JULY CIRCULATION:
50,142
State of Nebraska, County of Douglas, ss.
Dwight Williams, circulation manager of The Bee Publishing Company, being duly sworn, says that the average daily circulation for the month of July, 1913, was 50,142.

Subscribers leaving the city temporarily should have The Bee mailed to them. Address will be changed as often as requested.

Vote today or forever hold your peace.
All is quiet along the Pappio again, for the battle of blues and reds is over.

Civic Duty.
If Omaha has upwards of 130,000 population, it has not less than 25,000 inhabitants qualified to vote, yet only some 16,000 are duly registered.

A special election, however, seldom draws out anywhere near a complete vote, so that if the total number of ballots cast at the election today equals three-fourths of the number registered, it will be a big turnout.

Killing of the Dandelions.
In the spring, when rains were plentiful and grass luxuriant, the dandelion thrived, so much, in fact, after several seasons of annoying vigor, as to provoke a public-spirited mayor to proclaim a day for a concerted attack on the little yellow-headed pest.

Twenty Years Ago—
The state tennis tournament wound up with C. B. Cullingham still champion of Nebraska.

Thaw's Escape.
After seven years of ceaseless vigil the Thaw millions seem to have won at last. The plot culminating in the flight from Matteawan was never conceived nor executed without money.

High Cost of Fire Losses.
According to reliable statistics the annual fire losses in the United States amount in round numbers to $250,000,000, without counting the loss of life and limb and the extra high insurance rates due to the extra hazard.

Men and Women.
Mrs. Thomas Jefferson Scott of Ocean Grove, N. J., has rendered fifty years of service in the missionary work in India. She founded the women's missionary training school at Bareilly, India.

Muffled Knocks.
Every baby resembles the relative who has the most money.
We always praise a dead man because we know a knock couldn't hurt him.

Signs of Progress.
Ceylon yearly exports tea valued at over $25,000,000.
In a year Turkey produces approximately 100,000 bales of wool of 150 pounds each.

Outside America.
In 1912 the amount of caviar obtained by the Caspian and Volga markets was not more than 1,000,000 pounds.
London has 17,000 policemen and more than 10,000 soldiers to maintain law and order in a city of about 4,600,000 population.

Slow Down.
St. Louis Times: Chicago makes the announcement that because of the alarming total of twenty-one persons killed by automobiles of that city during the last month—fifteen of them children—a plan of instruction for pupils in the public schools on how to avoid street accidents has been launched.

Editorial Snapshots.
Baltimore American: Next time let New York elect a republican.
Washington Post: Whatever it turns out, New York seems destined to get the worst of the deal.

Looking Backward This Day in Omaha
AUGUST 19, 1913
The principal event of this Sabbath was the ordination of Rev. Thomas Hall, the youthful pastor of the Southwest Presbyterian church, which was literally packed.

The Bees Letter Box.
A Challenge to All Corners.
SOUTH OMAHA, Aug. 17.—To the Editor of The Bee: As a reader of your paper, and being much interested in the religious quarrel that has been going on for some time, and after an unsuccessful attempt to get in the squabble, I hereby take this means of announcing myself ready at any time to defend the name of God and the cause of Christianity, and I do hereby challenge to debate in person Mr. Wooster and all his followers as to the being of Christ. Yours for Christianity.

Odd Bits of Interest.
Bats are cultivated in Texas as a means of destroying mosquitoes.
Five times as many earthquake shocks are recorded on the Pacific coast of the United States as on the Atlantic.

The Quiet Life.
J. A. Walston, in Judge.
Abraham Jones, removed from strife, just reverts in the quiet life.
He is content with simple fare.
And company is carter and maid.
He never will speak to a maid.
And of all women is in rade.
And some time later will arise.
Along with chickens and a hen.
A short or two within his pen.
Alone with chickens and a hen.
He cares not who the land may rule.
He knows not of things that amuse.
And never once has read the news.
The world's metropol's might sink—
Of sleep he'd never lose a wink.
Volcanoes spouting liquid fire,
Earthquakes with consequences dire,
Elections wars and mighty battles.
For these he does not care two rags.
He owns two acres and a shack.
And with his work is always slack.
He'll putter round when weather lets.
And when it rains he "sets a net."
His grub would wreck a bill of fare.
And some would list it as hardware.
The rules of health to him are Greek.
But doctors he needs never seek.
Such life the hygienist mocks.
But there you have the paradox!

Cuts that print
There is often all the difference in the world between a cut that shows up well in the engraver's proof and one that shows up well when it is printed. Cuts made for a newspaper have to be made so that they will give good results under the most adverse conditions. For that reason, a newspaper engraving plant produces cuts that the ordinary printer can use and get good results.

If you have some engraving to be done, send us the work and compare both the results and the prices with that of ordinary engraving plants.
