Farrell Not Stingr. Frank Farrell is still opening his purse strings at regular intervals, and if he misses any minor isague stars it is not his fault. The New York owner has stopped fooling with the cheap trash, and has invested a small fortune in Maisel, Gilhooley and McHale. If ever a club owner deserves a winner it is Frank Farrell. No manager could ever accuse him of stinginess

here. He was without a doubt the fastest base runner in the loague and then went up to the Louisville club and today is leading the league in base stealing. The biggest surprise of the list and which most Omahans will overlook is the draft of Dusty Rhodes by Connis Mack for his Athletics. "Dusty" was a good pitcher when he first joined the Rourkes, but last year he failed to make good and was released outright. He tried out with the St. Joseph club this season but was released and then caught. on with the Houston club of the Texas league. He showed up fairly well and it was from this club that the Philadelphia Americans secured him by the draft

Among other Western league players who will go up is Barbour of Lincoln who for the last two years has been playing third base, but since the injury to Charley Mullen has been holding down first base. He goes to the White Sox Wood, first baseman, who was secured
