BEATRICE WILL HAVE WATER BOND ELECTION

BEATRICE, Neb., Sept. 10.—(Special.)—The citizens of Beatrice at a mass meeting Tuesday evening declared in favor of a special election to vote bonds in the sum of $50,000 for the purpose of purchasing the Zimmerman springs wells northwest of the city and piping the water to Beatrice. A levy of $12,000 for water extension was made some time ago, making the total amount to be expended approximately $62,000.

The city commissioners at the meeting last evening were authorized to call a special election at once, and as Beatrice has long been without an adequate supply of good water it is very likely that the bonds will carry. The meeting last evening was presided over by President Pease of the Beatrice Commercial club, and many citizens spoke in favor of the movement to secure water for the city.

Cash, Jewelry and Clothing Taken from Grand Island Store

GRAND ISLAND, Neb., Sept. 10.—(Special Telegram.)—The general store of P. Martin & Co. was robbed during the night and $600 in cash taken and an unknown amount of clothing and jewelry, including gold watches. The entire loot may run to $1,000. Entrance was gained through a basement window by one of the presumably three burglars, who then went through the basement and opened the alley door. It is believed the men must have had an automobile to carry away such an amount of goods, though no trace of such a vehicle can be found. The police discovered the robbery at 4:30 o'clock this morning, but have no clue.

It is stated that the safe had not been locked. The robbers separated the cash from the checks before leaving the store, leaving the paper behind.

Outside Printers Get Slice of State Printing Contracts

LINCOLN, Sept. 10.—(Special.)—A committee representing the Lincoln printers called on Governor Morehead yesterday and asked him to use his influence to keep the printing from going outside the state. In letting the contracts for printing the supreme court reports which has been done for years by a local firm, a firm in Missouri made a bid something like $800 less than Nebraska bidders. An investigation was made to the ability of the Missouri firm to do the work and it was found that the firm does the same kind of work for several other states, so that the secretary of printing board was satisfied that the work would be all right, and the contract went to Missouri.

Today the board opened bids for the printing of the statutes and was much relieved to find that the Missouri firm had made no bid and therefore the bids of local printers would not apply in this case. The Nebraska State Journal was the lowest bidder on the statutes with a bid of $512 per page for 5,500 copies. The printing of the statutes is in the hands of the code revision committee consisting of Messrs King, Post and Brady and Secretary Ludl of the printing board who have insufficient funds to have the work done. Under the Journal bid it will cost $512.20 to have the statutes printed, while the legislature figured the work could be done for $10,000 and the appropriation was made on that basis.

FRIEND OF PAUL THOMPSON DISAPPEARS FROM LINCOLN

LINCOLN, Sept. 10.—(Special.)—A young man named Pierce, who lived here, rooming with a Paul H. Thompson, the deputy fire commissioner who disappeared in Kansas City in a sensational manner two weeks ago, has disappeared from Lincoln, his wife not knowing his whereabouts. Pierce told the Schmoeller & Mueller piano firm, for whom he worked in Lincoln, that he was going to Denver but to others he said he was going to Kansas City to look for the body of Thompson. Mrs. Pierce returned to Lincoln yesterday. She was formerly Miss Doris Sharp and they were recently married at Dunning, Neb. It is the opinion of many that Pierce has been in communication with Thompson since his disappearance and that they are together somewhere at the present time.

Governor Issues Warning to Tillers to Get Good Seed

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, Sept. 10.—(Special.)—Governor Morehead has taken up the proposition of seed corn for next year and urges the farmer to be most careful in the selection of seed for next year. He goes into the matter quite fully and has issued the following proclamation on the subject:

The experiences of successful farmers and the results of tests made by experiment stations show conclusively that proper selection and care of native grown seed corn always results in seed of strong germinating and high fielding power. It is especially important that we should use care this year because section of our state have been visited by a severe drought which will leave some farmers without seed. In most of these sections, however, there are those who are sufficiently good for many of their neighbors. If they fail to do so these neighbors will be required to send away for seed. A test made at the Nebraska experiment station shows that seed from other states has averaged 42 bushels less per acre than native grown seed.

Stalks of corn which have withstood the severe conditions of the season and still produce ears show great vitality. Seed from such stalks should be the very best. Nature has helped this year in eliminating the weak plants, and we should use every effort to save our seed from the winners in the battle of the survival of the fittest.

If it is impossible to secure seed in the immediate neighborhood, the farmer should go no further from home than is absolutely necessary. It is always better to secure seed from the north than from the south. For these reasons it is urged that the farmers in the more favored sections of our state carefully save a large amount of seed.

Where it is impossible to secure good seed of this year's crop, it may be possible to locate some of last year's corn. If the germinating power of old corn is good, it will ordinarily give better results than seed brought from a distance. If these precautions are observed, it will not be necessary for any Nebraska farmer to go far from home for seed, and thus the yield of corn for next year will not be decreased because of imported seed, but will be increased because of careful selection.

Our experiment station at Lincoln will be glad to send bulletins on "Selection and Care of Seed Corn" to all inquiries. With these things in mind, I urge the early and careful selection of seed corn and designate the week beginning September 22, 1913, as "seed corn week." Its general observance will insure a sufficient amount of native grown seed for our needs.

PRODUCTION OF CEREALS LARGER THAN IN 1911

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—The Department of Agriculture today estimated the total production of all cereals this year would be 11,644,000 tons, or 20.1 per cent less than last year, 14 per cent more than 1911, and 6.9 per cent less than 1910. It estimates the number of head of stock in the country September 1 about the same as a year ago and their condition as 91.8 per cent of the ten-year average.

Norfolk Hospital Crowded. NORFOLK, Neb., Sept. 10.—(Special.)—Although $50,000 was appropriated by the last legislature to erect a new building at the Norfolk insane hospital, one man patient is sleeping on the floor at the institution and two other insane men are being kept in north Nebraska jails because there isn't room in the hospital. The state board has made no move to let a contract for the new building that is so badly needed. North Nebraska people are perplexed to understand the delay.
