Warden of Fort Madison Prison Believes Convict Was Badly Injured During His Get-away.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) DES MOINES, Ia., Sept. 13.—(Special Telegram.)—The first attack on the state law which requires that there shall be real cream in ice cream failed in a local justice court today. Three of the large makers of ice cream had been arrested by order of the state pure food department for selling ice cream not up to standard and the companies pleaded in defense that the state has no right to make a law fixing a standard for ice cream. The court held the law valid and passed it up to higher courts.

The ice cream makers say they will go to the highest courts and seek to have the law knocked out.

Think Convict Wounded

Warden Sanders of the state prison at Fort Madison reported today of finding the clothing of McCloud, a prisoner who escaped some days ago. The clothing were found at Burlington and from holes in it and blood it is believed the fleeing convict was badly wounded. He stole some better clothes from a farmer near Burlington.

Temperance Men Meet

A conference of temperance workers of Iowa held today was very poorly attended, only a few of the party leaders from out of the city coming. The state committee held a meeting to plan for the campaign next year and a public meeting was held to listen to speakers. It was decided that work on the campaign should begin at once.

President of Baptist College Spanks and Switches Father

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Sept. 13.—Witnesses are being summoned today by the Vigo county grand jury to investigate an attack made by President E. A. Hanley of Franklin college, Indiana, on his father, Calvin Hanley, at the latter's home at Middletown in the southern part of this county last Thursday.

Dr. Hanley is one of the leading educators of Indiana, and a former Baptist minister. At one time he was pastor of the John D. Rockefeller church in Cleveland, O. It is understood the son switched and spanked his father because of alleged bad treatment of his mother and sister-in-law. In resisting his son, the father fell against a window sill and it is reported was seriously injured.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Sept. 13.—E. A. Hanley, president of Franklin college, in a signed statement today, admitted that he had switched and spanked his father on account of the ill treatment of his mother.

"For twenty-five years," said Prof. Hanley, "I have kept my hands off my father, but when I learned that he had called my mother an unspokeable name and wished she were 'in hell,' I could not stand it any longer."

"I don't think I hurt him seriously. I tried not to do so. I did not strike him with my fist, nor did I use a club. I wanted to be severe enough to warn him for all future time, but not violent enough to injure him."

The statement tells of an overpowering love of his mother, bitterly regrets the "horrible deed," professes love for his father, in spite of all, and wonders if his action in whipping his father will destroy his further usefulness.

YEAGER SERVES NOTICE HE WILL APPEAL CASE

DEADWOOD, S. D., Sept. 13.—(Special.) An appeal from the verdict of a jury which convicted William Yeager of manslaughter in the second degree for the killing at Lead on August 19 of J. W. Ross, a gambler, will be taken by Yeager's attorneys. Immediately upon receiving the sentence of four years which Judge Hughes imposed, the maximum for that degree under the law, the attorneys gave notice of appeal and secured a sixty-day stay of sentence. Yeager will be released from custody upon furnishing a $5,000 bond, which his sister, Mrs. Louise McIntyre of Sioux City, is trying to raise for him.

In sentencing Yeager Judge Hughes censured the defendant and declared that he was poorly impressed with Yeager's defense as it had not been explained why two shots were fired at Ross from different angles and the court believed that the jury had dealt most leniently with him. Judge Hughes also asserted that he believed it had been shown conclusively that Yeager had unnecessarily taken Ross' life and that he should suffer accordingly.

The trial occupied over one week and was one of the longest held here in years and attracted more attention. At least half the spectators throughout were women and women played an important part in the tragedy as Yeager claimed that he was saving not only his own life, but that of Mrs. Ross and woman friend, when he fired the fatal shot.

Stomach Trouble; Wholly Restored!

Mrs. Wilson Robison, 744 Nesale St., Toledo, Ohio, writes:

"I feel like a new person. I have no more heavy feelings, no more pain, don't belch up gas, can eat most anything without it hurting me. I want to be working all the time. I have gained twenty-four pounds."

"People that see me now Mrs. Wilson Robison, and saw me two months ago seem astonished. I tell them Peruna did it. I will say it is the only remedy for spring and all other ailments."

No argument is needed for Peruna. Just get a bottle and try it. If you have catarrh of the stomach you have a serious trouble. If you want to find a remedy it would be very easy to make the experiment. Before you have taken Peruna a week you will likely find yourself better, then you will need no testimonials on the part of other people, or arguments to convince you. Until you try Peruna, however, all the testimonials in the world and arguments, however logical, will not move you. Just one trial of Peruna will convince you. Persons who object to liquid medicines can now obtain Peruna Tablets.

THOUSANDS COMING TO GREET THE KING

home in the evening, or later after the night parades.

Features to Be Attractive. That the features are to be better this year than heretofore goes without saying. The parades will be of the highest order and much attention will be paid to making their attractive and entertaining. The first occurs Tuesday afternoon, when at least 100 beautifully decorated automobiles will pass over the streets of the city. This is the floral parade, and simply for the entertainment of the people, thousands of dollars will be spent in decorating the automobiles with flowers.

