Settle the heating question NOW!

The heating question must soon be faced in every home. It is usually easy to tell on bitter cold days by the faces and bearings of your neighbors which of them live in well heated and ventilated houses. Frosted window panes of the houses they leave disclose another sure tell-tale story—the story of inefficient heating—the serious handicap of the wage-earner in the business competition where so much depends upon starting the day in physical comfort—well warmed and ventilated bedroom, bathroom, breakfast room, and a warm hall in which to say good-bye.

SUPREME COURT IN SESSION

Test of Insurance Code Law Early Upon Docket.

ROSE ARGUES FOR AUDITOR

Nebraska City Mayorality Case Involving Recall of Chief Officer of Town Also Occupies Time of Tribunal.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
LINCOLN, Sept. 15.—(Special.)—The fall session of the state supreme court opened this morning, one of the first cases being a hearing on the application of State Auditor Howard for the return to his department of the insurance department of the state, taken from the auditor's office by a peremptory writ of mandamus issued by the supreme court.

The case is really a test of the constitutionality of the new insurance law, though there are other cases which will come up later which will settle that point.
In his argument before the court, Halleck Rose, appearing as one of the attorneys for the auditor, said that the supreme court had no right to mandamus a part of the executive department of the state government. In a case of this kind, but his main contention was that the auditor had a right to be heard in the matter and that the court could not issue a peremptory order without first giving the party on whom the order was to issue a chance to be heard in the case. He contended that no man could be deprived of his rights as a citizen and one of them was a right to be heard in any action brought against him or in which he was in any way interested.

Nebraska City Case

Another case which occupied some of the time of the court this afternoon was the Nebraska city recall case in which it is sought to recall Mayor Houston. The trouble is caused by amixup among the democrats of that city, Mayor Houston and Mr. Topplin, who desires to succeed him both being of that political faith. The bone of contention is over the legality of the petition asking for the ousting of Mayor Houston and the recall of Mr. Topplin. The petition was presented by the city clerk to the city commission, but they failed to call the election. The petitioners then went to the circuit court for a writ of mandamus to compel the commissioners to call the election and were successful in getting the writ, but Mayor Houston has appealed to the higher court.

Ask for Harris' Return.
Governor Morehead will ask the governor of Kansas for the return to this state of Henry C. Harris, who formerly owned an interest in the Amboy Milling and Elevator company in Webster county. It is set out by the receiver of the company, O. D. Hedges, that Harris appropriated $2,721.80 of the company money to his own use and he desires him brought back to Nebraska to answer to the charge of unlawfully appropriating money of the firm to his own use.

Harris is reported to be in Wichita, Kan., having been seen there recently by those who know him, and if still there will be arrested and returned to the state if the Kansas executive grants the request of Governor Morehead.

Mr. Bassett Recovering.

A letter was received by the auditor's department this morning from S. C. Bassett, who was badly hurt by falling from an apple tree, that he is getting along very well and is able to walk about the house with some assistance. He thinks that by the first of the year he will be able to get down to Lincoln.

Illinois Central Appeals.

The Illinois Central Railway company has appealed to the supreme court of this state from a judgment secured in the Douglas county court by Barney Gillinsky, who secured a verdict allowing him $25, which with interest amounted to $94.50, for damages to a car of bananas shipped to him, and which were damaged on the road. Gillinsky claimed in the trial that the bananas were shipped in an old car, which was in such shape that it had to be held for repairs with the result that the bananas spoiled.

Fat Man Drops Dead Playing Base Ball

TECUMSEH, Neb., Sept. 15.—(Special.)—Charles N. Hickey, a farmer living near Johnson, died suddenly at Johnson, Saturday. Mr. Hickey, a very fleshy man, was playing base ball with a team of "fats." He hit the ball and ran to first base, and expired almost instantly when the base was reached. Heart failure was the cause. Mr. Hickey was aged 54 years and is survived by a widow and several children. The funeral will be held at the Baptist church in Johnson county Tuesday afternoon.

CONDITIONS IN KANSAS REPORTED BY A VISITOR

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
LINCOLN, Sept. 15.—(Special.)—William Oelkers of the state treasurer's office returned last night from a vacation trip spent with his parents in Cloud county, Kansas. Mr. Oelkers says that the conditions down in that section of the state due to the hot weather of the last summer are very bad, especially among those farmers who have no feed left over from last year.

