Corn Pit is Now Center of Traders'

the Flurries Which Now Seem Inevitable.

OMAHA, Aug. 14, 1913.

Nearly every professional in the grain trade at Chicago and Omaha are long more or less on corn. It must be remembered that the professionals have deserted the wheat and oats market for the time being and have gone into the corn pit, where they have been enabled to secure fair profits on quick turns.

It will be seen soon whether these traders have loaded up with too much corn or whether they will again be enabled to secure profits. A halt in the buil movement and the daily flurry in corn must come to an end sconer or later and this notwithstanding the fact that the Patten crowd of buils bought all the deferred futures the trade cared to sell yesterday.

The question now hovering over the corn pit is "Will it ever rain in Kansas". Never in the history of that state has the drouth season tasted as long and never has water been as scarce there as at present. While the wheat crop in Kansas is large, the corn crop is so small that financial conditions among the farmers will certainly be strained before an ther season's grain crop has been harvested.

The present bulls in corn are but novices, and they will continue to hold. OMAHA, Aug. 14, 1913.

The present bulls in corn are but novices, and they will continue to hold values as high as possible in order to enable them to take profits on all the sharp bulges and to reinstate their lines on the depressions, which are certain to follow these selling movements. Cash

The wheat market was badly in need of props yesterday, and as the day wore away the support was forthcoming in the shape of a saje of 425,000 bushels cash wheat now at Buffalo, and which it was said was wanted to fill "distress" ocean room near clearing. Word was passed around yesterday that the cash business was on export account and that there is had been a general reawakening of this trade not only on the continent, but in the United Kingdom. Some of the more conservative men in the oats trade believe that while the new crop will act as a weight on values that higher prices will ultimately be seen. Cash oats were unchanged to 16 higher. CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS

Features of the Trading and Closing Prices on Board of Trade.

Prices on Board of Trade.

CHICAGO, Aug. 14.—Wheat today broke from under the leadership of corn and displayed independent strength. Belief that the run of winter wheat is about over had a good deal to do with making prices buige. The close was steady at an advance of 14.6% to 14.6. Corn finished unchanged to 14.0 off, oats unchanged to a shade higher and provisions varying from 10c decline to a gain of 15c.

Support of wheat came largely from ele-Support of wheat came largely from elevator concerns, who bought September freely and meanwhile sold December at a constantly narrowing difference. One house alone purchased 1,000,000 bushels of September and disposed of an equal amount of the later option. Receipts here showed signs of a decided falling off and country owners were said to be holding much tighter than has recently been the case.

much tighter than has recently been the case.

Exporters as well as cash concerns were alleged to be back of the wheat market, especially the September contracts. Higher cables tended to prevent any movement back in prices; also did Nebraska reports that the heat and drouth had so baked the soil as to make fall plowing impossible at present. Although corn today once more broke the high price record for the season, closing quotations were easy. The big central states had been helped by rain. Nebraska and the southwest, however, were still clutched by drouth and heat, so that decided dips in the market proyed brief. With corn in Missouri and Kansas much dearer than wheat, nobody cared to press the seiling side. Trade in oats was light and seemed governed almost wholly by the action of corn.

Provisions broke easy on account of free seiling by one of the packers. Other and larger packers were buyers at the decline, taking near months principally, and making such options relatively strong.

Optimism Gives Way to Moderate Degree of Pessimism.

DUE LARGELY TO DROUTH

Continued Deficiency of Rain Southwest, and State of Steel and Iron Also Responsible for Condition of Market.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—The optimism which proved so helpful to the stock market in the first half of the week gave way today to a moderate degree of pessimism, engendered in part by more thoughtful consideration of important current conditions. Among these were the state of the steel and iron industry and continued rain deficiency over large areas of the southwest.

Leading issues manifested some restraint from the outset and the session as a whole was marked by a pronounced decrease in operations.

Lowest prices were made in the last hour, during which time the market drifted along in singgish fashion. Steel was then heaviest of the favorite nomes, losing over a point with other stocks of speculative importance a substantial fraction or more under the preceding day. Wabash issues, which registered arge declines from the recent advances, were especially weak.

Wabash issues, which registered declines from the recent advances, were declines from the recent advances, were especially weak.

Foreign markets showed some brogularity, but discounts were easier in London on the satisfactory settlement and the favorable bank statement. The Bank of England gained over 110,000,000 gold and increased its total reserve by $12,20,000, while its reserve liability rose decidedly over the preceding week.

Another decline in rentes had no effect on the firmness of the Paris Bourse.

Supply of money in the local market fell off today, but was sufficient to meet all requirements, with no change in time accommodations. Further buying of commercial paper on a more moderate scale was reported.

Bonds were heavy at sharp declines in some active issues. Government bonds were unchanged on call. Total sales, par value $1,170,000.

Cincinnati Delegate and President Lynch Have a Sharp Clash

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 14.-A sharp verbal clash between President Lynch and Delegate Hitchens of Cincinnati featured this afternoon's session of the International Typographical union convention. An amendment submitted by a Los Angeles delegate, for which the laws committee had ordered a substitute, was under consideration. The law provides that 1. it shall be unlawful to install in any printing office blind clocks or electrical devices on line casting or typesetting machinery, whereby the operator cannot readily see the number of lines enumerated. The substitute, did not declare the practice unlawful, but urged that the local unions advise their members to ignore the use of such appliances. Delegate Hitchens made statements which President Lynch construed a reflection on foremen of composing rooms. At the conclusion of his reply to Hitchens. Lynch started to put the question, when Hitchens claimed "personal privilege," exclaiming:

"I want to denounce the president of this union for putting words into my mouth that I did not say." "Your position is not well taken because the president denies he did what you claim," retorted President Lynch. Mr. Hitchens still demanded the floor. but the president put the question and the laws committee's substitute was adopted by a vote of 176 to 54.