Wednesday night occurs the electrical parade. And, by the way, here in Omaha the Knights of Ak-Sar-Ben were the first to put an electrical parade upon the streets. It was a winner from the start and since then the Omaha idea has been copied by hundreds of cities. Omaha, however, has not copied, but instead, each year an original idea has been worked out and the floats that will be seen in the parade Wednesday night, October 1, will be more beautiful than those of the past.

The German day parade, Thursday afternoon, October 2, will be civic to a degree and will be one of the interesting features of the week, but no more so than the coronation ball the following night, when a new king and queen, whose identity is a profound secret, will be crowned to rule over the kingdom of Quivers during the next twelve months.

In connection with the Ak-Sar-Ben festivities this year will be held the Douglas County Fair and Live-Stock show, where will be gathered an exhibit fully up to those usually shown at state fairs. Crops have been good in Douglas county this year and as the farmers are taking a deep interest, indications are that the fair will be one of the best, if not the best ever held in the west. The live stock show will be something worth going miles to see, for in the pens will be scores of horses, cattle, hogs and sheep that have been prize winners in the fairs of Nebraska, Iowa, the Dakotas and Missouri.

The fair and live stock show will be held on the carnival grounds, right in the heart of the city, where ample space has been secured for the accommodations of the thousands.

The carnival this year promises to be a most attractive feature in connection with the fall festivities. Secretary Weaver, who has the matter in hand, has eliminated all objectionable features and promises that nothing will be shown that will offend the most refined. He has had a large collection of attractions to select from and consequently has picked only the best-features well worth the money.

Business men of Omaha who have studied the situation are of the opinion that the crowds coming to Omaha during the carnival season will be much greater than in past years. They base their opinion upon the fact that owing to the intense heat the attendance at the state fair was cut down, both in Nebraska and Iowa and that people wanting some place to go and knowing of the reputation of the Omaha fall festivities, will come here.

Taking this view of the question, Omaha merchants have laid in immense stocks of goods, the best to be bought in the markets of the world and during carnival week will have them on sale. This year none need remain away from Omaha for fear of being unable to secure hotel accommodations. In the past when large crowds have been in the city there have been times when rooms were at a premium, but this year no difficulty of this kind will be experienced, for since last year four large hotels, all right in the business center of the city, have been opened, furnishing in the aggregate something like 300 rooms. Then, too, since last fall probably a dozen rooming houses in the downtown district have opened for business, adding 400 or 500 more rooms. Aside from these, hundreds of the citizens upon this occasion will throw open their homes to visitors to the city, thus affording accommodations for all who may desire to come.

BODY OF BIG TIM IS FOUND IN MORGUE

been a representative in the fifty-eighth and fifty-ninth congresses and was then very active.

His death will necessitate a special election in the Thirteenth New York district, which comprises New York county. That will be the fifth special election caused by death since the sixty-third congress began work in March. Timothy Sullivan—Big Tim—was one of the best beloved of the genial Tammany leaders whose power came from popularity in the swarming tenement districts that have voted many a Tammany candidate into office. His stronghold was the Bowery. There every winter he distributed shoes and clothing to thousands of human derelicts.

Child of the Bowery. "Big Tim" was a child of the Bowery. He was born in a Leonard street tenement in 1833 and all his life he resided in the downtown district of New York. He was one of four young children left fatherless. When he was 11 years old he was selling papers on the streets. But he was too ambitious to stay a newsboy. A year later he was working in a newspaper press room. Sullivan was a political power in a small way before he was of age. At 22 he was elected to the state assembly and there he served continuously for eight years.

After the assembly came the state senate, where he served four full two-year terms and part of a fifth. Then he went to congress. "Big Tim" did not find Washington as congenial as Albany and after a few years in private life he was re-elected to the state senate. Against his will, it was said, he ran again for congress last fall.

Fortune of Two Millions. "Big Tim's" wealth was acquired from many sources. Chief among them were saloon and racing and theatrical interests in which his association was eagerly sought. At one time his fortune was estimated at more than $2,000,000; but his pensioners were constantly increasing and during the last few years his ventures were less successful.

Worry was the last ailment his friends could associate with Sullivan's sunny disposition, but it was worry, they agreed today, that finally broke down his keen mind and probably brought him to his death. The death of his cousin, Alderman "Little Tim" Sullivan, was the first blow. The treachery of one of his trusted friends cost him, it was said $100,000. Then came the death of his wife. He first showed signs of breaking down in August, 1911, and although since then there were occasional flashes of his old wit, his health steadily declined.

NEW MINDEN DEPOT OPENED TO THE PUBLIC

MINDEN, Neb., Sept. 13.—(Special.)—Yesterday evening the new depot, costing the Burlington something like $13,000, was dedicated at a reception in the waiting rooms with Byron Clark, general collector; E. Flynn, assistant superintendent; Master Mechanic Hecox, and William Dungan, train dispatcher, in attendance. Governor Morehead made a short talk in the depot on the relations of the people and the railroads at the present and the past. Later a banquet was tendered at which 100 plates were laid. Addresses were made the railroad men and others.

The people of Minden asked the railway commission a year ago to compel the railroad company to construct a new depot. A hearing was had in Minden and before a decision was rendered the Burlington proposed the erection of the present building. The building is better than was expected and the public generally is highly pleased with its architectural and modern design.
