

What Women Are Doing in the World

THE first week in October bids fair to be a busy one for not only the local members of the Woman's club, but also for the members and delegates to the state Federation of Women's Clubs.

Mrs. C. W. Hayes, president of the Omaha Woman's club, is in receipt of a letter from Mrs. Percy V. Penypacker, president of the National Federation of Women's Clubs, saying that she would be in Omaha the first week in October and would be present at the opening meeting of the Woman's club.

Following the afternoon meeting of the Omaha club, Mrs. Penypacker, Mrs. Hayes and the delegates from the local clubs will leave for York, Neb., where she will address the State Federation of Women's Clubs.

The executive committee of the Nebraska Suffrage association will meet Monday morning at 10 o'clock in the Lincoln hotel at Lincoln.

The Omaha suffrage society will hold its meeting Wednesday, August 13, in Hamscom park.

One of the few societies which has not ceased its work during the warm weather is the Equal Franchise league of South Omaha.

The executive committee of the Omaha Woman's club will meet Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the women's rest room at Thompson and Belden's store.

A NEW dress of French gray, green, gold and white, with soft velvet carpets and sliver curtains and polished brass trimmings, the Krug theater will open Sunday, August 20, to a new policy—that of the Pantages Circuit of Vaudeville Road Shows.

The Pantages theaters are located in Detroit, Chicago, Fargo, Winnipeg, Edmonton, Calgary, Spokane, Seattle, Vancouver, Tacoma, Portland, Victoria, Sacramento, San Francisco, Oakland, Los Angeles, San Diego, Denver, Kansas City and New Orleans, and now Omaha will be an added link in this chain.

Girls Working in Drug Stores Will Protest New Law

The large army of cashiers and salesladies that are at present employed in the drug stores of Omaha have risen in protest against what they proclaim the gross injustice done them by the nine-hour labor law and the law against child labor after 10 o'clock at night.

The girls have been competing against men and have been getting salaries that compared favorably with the salaries of men, but with the new law it will be impossible to compete with the men.

Many of the girls have been in the drug business for many years and are familiar with no other line of work. As a result they will only be able to secure new positions that will pay about half what they are getting now, which they say, practically means that they will be unable to make living wages.

At present those who are affected by the new law intend to prepare a petition and present it to the legislature. The petition will demand an explanation from the lawmakers, and also demand that reparations be made immediately.

gether, vowed eternal celibacy, and are very happy and glad that they are not tied up with women. Then all get married, but the librettist; he never will, and so when he enters on the job of collaboration with a young woman composer, it is with the distinct and definite understanding that there is to be no man and woman nonsense about it, just a sexless machine to turn out operas.

George Klein's production of the photodrama "Quo Vadis," adapted from Henry Sienkiewicz's famous romance, will be revealed in Omaha for the first time at the Boyd for a week's engagement, commencing Sunday matinee, August 10, with matinees every day.

ORIGIN BROS. BUYERS LEAVE FOR THE EAST

M. E. Orkin with a corps of buyers for their store, left Saturday night for New York and the eastern markets. The buying force for convenience has been divided into squads and those that went with Mr. Orkin are Mr. Jones, buyer for silks and dress goods; Mr. Wiener, lace, embroideries, neckwear, notions; Mr. Whitehouse, coats, suits and dresses; Mr. Skinner, china and hardware; Miss Hill, gloves; Miss Lasser, muslin underwear and infants' wear.

"We expect to extensively increase the assortments of all our dry goods departments, especially the silks, dress goods, lace and trimmings," said Mr. Orkin yesterday before leaving.

"Our closing out sale, in which we included summer merchandise from all sections, has been very successful, and will enable us to start the fall season with a new assortment of merchandise in all sections, with the various changes and alterations planned and in operation will in reality make out shop a new store."

J. L. Orkin is now in the east. The Persistent and judicious Use of Newspaper Advertising is the Road to Business Success.

reels and they in turn are divided into acts. The first three reels comprise the first act, the second three complete the second act and the remaining reels form the concluding act. Eight minutes intermission elapses between each act and the development of the story is accompanied by organ music specially composed and arranged for this production. The entertainment lasts for two hours and a quarter to two hours and a half.

Sardou's "Cleopatra" has been filmed with Helen Gardner in the title role and in the impersonation of Egypt's passionate queen, she has achieved the greatest triumph of her career. Six full reels are used to tell this dramatic story, and over an hour and a half is consumed in its display.

The Solis brothers, expert manipulators of the marimba, are to appear at the Empress this week. This act consists of four young Mexican musicians, who produce some remarkable effects on this unique instrument. Powers brothers, athletes, are to demonstrate feats of strength and agility. They are fine types of American strong men. A comedy juggler, Dave Vanfield, will perform some original antics with various articles and introduce a line of gloom proof comedy and the show will be completed by the offering of Browning and Dean, "the white chocolate drops."

Krug park is attracting large crowds out to its cool shade and pretty lawns. Many come with their basket lunches, seeking relief from the heat, and to enjoy the various amusements offered by the riding devices, dancing, pictures, etc. There are many different kinds for the enjoyment of all. Free moving pictures shown outside is one of the most enjoyable attractions the park offers for the entertainment of all classes.
