GRAIN AND PRODUCE MARKET

Market Tendency is to Reduce Outlook of Corn Yield.

Bulls Have Full Sway in the Pit and Create a Buying Interest Which Sends the Futures Up to a New Level.

OMAHA, Sept. 5, 1913.

Many messages were received in grain circles yesterday, indicating further damage to corn by dry, hot weather. These is a tendency to reduce rather than to enlarge the estimate on the final corn yield. It is the general opinion now that corn is a big buil proposition. New high levels were made yesterday on all copmonths for this grain. The market was influenced by a builish feeling, which was engendered by so-called expert advices from all parts of the belt, which indicated further crop losses and a great influenced by a builish feeling, which was engendered by so-called expert advices from all parts of the belt, which indicated further crop losses and a great reduction in the final yield. This information was supplemented by reports of every conceivable kind, all of which caused a buying stampede, which forced prices to the top netch of the day. Strong interests were instrumental in bringing about a dip in prices during the morning, but this operation was only an incentive to bring in new buying orders and precipitate the advance. The wire houses joined with a group of big individual pit traders and the operations of this octaric covered unlimited quantities of corn. Some of the werst reports which reached the trade regarding the damage conditions of the crop came from South Dakota, lows and Nebraska points, and late reports are to the effect that there was no lot-up to the scorching heat and that the damage seems to be growing daily. Apart from the snormell Unleaged buying, the cutside purchasing was pronounced, as shown by the strongin in the May option.

Lish corn was lea inwer to be higher, Whoat was separate during the sarry part of his sension, fluotuating within a fame of ing and finally showed a loss of ing armound. The beat buying began around the bettern prices of the day and heps was no cossation is such frammar, and there was a decidently better demand with sairs reported in the neighburshood of Eugono bushels.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS

Peatures of the Trading and Closing Prices on Board of Trade.
CHICAGO, Sept. 5.—Disappointing cables today caused wheat buils to loss courage. Peeling was nervous at the finish, with prices down 160% to to not come to to help to decline. The outcome for provisions varied from 16c to 18c loss.
Holders of wheat showed a disposition to take profits and go a little slow. Foreign advices, especially from Liverpool, were non nearly so strong as expected in view of the sharp upturn yencrday on this side. Russian offers were more liberal and there was increased selling pressure from Canada. Minneupolis and Duluth sent word of generous arrivals, and it was evident that the weather in all directions favored the marketing of the new crop.

Apparent absence of export call acted as a drag on the wheat market. After the close, however, Baltimore announced thirty loads taken for ocean shipment, which, if know nearlier? doubtless would have affected the course of prices here.
Corn futures weake ed with wheat. The trade turned its back on buillish views and determined it was a profit-taking day. Reports of huge shipments from Argentina received considerable attention, particularly a dispatch telling of 28,000 bu. forwarded to New York.
Oats simply followed wheat and corn. Commission houses, though, bought on the dip a d a speculative leader gave December support at the decline.

Provisions scored a fairly good advance on hogs, but the larger packers were active sellers on the buige and caused an irregular reaction. Investment call for deferred months was not up to the recent total.

Tide Turns and Prices Gain Generally After Recent Decline.

NO GREAT AMOUNT OF BUYING

Factor in Bringing About Rise An-Nonncement More than 90 Per Cent of U. P.'s S. P. Hold-Ings Subscribed.

NEW YORK, Sept. E.—The tide turned in the stock market today and prices alnot generally after a steady decline in the earlier days of the week. It required no great amount of buying to wring about the upture. The rise was regarded merely as a natural rebound from the previous decline. The uncertain outlook for the money market and unfavorable crop reports were sufficient to restrain any bull-ish enthusiasm.

ports were sufficient to restrain any bullish enthusiasm.

A potent factor in bringing about the rise was the announcement that more than 39 per cent of Union Pacific's holdings of Bouthern Pacific had been subscribed for, instead of about 80 per cent, as was at first estimated by the underwriters. The Harriman shares rose sharply in the announcement.

