Election Commissioner Moorhead has divested himself of an opinion that unregistered voters have no rights of suffrage, and has announced his purpose to refuse them ballots for an election. In his statement Mr. Moorhead admits that the law might be read liberally to permit voters, prevented from registering by sickness or absence from the city, to be sworn in, but declines to read it that way.

This declaration is plainly in line with the election commissioner's polagainst foreign-born voters, by his corner of Sixteenth and Capitol avenue, gerrymandering of the election districts and by his transplanting of voting places, to apply the law in a than to help polling the full vote.

Settlement in the Balkans.

If we may rely on the expressions of Bir Edward Grey, British foreign secretary, the concert of Europe is playing well in tune, and all its members are Balkans. On Tuesday Sir Edward hinted in Parliament that it might be possible that one or two of the powers would feel constrained to intervene in Turkey, if provoked. Just what sort of provocation is required he did not specify; the powers laid down certain territorial restrictions for Turkey in settling the war prosecuted by the Balkan allies, which the Turks ignored when the allies fell to fighting between themselves. With regard to Thrace and the fortress of Adrianople, Mrs. Robert Goelt, halled by many as Turkey did not accept the advice of the Bir Edward Grey bluntly stated that if powers action would sooner or later, tervention, bring her to disaster; but he took some of the sting out of this declara

OMAHA, Aug. 15 .- To the Editor of The Bee: In answer to the objection that the proposed gas contract would deprive the city of the power to fix prices it is said that the method of fixing prices by contract is not exclusive, and the mayor and council would have the power to fix prices without contract, if the contract nethod failed; because the mayor and council cannot abrogate or nullify the power given the city by section 134 of

This answer does not meet the situation. What is now proposed is that the electors of the city shall decide on August 19 what the manner of proceeding shall be for twenty-five years. The electors have authority to let the power given by the charter lie dermant for a period of years; and the mayor and council would be bound by the command of the electors. This, in all probability, is one of the chief reasons for the election.

In the latter part of section 9 of the proposed grant, contract or franchise it is

"Under this ordinance the city of Omaha reserves all rights, authority and powers which now exist favor of said city under its charter to endemn, appropriate and purchase," etc. But nowhere is there such a reser vation of the power to fix prices. It could have been put in easily. It is fair and proper to presume that it was omitted in tentionally, and that the gas company would not have agreed to it, unless put under a stronger pressure that it has yet experienced. Wrong mental attitudes, wrong ideals, wrong views of life, improper foods and drinks, and bad combinations of foods and drinks are polsoning the blood streams and wrecking the lives of more than 1,000 people in Omaha every year, some of whom become insane and the remainder pass to their rest in the grave. This is a sad thing to contemplate It should not be. It is unnecessary, and could be easily averted, and will be when the people know, respect and obey the saws of their being. But how can they when by their inheritance and environment they have for centuries been physical and mental thralls, dominated by the authority of their masters, whose slaves they are? Hence the great mass of the people today have no initiative, no originality of thought, but are mere subjective individualities who do not dare to think for themselves, being dominated by tradition and fable, and who have never had a chance to develop their powers and capacities.
