Witness Says Economies Introduced by Increased Blanks Which Are Paid by Trainmen in Disability Does. NEW HAVEN, Conn., Sept. 12.—An official committee of locomotive engineers told the management of the New Haven railroad today what they considered the trouble with the road. "Too much pressure for speed," they complained. The committee's statement in part is: "Why does not the New Haven go back to the conditions prior to the fall of 1911, without attempting these proposed radical changes in relation to its engineering? Under the same rules of operation the New Haven from 1901 to 1911 was as safe as any in the country. The present 'seniority rule' was made in 1901. The personnel of the engineers is virtually the same today as prior to 1911.

Garretson Before Arbitrators.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—A. B. Garretson, representing the Order of Railroad Conductors, testified that a railroad employe is killed in the United States every hour and seven minutes of the day, and that every nine minutes a man is maimed. Mr. Garretson was a witness before the arbitration commission in the controversy between forty-two eastern railroads, their conductors and trainmen over the employe demands for more pay and shorter hours.

CIVIC HONORS PAID GAYNOR

Body Will Lie in State in City Hall at Liverpool.

STARTS FOR HOME SATURDAY

It Will Reach New York in One Week and Official Funeral Probably Will Be Held September 22.

LIVERPOOL, Sept. 12.—Arrangements were made today by the Liverpool authorities to render full civic honors to the body of the late mayor of New York, William J. Gaynor, on the arrival of the steamer Baltic here this afternoon. It was ordered that the body should lie in state in the town hall, guarded by a detachment of police, until the time arrived to take the casket on board the Lusitania for shipment back to the United States. The lord mayor of Liverpool took charge of the arrangements. "In compliance to New York, with which Liverpool has such close feelings, and as a mark of sympathy with the American people," he announced, "I have arranged with the steamship officials to have the body transferred immediately to the town hall from the ship."

Body Reaches Queens town.

QUEENSTOWN, Sept. 12.—Steamship Baltic, on board of which was the body of Mayor Gaynor, who died suddenly at sea on Wednesday, arrived at Queens town at 4.30 o'clock this morning. It was learned that the mayor had not died with his fellow passengers during the voyage, and this was recalled as an indication of a more serious disposition than he admitted when he embarked at New York a week ago for a fortnight of the sea. He had had all of his meals served in his state room, but he had often gone above for the invigorating ocean breeze, and those close to him thought his health was improving daily. To them his death was wholly unexpected.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—George McAnany, president of the borough of Manhattan and fusion candidate for president of the board of aldermen, was designated today by the Gaynor campaign managers as their candidate for mayor, to take the place made vacant by Mayor Gaynor's death. "I sincerely appreciate the honor," he said in a formal statement, "under no circumstances could I accept a mayoralty in opposition to Mr. Mitchell, the fusion candidate."

Sensational Charges Against Conditions in Chicago Prisons

CHICAGO, Sept. 12.—Sensational disclosures of conditions in Chicago jails which have been attacked recently by civic bodies and individuals, came from state sources today when the state charge commission made public a report of an inquiry conducted by its investigators, who visited all the penal institutions in the state. The cells in Chicago's jails are described as "dungeons" and "unfit for the housing of animals." Detailed comment is made on their "unspeakably insanitary" condition and on the "filthy, vermin and lack of decent facilities in the most ordinary kind."

THAW FIGHT NOW UP TO GOVERNOR FELKER OF NEW HAMPSHIRE

Next Legal Battle in Case of Mattawan Fugitive Will Probably Be in Concord.

ARRAIGNMENT IS DEFERRED

Extradition Warrant on Way to Granite State Capital.

TEN MEN GUARD PRISONER

Talks of Plots and Counter Plots to Kidnap Him Heard.

ANOTHER DEPORTATION SUIT

If White's Slayer is Brought Back to New York Action Will Be Taken to Remove Him to Pennsylvania.

COLEBROOK, N. H., Sept. 12.—The next legal battle in the case of Harry K. Thaw will probably be at Concord, N. H., before Governor Felker, Thaw's lawyers, learning today that an extradition warrant from Acting Governor Glynn of New York was on the way to the New Hampshire capital, decided to defer arraignment Thaw in police court here and to demand a hearing of the governor before he acts on the matter of extradition. They sent a representative to Concord to confer with Governor Felker and reinforced their appeal by telegraph.

Thaw in the meantime is here in the custody of Sheriff Draw. He was to have been arraigned at 10 o'clock this morning, but his counsel, after trying vainly to persuade William Travers Jerome not to seize Thaw instantly should the warrant from New York be honored at once, deferred bringing him back into court on the ground that a preliminary hearing would bring no good results. In fact, it might mean his liberation with incident possibilities of his seizure.

Shortly after noon it was announced that by mutual consent of counsel the hearing should be put over until tomorrow morning.

Ten Men Guard Thaw.

Thaw was guarded carefully by ten of the twenty special policemen sworn in by Chief Kelly, when the time came for his arraignment today before Police Judge James T. Carr on a complaint setting forth that he was wanted in the state of New York on a charge of conspiracy to defraud justice by escaping from the Mattawan asylum.

The scene of the hearing was a lawyer's office; the time, as set yesterday, was 10 a. m.

State steps well during the second year of his detention in the Mattawan house.

Four armed guards sat just outside his door throughout the night; others paced about the corridors and around the building. Talks of plots and counter plots to kidnap him still were heard today and every time an automobile whizzed by the street with muffler open, the guards tightened their grip on their automatic pistols. The pro-Thaw Canadian contingent, which followed him over the border after his sudden deportation, was somewhat depleted today, although more than a dozen were waiting the outcome of the procedure.

While relatives and friends were making great interest they have taken no open stand either for or against the fugitive. Thaw issued a formal statement this morning, summing up his case and lamenting the fact that New York state was spending so much money on him.

Statement by Thaw.

"I think the people of my own state would like to know by what warrant of law I am held here in the custody of the people of the state of New York. I am being quandered like water by many more thousands of dollars than are available to me in these persistent and unscrupulous efforts to return me to Mattawan. If I am sane, then certainly I don't belong to Mattawan; if I were insane, then the laws of New York state itself, make it compulsory that I be deported from New York to my home state, Pennsylvania."

"The statutes of New York require that insane persons from another state who are sent to Mattawan, or to any other New York public asylum not charged with crime, and I as an acquitted man stand exactly in this class, shall be reported to the state board of deportation and promptly sent out of the state back to the state of their residence."

"The New York law is so anxious to get rid of alleged insane persons from another state that it provides that doctors and nurses, if needed, be supplied to get rid of them."

"The United States courts have advised me that I am not insane."

Do You Slight Your Newspaper?

There's a great deal of difference in the way people read their newspapers.

How do you read yours? Do you just glance through it, do you thoroughly absorb with interest and attention the news you read?

If you do read with industry and attention you no doubt find that not the least interesting and instructive news of the day is found in the advertising columns of The Bee. So it is in other newspapers of like aims and character.

Ad-reading in a good newspaper is so much a part of our daily lives nowadays, that one can hardly be said to be really well informed unless he continuously keeps himself posted on the advertising news of the day.
