

The Society Bee-Hive

BY MELLIFICIA. Tuesday, August 5, 1913.

ENCOURAGED by their first venture in selling ice cream at the park concert, the directors of the Visiting Nurse association will again have booths at the concert which will be held in Bemis park Thursday evening.

They will have a booth at each end of the park, one presided over by Miss Louise McPherson and the other by Miss Clara Thomas. Miss Thomas will be assisted by Miss Anna and Miss Alice Fry and Miss Regina Connell, and those to assist Miss McPherson are Mrs. H. M. Rogers, Mrs. T. R. Ward and Mrs. Ralph W. Connell.

Other members of the association will aid in the work, and hope at least to make as great a success of their undertaking as at the Kountze park concert.

The next concert after Thursday evening will be given at Turner park, on West Parnam street, and the Visiting Nurse association will again have the refreshment booth.

The money which is made at these concerts will be devoted to the baby fund.

At Carter Lake Country Club.

Thirteen directorates of the Carter Lake Country club are digging away at the perplexing problem of naming thirteen avenues and streets in the thirteenth year of the century. It is the hope of the membership to avoid anything so methodical and irrelevant to the zealotry of the organization as to follow an alphabetical arrangement, but just what system would be adopted is still debatable. There is a growing favor, however, in using the names of the first board of directors. They are easily pronounced, no two alike, could be set into a harmonious whole and if settled upon within the year would carry with them the romance that the thirteenth of thirteen is bound to support.

Mr. Norman and Raymond Burgess are entertaining school friends at a house party. The guests are:

Misses—Mary Campbell of Lincoln, Francis Larson of St. Paul, Ethel Flatbach of Beatrice, Ruth Ollis of Ord, Meers, Byron Jones of Wynot, J. Vortis of Clay Center, Arthur Campbell of Lincoln, Raymond Burgess.

Misses Myrtle and Edna Cole left Friday for Grand Island to be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Bringer for two weeks.

No Clue to Person Who Shot at Chief

No developments have been forthcoming as to the identity of the person who fired two shots into the window of Chief of Detectives Maloney's office Monday morning. Work on the case has practically been abandoned from the lack of evidence to work on. Chief Maloney and his subordinates still regard the matter as the work of some overworked cocaine fiend, who by this time has forgotten the affair ever took place.

FILES HEAVY DAMAGE SUIT AGAINST HIS NEIGHBORS

Oscar H. Horssen, 4809 Poppleton avenue, has filed a $25,000 damage suit against Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Walsh and twenty-one neighbors in the district court. In August, 1912, Horssen was charged with insanity by them and after an examination he was first committed to the county jail and then to the county hospital. He alleges that, with Attorney Thomas E. Brady, the defendants conspired to humiliate and drive him from the neighborhood through insanity prosecution. He also alleges that from August 29 to 31, 1912, he was locked up in a cell at the county hospital with an insane negro and bases part of his damages upon this particular part of his confinement. He was released a short time ago as being normal.

HILARIOUS YOUTHS ARE SUSPENDED FROM CLUB

A precedent was established at the Carter Lake club the other evening when a party of young men were summarily suspended from membership for disturbing the peace of the night with a hilarious celebration. It was innocent fun for a while, but later developed into a pronounced affair that action was taken. All were fellows ranging in age from 18 to 22 years of age and started out at one of the cottages, where they had some liquor. It is said to have gone to their heads and from then on they were quite irresponsible.

GIRLS PREFER LONG HOURS

Are Afraid of Losing Their Jobs if They Demand Less.

POOLE STUDIES THE SITUATION

Young Women Say that They Prefer to Work the Longer Hours Rather Than to Have Their Wages Cut.

Although Labor Commissioner Charley Poole has spent several days in Omaha looking over the situation with regard to the nine-hour working law for female labor, there are still places in Omaha in which the girls are kept working more than nine hours a day. It is said that there are several employers of female help who have said they would work their girls the way they had been doing and the way the girls were satisfied to work.

As a matter of fact the girls are satisfied to work the way the employer wants them to in many instances because they are afraid to ask for the privileges granted them by the law for fear of losing their jobs or having their wages cut.

Dr. Harry Foster, father of the nine-hour bill in the legislature, is one who has discussed the labor law with a female waiter in a certain restaurant in Omaha. The woman told him the girls there were working ten hours per day and seven days a week.

Dr. Foster offered to force the manager of the restaurant to give the girls better hours under the law.

"No, no, don't you dare do that," the girl pleaded. "I'm afraid he would fire me or cut down our wages if he had to give us shorter hours. We are getting $5 per week."

Some of the employers have openly threatened to cut wages if they were forced to comply with the law. Dr. Foster says they had better go slow on that, for he is sure that if they do anything like that the next legislature will pass a minimum wage bill.

Imagines He is an Indian on Warpath

S. J. Garrison of Platte Center, while waiting for a train at the Union station, was suddenly seized with the hallucination that he was an Indian chief on the war-path. Letting forth a string of wild war-whoops, he grasped his trusty tomahawk, and set forth on a carnival of slaughter. He had gone some five feet when Officer Jensen, whose duty it is to preserve peace and tranquility amongst the tourists, had Garrison conveyed to the station, where during the night he returned from primeval instincts to those of just an ordinary citizen. Judge Altstadt dismissed him in police court with advice to hit the trail for his tribal domain as soon as possible.

Public Offered Free Use of New Pulmotor

A pulmotor, an artificial respiration device that has been successfully used in restoring normal breathing where it has been suspended through disease, asphyxiation, drowning, electrical shock and the various kinds of poisoning, has been purchased by the Omaha Gas company. The apparatus will be subject to call of any emergency and a crew is now being instructed in its uses.

The first purpose in purchasing the machine was to use it in cases where persons suffered with asphyxiation from gas furnished by the Omaha Gas company, but as the machine is equally effective in many other ways, its use is being offered gratis to the public wherever it can be of service to anyone. To secure it and the necessary crew, one should call the gas company and ask for "pulmotor."

The pulmotor has been successfully used during the last year in Chicago, Minneapolis and several other large cities and has left no doubt as to its efficiency in practically restoring life to persons overcome by asphyxiation, etc.

KING-PECK COMPANY TO CLOSE ON SATURDAY NIGHTS

The King-Peck company has decided to close its store at 6 o'clock Saturday evening during the remainder of the month of August. Mr. Peck says this action is taken independently of any of the other clothing stores which kept open last Saturday evening and is also not influenced by the law regulating the time of work for female employees, as no women clerks are employed in this store.

MAYOR TO NAME COMMITTEE FOR BRIDGE CELEBRATION

Resolutions authorizing the appointment of a committee from the city commission to act with other bodies in arranging for a celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the completion of the Douglas street bridge were passed by the city commission. Mayor Dahlman introduced the resolutions and will appoint a committee of three.

COMPTROLLER AUTHORIZED TO ISSUE PARK BONDS

City Comptroller McDonald has been authorized by the city commission to issue $50,000 park bonds, which the council may issue under the law for this one year only without a vote of the people. Park Commissioner Hummel will spend the money improving parks and boulevards and will use the entire amount this summer and fall, probably.