Gains of many important stocks ran from 1 to 2 points, although they were scaled down fractionally by profit taking during the afternoon. Copper shares were favored by the advance in the metal to 16½ cents.

Movements of currency in the last day or two were less against the banks than earlier in the week and forecasts of the bank statement indicated a smaller cash loss than expected. A loss of $1,50,000 was suggested by available figures. Call money did not go above 3 per cent today, compared with yesterday's 4½.

Bonds were firm with a marked variety in the demand. Total sales, par value, $1,904,000.

United States bonds were unchanged on cail.

this kind have been decidedly limited.

Less than a dosen loads of cows and heirers were included in the offerings and the quality was not at all attractive. Trade opened out slow, with buyers bidding fully a dime lower than yesterday, and as there was little outside support to the trade the bulk of the business was done at this decline. On the ordinary run of oows and helfers closing prices this week are fully a quarter lower than last. Veal calves have been in active demand and strong all week, and there has ben a very good outlet and a practically steady market right along for bulls, stags, etc.

In stockers and feeders the market was about as slow today as it ever gets. Sup-buils, stags, etc.

In stockers and feeders the market was about as alow today as it ever gots. Supplies have been accumulating in the yards all week and yard traders were more anxious to dispose of what they had on hand than to further increase their holdings. The trend of values since Monday has been steadily downward on practically all grades and closing quotations for both heavy and light kinds are all of 25025c lower than Monday. There has been a fair inquiry for stock and feeding cows and helfers, but prices are unevenly lower as compared with a week ago, and the volume of business on this class of stock has been comparatively limited.

After trying for over an hour to hold the market down, packer buyers finally raised their hands, and when actual trade was commenced prices looked to be all of the higher than yesterday's average. The bulk of the sales was made on this basis, and the market closed slow, with prices a shade to in some places, 5c lower than the early trade.

Insurance Company Avoids Obligation With a Clever Ruse

That the state insurance board permitted the Royal Indemnity company, recently, to withdraw several thousand an accident insurance firm which failed dollars worth of securities from its custody because the Royal company secured a contract of reinsurance from a bonding company, which, when it came under close scrutiny was found to give no protection to policyholders, is a circumstance, which, attorneys assert, is revealed in a sult pending in county court. John E. Garman, a policyholder in the defunct company, is suing the Lyon Bonding company from which the contract of reinsurance was secured for $100 alleged due as the result of an accident sustained by him. When the contract of reinsurance, which, it is asserted, was approved by the insurance board prior to its allowing the Royal company to withdraw its securities deposited in ac-cordance with Nebraska's new insurance law, was brought into court it was found to contain a clause which in effect anid this:

"The Lyon Bonding company shall be lable for any claims which the Royal indemnity company may become liable for and pay."

It was contended by attorneys for the bonding company that the Lyon company was not liable for any claim of a policy holder which the Royal company had not paid and though Judge Crawford has taken the case under advisement attorneys say there is no doubt but this interpretation of the contract will be upheld by the courts.

September a Bad Month, According to Brother Hicks

With the government's sky-pilots vainly sweeping the heavens for a fleck on their cloudiess canopy to indicate rain and cooler, Brother Irl Hicks, or his almanac, sees all kinds of things beside the ceaseless torment of torrid weather. For instance, according to Hicks, the weather not only is to be much cooler, but earthquakes, tornadoes, frosts and seismic disturbances are on the way, in fact, should have been here before this to make good on the prognostication. This state of affairs was to burst in upon us with the first day of September and, so far as reported, is a long way off. Sometimes the lunar prophets seem to "put one over on" the government's air current boys, who never deal in long distance shots. But this time, up to date, the official tube testers have all the better of it. They have played the game safe, staid close to shore and for the most part simply passed out the daily tip or "fair and warmer." (A weather man never heard of the word "hot" or "hotter.") And the country continues to sizzle, hoping that one of two things may soon happen, either the weather man will miss his guess or get a line on new combination.
