Sues Company to Recover Payments

J. R. McClymond of Malvern, Ia., who in 1898 bought five acres of land in Glenn county, California, for $1,500, payable monthly, from the California Fruit and Produce company, a Nebraska corporation, has brought suit in district court to recover $24, which he alleges he has paid on the purchase price.

According to contract the company was to plant a fig orchard on the land and grow crops between the trees, the receipts of which, after expenses were deducted, were to go to McClymond. He alleges that the company has failed to keep its promise.

CAN YOU GIVE HER AS GOOD A HOME AS THE ONE SHE IS ACCUSTOMED TO?

A hard question—and as old as civilization itself! But the young man said he could. He told the older man that he could have his future home furnished completely at Hartman's and take a year's time to pay the bill. He told him that he could get the highest grade of furniture at Hartman's at the lowest cash store prices in the city, and that Hartman's made a specialty of complete outfits—outfits that saved the buyer money at a time when economy was most necessary. In fact, the young man was sure of his ability to surround his bride with the kind of home her father had given her and—this is the little moral—"Hartman feathered their nest and they lived happily ever after."

Hartman has feathered thousands of "nests." Remember, we are now serving the third generation of brides. Remember, that our prices are the lowest in Omaha and that you do not have to pay all at once. Our mammoth buying enables us to offer first class merchandise at prices that are without equal in Omaha's furniture history. No matter what you need—one piece or a complete outfit for six rooms, see us first! We will save you money.

AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

Jerry Howard's Job Object of Hunt by Several Men.

HE STILL HOLDS THE FORT

Applicants Resist of Having Backing of Corporation Men, But Jerry Declares He Will Continue to Hold His Present Place.

Jerry Howard, deputy state stock inspector at the Union stockyards, has a job which is the great desideratum of a number of ambitious politicians. Howard was appointed by Governor Morehead, after considerable opposition on the part of some of the gang which hated Howard's popularity with the working people and his opposition to the gang methods. Governor Morehead, however, refused to pay any attention to the opponents of Howard and appointed the Douglas county statesman to a small position in the Union stock yards.

Practically since his appointment an opposition to Howard and an attempt to get his job has developed on the part of a few politicians and corporation bosses. The underhand strife has caused Howard much worry of mind. Recently the governor refused to accept the dictates of the local magnates and fixers and Howard was not disturbed in his place. A son of a defeated politician, a former politician and an active politician are candidates for Howard's place if they can get the governor to replace Jerry. Several of the applicants boast that they have the backing of certain corporation nabobs. Friends of the Governor in Omaha who are also friends of Howard's say that Howard will continue to be deputy state stock inspector at the Union stockyards until he gets something better.

Howard knows who the applicants are and who their alleged backers are and his only reason for not making the names public he says, is to spare his friend, the governor, any worry or anxiety about the matter.

To Hit Free Lunches.

to the practice of supplying bread and meat to those drinking red liquor over the bar. Within the last few years several attempts have been made to get the city council to pass an ordinance that would prohibit the distribution of free lunch in any of the saloons of the city. There were saloonmen for and against the practice and the councilmen always refused to get mixed up in the mess.

The question of the distribution of free lunch by saloons it is said resolved itself into a question of keen competition for beer trade. The saloons giving free lunch are said to be acquiring the largest beer trade. Naturally those who lose the trade want to have the free lunches abrogated. It is claimed.

There is to be a meeting of the saloonkeepers of the city next Monday at the Eagle hall at which it is said the question will come up. Later the present council is likely to be called upon to decide whether or not the free lunch distribution shall or shall not be lawful.

Looking for Lawbreakers.

Chief of Police John Briggs believes that South Omaha has lately been made the rendezvous for a number of professional criminals. Recently a number of bold robberies have been pulled off in the city and the chief has ordered the police to look up the whereabouts and activities of certain all characters and former convicts. The last order was given in connection with the robbery of the O. K. hardware store some nights ago.

Costello Loses Money.

Joe Costello, a roamer at the home of Mrs. Katie Kretzer, has complained to the police of the loss of $150 from a trunk in his room at 12 South Twenty-third street. The police have arrested Tony Camp, Frank Spreitzer and Martin Petraek on suspicion of having knowledge of the missing money. All three arrested rooms at the place and are said to have known of the money and its hiding place. The suspects all deny any knowledge of the theft and the police admit that nothing was found on the men so far.

Move on Picture Shows.

Many Applicants for Citizenships Must Hurry Up to Qualify

Thousands of foreign born residents of Douglas county who took out first naturalization papers prior to September 22, 1906, have less than two weeks in which they may become full-fledged citizens of the United States without being compelled to begin all over again. On the 22nd of this month all first papers taken out more than seven years ago will be automatically rendered void by law unless their holders have completed the steps necessary to become citizens.

Large numbers of applicants for second papers are daily crowding the office of the clerk of the district court, but it is said there that a large number probably will fall to qualify.

Attorney Charles Hoover was taken sick suddenly yesterday afternoon near Twenty-fourth and N streets. He was removed to his brother's home in Sarpy county.

Hurriedly and without any formalities the Fire and Police commission decided yesterday to hear the protest filed against a saloon, to be opened at 341 Q street. The license money had been paid in but the board ordered its return. Proximally to a school and church was the assigned reason for accepting the protest.