The corn, which before the hot weather began stood up six feet high has withered and lies over on the ground and is hardly worth anything for feed, though a big stockman in that vicinity is buying up the fields and paying all the way from $5 to $8 per acre.

Grand Island Fall Festival Opens

GRAND ISLAND, Neb., Sept. 15.—(Special.)—Grand Island's fall festival week opened yesterday with busy scenes on the grounds, three blocks south of the business center and in the streets. Stands for entertainment and amusement purposes are being constructed everywhere, the carnival company engaged being here in force. Both of the aviators—Captain J. Hector Worden, who did aero-navigation service for the federal army of Mexico last year, and Ralph McMillen, are already on the ground with their machines, though the first of the three days' flying will not be until Wednesday afternoon. The harvest exhibit at the New Liederkranz is being put in place and no previous fall festival committee has been in a better state of preparedness than the committee finds itself in today. Wednesday will be Grand day and Thursday Ord branch day. Friday will be automobile day. There will be parades typical of each day.

RIGHTS BETWEEN COUNTIES COMES UP IN HIGH COURT

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
LINCOLN, Sept. 15.—(Special.)—Senator Walter Hoagland of North Platte came to Lincoln today to represent one of the parties in the controversy between McPherson county and Arthur county over a division recently made setting off the west half of McPherson county into a separate county under the name of Arthur.

In 1891 by a vote of the people now composing Arthur county the latter was made a part of McPherson county for judicial and administrative purposes. When the code commission revised the laws of the state it recommended the setting off of Arthur county as a county by itself. The bill passed the legislature and was signed by the governor. Now a controversy comes up as to the legality of setting off the county, it being claimed that he county is still under the control of McPherson county for judicial purposes.

The case will be tried before the supreme court, which will decide the legality of the change and settle the point in controversy whether Arthur county has judicial rights of its own or is still attached to McPherson county for judicial purposes.

BIG PROFIT IN S. P. STOCK

Union Pacific Clears Twenty Millions in the Purchase.

BOUGHT IN INSTALLMENTS

Directors Secured It in Three Lots at a Low Figure, Then Turned It to Good Account at Dissolution of Roads.

In round numbers, according to the Wall Street Journal, Union Pacific made a total profit of $20,000,000 on its purchase and final sale of the $125,000,000 Southern Pacific stock. The average cost per share to Union Pacific was $75. For $25,000,000 par value of Southern Pacific stock, which cost $25,000,000, Union Pacific received $2,000,000 of Baltimore & Ohio preferred and common stocks, worth in the market approximately $40,000,000. Here is a clear profit of $11,000,000.

On the $25,000,000 Southern Pacific stock sold to the Union Pacific stockholders, the profit per share, less underwriting was about $10, making a total profit on this end of the transaction of $8,000,000.

This together with the amount realized from the exchange of the Baltimore & Ohio securities make a total profit to the Union Pacific of $20,000,000. In other words, Union Pacific at an average price of $75 per share, paid about $41,500,000 for the $125,000,000 par value of Southern Pacific stock and received for it in Baltimore & Ohio stock and cash the equivalent of approximately $115,200,000.

If the Union Pacific should distribute only this to the common shareholders alone, it would mean a special dividend of a little more than 3 per cent. However, there have been no official indications that the Union Pacific directors intended to place the possible extra dividend upon such a basis.

Union Pacific acquired the Southern Pacific stock in three lots. The first block amounting to $10,000,000 was purchased in 1901 at about $5 a share and to raise funds for the acquisition, Union Pacific sold $40,000,000, 4 per cent convertible bonds. The second lot totaling $15,000,000 was bought the following year at $15 a share. A month later the Oregon Short Line sold $10,000,000 bonds.

In 1904, Southern Pacific offered preferred stock to its stockholders principally to raise funds to pay off a floating debt, which was being carried by Union Pacific. Union Pacific as a stockholder subscribed to its share of Southern Pacific and thus finally brought the total of its Southern Pacific holdings up to $125,000,000. The preferred stock, which the Union Pacific subscribed for, was in 1905 converted into common, according to the provisions of the laws.

Most of the money used by Union Pacific to purchase Southern Pacific stock was raised through the issue and sale of bonds. Consequently, the whole of the money received by Union Pacific from the sale of Southern Pacific does not actually represent a "net" profit of $20,000,000. That the estimate profit of $20,000,000 may be so classed there is no question.
