fellow employe at the Rome hotel, where she was employed as a chambermaid, she was placed under the supervision of the juvenile authorities with the hope that her young life might be directed into better paths.

SENATOR KEMP BELIEVES PARTY REUNION IMMINENT

State Senator J. H. Kemp of Fullerton, who is president of the senate and now in line under the lieutenant governor, is among the visitors to Omaha. Mr. Kemp is freely mentioned by his many friends as a possible candidate for governor on the republican ticket next year.

"I am down here on a little matter of personal business," said Mr. Kemp. "Up in our part of the country conditions are fine, including corn prospects. No. 1 don't care to talk politics now. The political situation is decidedly quiet, but I believe all tendencies are toward a speedy reunion of the republican elements."
