

GRAIN AND PRODUCE MARKET

Corn Market Now Being Governed Entirely by Weather.

OLD GRAIN MEN LARGE HOLDERS

Some of the Most Experienced Traders in the Pit Are Holding and Still Making Purchases of Yellow Oats.

OMAHA, Aug. 2, 1913. The course of corn was again upward yesterday, with prices the highest since the crop.

While it was known that the crop in the far southwest was damaged greatly by the drought and high temperatures, it was not expected that the losses in Oklahoma would prove as great as officially reported.

What was helped more or less by the strength in corn yesterday, as it developed in the day that the market was in an overcast condition, and caused many shorts to call.

Clearances were: Wheat and flour equal to 10,000 bushels; corn, 22,000 bushels; soybeans, 10,000 bushels.
